Chairman's statement

The year must be reviewed against the background of an extremely difficult economic climate for business generally and in particular for retailing.

The first half of our year was affected by the substantial increase in VAT which was imposed in the 1979 Eudget. At the same time, the number of overseas visitors to London, always an important element in our business, showed a decline. These factors, combined with the increase in value of the pound sterling against most currencies, produced an adverse effect on our sales which at £8,330,000 show a reduction of £345,000 from the previous year.

Associated with the difficult trading conditions last year there was once again an increase in the rate of inflation which had a pronounced effect upon the company's costs. Despite stringent efforts to contain these and a very efficient deployment of liquid funds available, pretax profits fell by £223,000 to £578,000. After allowing for tax, the amount available for distribution to shareholders is £272,000 and in the circumstances the Board has decided to recommend an unchanged final dividend. During the period in which the business has had to face up to so many adverse external factors your Board has been endeavouring to lay the foundation for future development. To this end during the year we welcomed Mr. David Jaggs as Managing Director. Mr. Jaggs brings with him a depth of experience based on a successful career in management with two of the top store groups in London.

In building for the future it is necessary to bear in mind the long term interests of shareholders and whereas it might be possible to achieve short term profit gains by more extensive economies these would be at the expense of the unique image and good name of the company. We are endeavouring to continue to develop ranges of superior merchandise which combine taste and good value. The Board is encouraging a buying policy directed towards this end and at the same time providing a unique level of service to the customer.

The Christmas period has traditionally provided a very substantial proportion of our business and the year under review was no exception. An encouraging aspect of our trading was the success of our range of hampers where we set new records. This year we are planning to further develop and extend this very important sector of our trading.

Another very encouraging area has been in our ladies fashion departments where we have improved and enlarged our collection. The result has been substantially improved sales which have continued in the current year.

Our confectionery department has shown continued growth backed by our own chocolate factory on the premises where our famous hand dipped chocolates are still produced. The potential for improving our sales in this area is significant and during the current year we have moved the confectionery department to the ground floor where we expect further growth.

Other departments have been resited to establish a clearly identifiable household area in the basement which will contain a range of china and kitchenware and is in line with our policy of specialising in certain areas throughout the store.

As part of the long term plan for upgrading store facilities, careful consideration has been given to our staff and the amenities available to them, and expenditure has been authorised and committed for a new staff restaurant and other improved facilities during the current year.

In what has been an extremely difficult year our staff have shown tremendous loyalty and dedication to the company and on your behalf I welcome this opportunity of

Report of the directors

The directors submit their seventy-fifth annual report together with the accounts of the company for the year ended 26th January 1980.

Profit and dividends

The profit and loss account on page 8 shows the profit for the year ended 26th January 1980. The balance available to shareholders amounted to £272,000 (1979—£373,000). A final dividend of 19.72% net on the ordinary stock is proposed (1979—19.72%). The final dividend is calculated on the basis of an Advance Corporation Tax rate of 30%.

Principal activities

The company continued its activities as a department store during the year.

Fixed assets

The directors consider the present value of the company's interest in the leasehold property is considerably in excess of the net book amount; they do not consider it worth the expense to have the property formally valued.

Inflation Accounting

There is included on page 15 of these accounts a Current Cost Statement which has been prepared in accordance with the interim recommendation of the Accounting Standards Committee issued in November 1977.

Employees

The average number of employees per week amounted to 471 (1979—463) and the aggregate remuneration for the year amounted to £1,837,425 (1979—£1,557,997).

Charitable donations and political contributions

This statement has been prepared in accordance with the interim recommendation on accounting for inflation issued by the Accounting Standards Committee. The basis on which the adjustments have been made are:

² Cost of sales. The current cost of go ds sold has been determined by correcting the historic cost of sales for the price change between this figure and sale, using CSO Index 30360 which is the appropriate index for department stores. The difference between this figure and the historic cost of the goods is the cost of sales adjustment.

³ Goaring. The gearing adjustment is calculated by applying the increase in the retail price index to the average net more than used and reflect. The change in purchasing power of money during the year.

Auditors' report

To the members of Fortnum & Mason Limited

The accounts and notes on pages 8 to 14 have been prepared under the historical cost convention as modified by the revaluation of leasehold property. In our opinion these accounts give, under the convention stated above, a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs at 26th January 1980 and of its profit and source and application of funds for the year then ended and comply with the Companies Acts 1948 and 1967.
