

Illingworth, Morris &
Company, Limited
Report & Accounts 1924

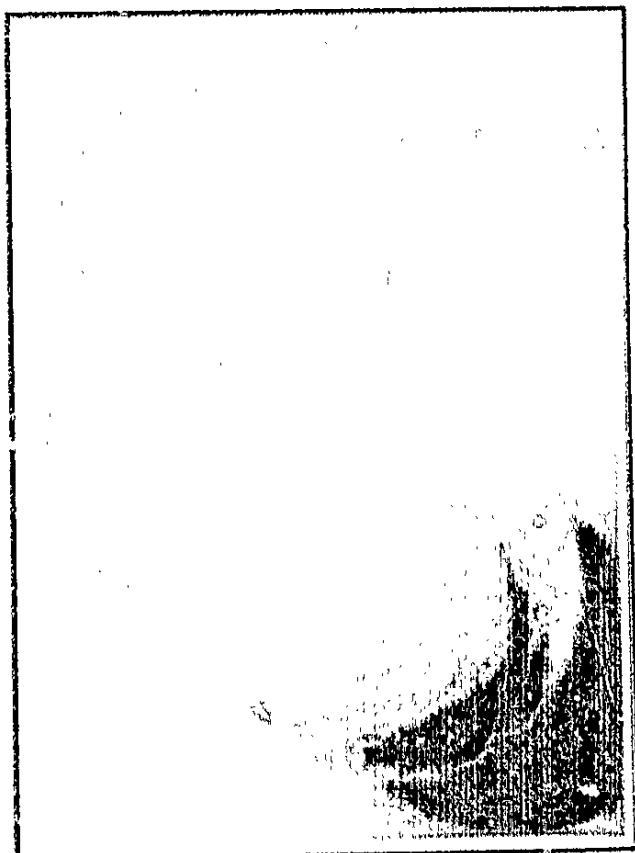

We continue the practice, established last year, of highlighting in the annual report the activities of one member of the IM Group so that readers will be better acquainted with the diversity of its product range. Stockholders may well be unaware of the Group's versatility and the important contribution each of its members makes to the Group and national effort. This year we introduce Winterbottom, Strachan & Playne, Limited of Strood, an old-established and important subsidiary noted for its distinguished range of flannels, sashays and overcoatings.

WSP's reputation is not solely based on clothing material. The company also produces sashay cloths for other than garment use where exacting standards of quality and finish are demanded. Two of these special areas concern major sports: the third is familiar in a military and ceremonial context. Our cover illustrates these end uses.

WSP produces a very special kind of cloth for use as a tennis ball cover. Virtually the entire output is sent to the world famous manufacturer of rackets. All the products are used by top sportsmen all over the world. Thus WSP cloth makes a real contribution to sport - appreciated in over 100 countries throughout the world.

Chairman's Statement

Revaluation of land and buildings

In my statement last year I mentioned that your Board had decided to have our U.K. land and buildings revalued. Owing to the changed conditions since the valuers were first instructed, the final figure for valuation is substantially below what was originally anticipated. Nevertheless there is a considerable surplus to be added to the reserves and I am confident that the valuation will prove to be extremely conservative. The Group owns properties with great potential value including more than 100 acres in the Aberdeen area. It may be important to mention that various planning applications have been submitted and permission has already been received for development in respect of a number of properties.

Dividends

The total dividends recommended in respect of 1973-74 on the Ordinary Capitals of the Company give a gross equivalent to Stockholders of 9.88 per cent as compared with 9.41 per cent for the previous year. The amount of this distribution is limited by Government restrictions. One should note that 9.88 per cent is equivalent to approximately 17½ per cent before the bonus distributions in 1972 and 1973 of 1 for 2 followed by 1 for 8.

Review of the year

Stockholders will probably remember that a year ago I suggested that the 1973-74 results should show some improvement on the previous year's figures. There were many problems to be faced, but even so, at the half-way stage there was every reason to suggest that our final figures would show quite a considerable improvement. Unfortunately the second six months turned out to be a period of unprecedented frustration and difficulties, including a fantastic rise in interest rates. A frustrating item among these difficulties was the imposition of the three-day working week which created conditions beyond our control. Whilst we were able to run a reasonable proportion of our machinery in various sections of the Group on more or less a full time basis owing to having our own generators, the net result was a considerable loss in production with its consequent effect of some delay in our deliveries. In the circumstances I feel that our results indicate proof of resiliency and good management, showing as they do an improvement over the previous very good year, after allowing for more than a million pounds increase in bank interest.

During the year the value of our products exported directly and indirectly amounted to approximately 50 per cent of our U.K. turnover, a proportion which I think must be considered satisfactory. Further, this good slice of export business to some extent offset the curtailed margins which we were allowed to earn by legislation on our home trade orders. All our efforts are being directed to maintain and increase this percentage.

Interest rates

Undoubtedly we have suffered from the astronomical rise in interest rates. Between June and November last year, base interest rates rose to an all time high of 13 per cent. This rate is surely prohibitive. During the current year there is every prospect of our borrowing being substantially reduced, and at this date the total is already well reduced. I cannot underline strongly enough the fact that high interest rates and high capital investment are not compatible. Also it should be noted that a Company like ours (even assuming that we shall increase the 1974-75 dividends by the 12½ per cent now allowed) is limited to a 3.8 per cent gross yield or 2.8 per cent net yield on the Capital Funds of the Equity Stockholders, against a 14 per cent yield on Government securities. This apparent lack of common fairness and logic is alarming.

