United Kingdom Employees

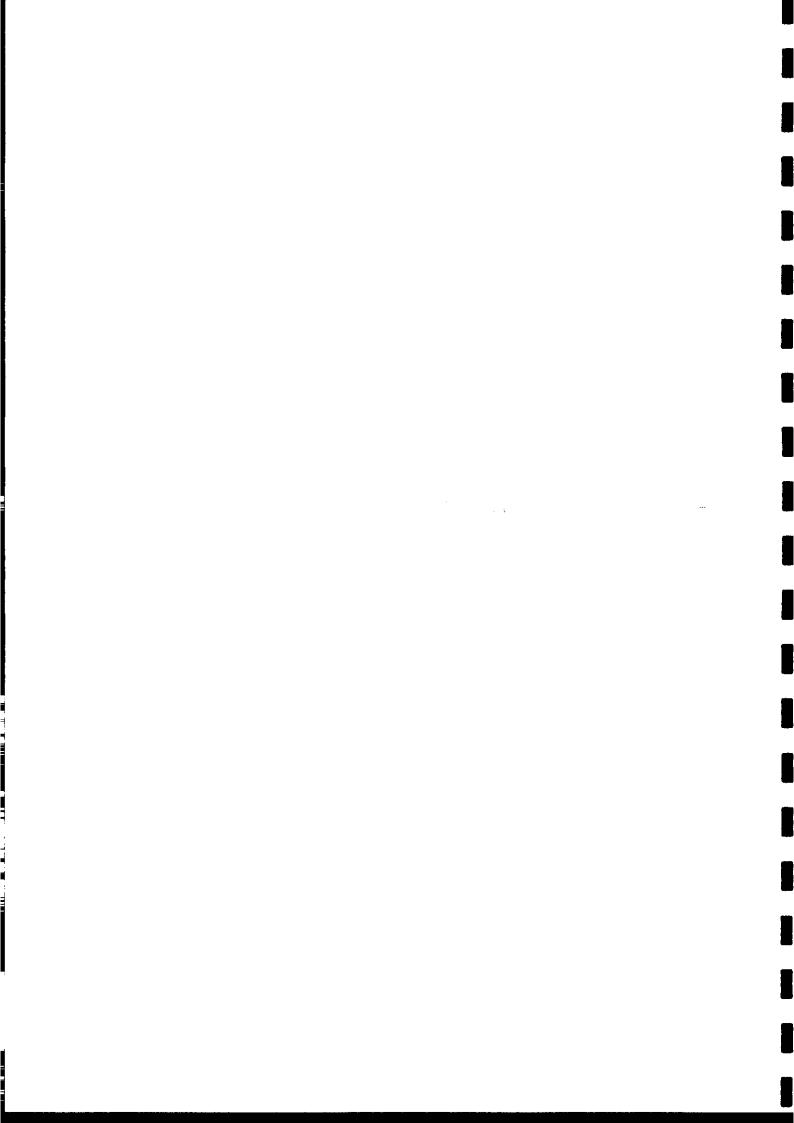

It is the Company's policy to treat its employees without discrimination and to operate equal opportunity and employment practices designed to achieve this end. Furthermore, it is the Company's policy to give full and fair consideration to applications for employment made by disabled persons; to continue, whenever possible, the employment of staff who become disabled; and to provide equal opportunities for the training and career development of disabled employees.

The Company seeks to achieve a common awareness among staff of corporate objectives and performance, financial and economic factors affecting the business and other matters of concern to them as employees. During the year, staff were provided with information through briefings by managers, training courses, staff newspapers and circulars.

In common with all other companies within the Legal & General Group, the Company undertook a review of the risks and uncertainties associated with the potential impact of the change of century on the business. The principal focus of activity during 1999 was on testing, risk mitigation and contingency planning. The Group managed the transition into the Year 2000 with no material disruption to customers, staff or businesses. The Group will continue to keep the situation under review until all elements of the business processes are utilised for the first time during 2000.

The total cost of the Year 2000 compliance incurred by the Company and its subsidiaries between 1996 and 1999 was £941,000, of which £173,000 was incurred during 1999.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS

Creditors

The Company's purchases are administered by another group undertaking, Legal & General Assurance Society Limited (the Society). The Society agrees terms and conditions for its business transactions with suppliers. Payment is made on these terms provided the supplier meets its obligations. The average number of days of payments outstanding at 31 December 1999 was 33 (1998, 35).

Related party transactions

There were no material transactions between directors or key managers and the Legal & General group of companies which are required to be disclosed under Financial Reporting Standard No. 8 Related Party Disclosures. All transactions between the Legal & General group of companies (or Legal & General Group Plc), their directors and key managers are on commercial terms which are no more favourable than those available to staff in general.

