PROVIDED ALWAYS that the directors may, if they think fit, at any time after expiry of the said six years, transfer the net proceeds to the Company's funds to be applied for any lawful purpose including distribution of profits by way of dividend and may make such provision (if any) as they think fit by such means as they choose to recompense any former member, or his personal representatives or trustee in bankruptcy in the case of death or bankruptcy, for such proceeds subsequent to the said transfer of net proceeds to the Company's funds.

15.4 The payment by the directors of any unclaimed dividend or other moneys payable on or in respect of a share into a separate account shall not constitute the Company a trustee in respect thereof and any dividend unclaimed after a period of six years from the date of declaration of such dividend shall be forfeited and shall revert to the Company. Provided that if a claim is subsequently made for any dividend so forfeited the directors may at their discretion pay out of the profits of the Company available for distribution a sum equal to the dividend so forfeited or part thereof to any person who would prior to the expiry of the said period of six years, have been entitled to such dividend or the personal representatives or trustee in bankruptcy of any such person.

Provided that a member to whom a copy of any of the said documents has not been sent shall be entitled