I think that Stockholders should know that what is technically Bank overdraft is, in my opinion, in the wool textile industry in which we operate, the equivalent of a revolving credit. Bad debts averaged over a period of say 50 years prove that bad debts can be practically ignored in our industry. It is not fully appreciated that there is probably no sounder or safer industry in the world. Practically the whole of the raw material for our products, certainly more than 95 per cent, is usually sold at any one time. Few industries can be in this position. Hence our stocks are equal to realisable cash at all times.

Wool prices

We hope and believe that the Australian Wool Corporation will be successful in their efforts to stabilise wool prices. Prospects augur well for the wool textile industry which undoubtedly has a great future.

Future prospects

I am afraid it is too early to attempt any forecast of the final results for 1974-75. The impact of legislation will be a major consideration. I can say, however, that as far as can be judged the available figures to date show relatively satisfactory results.

Appointments

On the 31st March this year, Mr Ivan Hill, C.B.E., retired from his position as Chief Executive to the Group. Under his able guidance important schemes of re-organisation and streamlining have been carried out which have greatly increased the efficiency and potential profitability of the Group. Mr Hill remains a Deputy Chairman of the Group and is continuing to act as General Consultant. Mr Donald Hanson has been appointed a Deputy Chairman and Managing Director of the Group and it can be said without reserve that the profitability and efficiency of the Group have been greatly enhanced by his experience and exceptional ability. In addition Mr Jackson Sweeting, who has served as Group Secretary and Director for many years has been appointed Co-ordinating Director. Mr Sweeting's ability and value to the Group have been demonstrated on many occasions. These gentlemen have worked together very closely for a number of years and I am satisfied that the Group will be more than happy with these appointments. Also I would like to add that we have many executives of exceptional capacity and I look forward to their advancement in the course of time.

It has been a year when novel circumstances and frustrations of every kind arose almost week by week. Our organisation has shown great resilience and flexibility in dealing with these problems and I cannot pay adequate tribute to the constructive response with which our executives, staff and employees met the difficulties which the Group faced, particularly towards the year end and during the first quarter of 1974. To all I would express my sincere thanks.

Notes on the Accounts

1 Accounting Policies

The following is a summary of the accounting policies adopted for dealing with items considered material or critical in determining profit or loss and stating the financial position:

Consolidation

The consolidated profit and loss account and balance sheet include the accounts of the Holding Company and all Subsidiaries to the end of the financial year except for two overseas Subsidiaries whose accounts have been made up to the previous 31st December in order to avoid undue delay in the presentation of the consolidated accounts. The profits of subsidiaries are consolidated from the date of acquisition. Discounts on acquisition of subsidiaries are credited to Group Retained against which premiums on acquisition are charged.

Fixed Assets

Fixed Assets are stated at cost (less deduction of residual value) to companies forming the Group or at valuation. Depreciation is calculated to write off the cost or valuation of all assets except buildings on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives. In the opinion of the Directors, the market value of interests in land and buildings is properly represented in the Balance Sheet and accordingly no provision for depreciation thereof has been charged in these accounts.

Investments

The Group has not adopted associated company accounting in respect of investments in companies where the holding exceeds 20% of the equity capital (notes 16 and 17) since it does not participate in the management decisions of those companies. Accordingly only dividends received are included in the consolidated profit and loss account.

Quoted Company investments are held by the Group on a long term basis and are stated at cost. The Directors consider that the shortfall of market value compared with the cost of these investments does not represent a permanent impairment of their value and consequently no provision has been made.

Stocks

Stocks are stated at the lower of cost, which includes an appropriate proportion of production overhead expenditure, and net realisable value.

Debtors

Known bad debts are written off and appropriate provision is made for any amounts where collection appears doubtful.

Provision for losses on forward contracts

It is Group practice to provide where fixed contract prices compare adversely with year-end prices.

Deferred Taxation

No provision is made for deferred taxation and the effect of such and the amount deferred are shown on note 3.

Foreign Exchange

Assets, liabilities, profits and losses in foreign currencies are converted into sterling at the rates of exchange ruling at the end of the financial year.

The scarlet uniform cloth worn by HM Brigade of Guards is made by Winterbotham, Strachan & Player, Limited. The very highest standards are demanded and a stringent specification is laid down by the Ministry of Defence. The superb finish of the scarlet depends on the degree of "even" impregnated to the cloth but to say more might betray a closely guarded trade secret.

Another specialist sporting material is billiards cloth. Like the tennis ball cover, cloth for billiard tables must reach exceptionally high standards. Nothing less than perfection -- and the word is not lightly used -- in weave and finish is acceptable and a remarkable degree of quality control is applied during manufacture. Winterbottom, Strachan & Poyntz billiards cloths grace top tables everywhere, providing the perfect surface on which national and international champions can demonstrate their cue skills. Experience, knowhow and technology combine to give WSP a unique place in the limited league of speciality cloth producers.