Auditors

An elective resolution has been passed by the Company's shareholders whereby the Company is not required to hold an Annual General Meeting and does not need to appoint auditors each year.

By Order of the Board

for the preparation of the financial statements

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the Company and of the profit or loss of the Company for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently,
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent,
- state whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements,
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the Company will continue in business.

The directors confirm that the financial statements comply with the above requirements.

The directors are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the Company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 1985. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Company and hence for taking responsible steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

TO THE MEMBERS OF LEGAL & GENERAL INSURANCE LIMITED

We have audited the financial statements set out on pages 8 to 21 which have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out on pages 12 and 13.

Respective responsibilities of directors and auditors

The directors are responsible for preparing the Annual Report. As described on page 6, this includes responsibility for preparing the financial statements, in accordance with applicable United Kingdom accounting standards. Our responsibilities, as independent auditors, are established in the United Kingdom by statute, the Auditing Practices Board and our profession's ethical guidance.

We report to you our opinion as to whether the financial statements give a true and fair view and are properly prepared in accordance with the United Kingdom Companies Act. We also report to you if, in our opinion, the directors' report is not consistent with the financial statements, if the company has not kept proper accounting records, if we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit, or if information specified by law regarding directors' remuneration and transactions is not disclosed.

We read the other information contained in the Annual Report and consider the implications for our report if we become aware of any apparent misstatements or material inconsistencies with the financial statements.

Basis of opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Auditing Standards issued by the Auditing Practices Board. An audit includes examination, on a test basis, of evidence relevant to the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. It also includes an assessment of the significant estimates and judgements made by the directors in the preparation of the financial statements and of whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the circumstances of the Company, consistently applied and adequately disclosed.

We planned and performed our audit so as to obtain all the information and explanations which we considered necessary in order to provide us with sufficient evidence to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or other irregularity or error. In forming our opinion we also evaluated the overall adequacy of the presentation of information in the financial statements.

Equalisation reserves

Our evaluation of the presentation of information in the financial statements has had regard to the statutory requirement for insurance companies to maintain equalisation reserves. The nature of equalisation reserves, the amounts set aside at 31 December 1999, and the effect of the movement in those reserves during the year on the general business technical result and profit before tax, are disclosed in notes 1(b) and 16.

Opinion

In our opinion the financial statements give a true and fair view of the state of the Company's affairs as at 31 December 1999 and of its profit for the year then ended and have been properly prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 1985.

1. Accounting policies

a) Basis of preparation

The financial statements conform with applicable accounting standards, have been prepared under the historical cost convention, modified by the revaluation of certain assets as required by the Companies Act 1985 and have been prepared in compliance with section 255 of, and Schedule 9A to, the Companies Act 1985, and conform with the Association of British Insurers' (ABI) Statement of Recommended Practice on Accounting for Insurance Business (SORP) published in December 1998.

The provisions of Financial Reporting Standard 16 (FRS16) 'Current Tax' have been adopted in these financial statements and, as a consequence, UK dividend income is now reported as the amount receivable without any addition for associated tax credits. Prior year figures have been restated accordingly.

b) General insurance

Results of general insurance business are determined after taking account of unearned premiums, outstanding claims and unexpired risks using the annual basis of accounting.

Equalisation provisions have been established in accordance with the Insurance Companies (Reserves) Act 1995 to mitigate exceptional high loss ratios for classes of business displaying a high degree of claims volatility. The amounts provided are not liabilities because they are in addition to the provisions required to meet the anticipated ultimate cost of settlement of outstanding claims at the balance sheet date. Notwithstanding this, they are required by Schedule 9A to the Companies Act 1985, to be included within technical provisions.

Premiums are accounted for in the period in which the risk commences. Estimates are included for premiums not notified by the year end and provision is made for subsequent lapses. Outwards reinsurance premiums are accounted for in the same accounting period as the premiums for the related direct or inwards reinsurance business being reinsured.

Those proportions of premiums written in a year which relate to periods of risk extending beyond the end of the year are carried forward as unearned premiums. A proportion of commission and other acquisition expenses relating to unearned premiums is carried forward as deferred acquisition expenses.

Claims and related reinsurance amounts are accounted for in respect of all incidents up to the year end. Provision is made on the basis of available information for the estimated ultimate cost, including claims settlement expenses, of:

- (i) claims reported but not settled;
- (ii) claims incurred but not yet reported;

In addition to unearned premiums and after taking account of investment return, additional amounts are set aside where necessary for unexpired risks to meet future claims on business in force at the end of the year.

c) Investment in subsidiary undertakings

Shares in subsidiary undertakings are stated at the Company's share of their net assets. Gains and losses arising on investment in subsidiary undertakings are taken to the revaluation reserve.

d) Capital expenditure

Expenditure on computers, motor cars and large items of equipment is depreciated over periods ranging up to four years, having regard to expected residual values. All other items of capital expenditure are charged to the profit and loss account as incurred.

1. Accounting policies (continued)

e) Operating leases

Rentals payable under operating leases are charged to the profit and loss account in equal annual amounts over the period of the lease.

f) Investments

(i) General

Investment return, which comprises investment income less related expenses, interest expense and investment gains and losses is included in the non-technical account.

(ii) Investment income

Investment income includes dividends and interest; directly related investment expenses are reported separately within investment expenses and charges. Dividends receivable are accounted for on an ex-dividend basis and interest is included on an accruals basis.

(iii) Interest expense

Interest expense reflects the underlying cost of borrowing and is reported within investment expenses and charges.

(iv) Investment valuations

Listed investments are shown at market value and unlisted investments at directors' valuation.

(v) Investment gains and losses

Realised gains and losses on investments are calculated as the difference between net sales proceeds and original cost.

Unrealised gains and losses on investments are calculated as the difference between the carrying valuation of investments at the balance sheet date and original cost. Movements in unrealised gains and losses on investments arising in the year are included in the profit and loss account.

g) Related party disclosures

The company has taken advantage of the exemption in FRS8 from disclosing related party transactions with other entities included in the consolidated financial statements for Legal & General Group Plc.

h) Deferred tax

Deferred tax is calculated on the liability method and is provided only to the extent that it is considered, with reasonable probability, that the liability will become payable within the foreseeable future.

i) Pension costs

The Company charges the regular cost of its pension schemes against profits on a systematic basis over the service lives of the pensionable employees. Variation from regular cost is allocated over the expected remaining service lives of current scheme members.

Any difference between the cumulative amounts charged against profits and contribution amounts paid is included as a provision, or prepayment, in the balance sheet. Deferred tax in respect of pension costs is accounted for in accordance with the policy described above.

Rights of preference shareholders

Total dividends for 1999 of £146,000 (1998, £207,000), are payable half yearly on 1 June and 1 December and rank in priority to any other class of shares. On winding-up or redemption the preference shareholders are entitled, in priority to any other class of shares, to the capital repayment plus the proportion of dividends due. There are no voting rights attaching to the preference shares other than for a resolution for winding-up the Company or reducing its capital.

15. Pension scheme

The majority of employees of the Company are members of the Legal & General Group's UK defined benefit (final salary) pension schemes, details of the actuarial valuation of which are disclosed in the financial statements of the ultimate holding company. The total cost to the Company for all schemes was £683,000 (1998, £592,000) none of which is attributable to amortisation of past service liabilities. The schemes were subject to a formal review at 31 December 1999 by a qualified actuary, who was an employee of Legal & General Assurance Society Limited, the parent undertaking, using the projected unit method. The assets of the schemes are held through separate trustee administered funds.

The employers' contribution rates over the average remaining service lives of the members of the schemes take account of surpluses disclosed by the valuation.

16. Equalisation provisions

As explained in the accounting policy 1(b) on page 12, an equalisation provision is established in the financial statements. The effect of this provision is to reduce the shareholders' funds by £11,502,000 (1998, £8,454,000). The increase in the provision during the year has had the effect of reducing the balance on the technical account for general business and the profit on ordinary activities before tax by £3,048,000 (1998, £2,657,000).

General insurance provisions, together with related reinsurance amounts, are fairly stated in aggregate on the basis of available information, but the establishment of provisions can never be definitive and reassessments take place regularly.

Equalisation provisions are calculated in accordance with statutory formulae. The increase for household business is 3% of net premiums written and for credit business is 12% of net premiums written. These provisions are in addition to those for the anticipated cost of settlement of policyholders liabilities.

18. The parent company is Legal & General Assurance Society Limited, a company incorporated in Great Britain.

The Company is exempt from the obligation to prepare and deliver group accounts as it is a wholly owned subsidiary of the ultimate holding company, Legal & General Group Plc, a company incorporated in Great Britain and is the ultimate holding undertaking which consolidates the financial statements of the Company. These accounts therefore provide information about the Company as an individual undertaking. Copies of the accounts of the ultimate holding company, Legal & General Group Plc, are available at the Registered Office, Temple Court, 11 Queen Victoria Street, London EC4N 4TP.

In accordance with FRS1(revised) the Company has not prepared a cashflow statement as the ultimate holding company has included a consolidated cashflow statement in its financial statements

19. Directors' information

Directors' remuneration

Emoluments of the directors in respect of their services to the Company are as follows:

1998	1999
158	182

Aggregate emoluments

No fees were paid to the directors, emoluments relate to salaries and performance bonuses. Retirement benefits are accruing to 3 (1998, 3) directors under the defined benefit pension scheme.

Directors' transactions and arrangements
