DIAL CONTRACTS LIMITED REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 DECEMBER 2007

The directors present their annual report and the audited financial statements of the company for the year ended 31 December 2007

PRINCIPAL ACTIVITIES AND REVIEW OF THE BUSINESS

Principal activities

The principal activities of the company continued to be vehicle leasing and fleet management

Dial Contracts Limited operates several brands in niche markets, including Network and Fleet line and these enjoy strong positions in their own specific markets, each offering a comprehensive range of vehicle funding and management services to meet the needs of all fleets, from smaller businesses to multi-nationals

The company is a subsidiary of Inula Holding UK Limited, which is part of LeasePlan Corporation NV, a worldwide organisation employing some 6,000 people with a portfolio of 1 31 million vehicles and a consolidated lease portfolio of EUR 13 9 billion

Business review

Although 2007 has been a year of intense market competition, Dial Contracts Limited achieved good results, generating organic growth and increasing new business volumes. However in line with the industry in general, the intense market competition has resulted in lower prices which has impaired financial growth, with turnover remaining relatively flat at £130 million. Gross profit increased by a nominal £0.3 million to £29 2million. After taking into account administrative cost savings the company's net profit before tax has increased by 14.7% to £10.9 million.

Strategy

The company remains committed to profitable growth and continues its programme of strategic activities to help achieve this objective. Greater emphasis is now placed on providing market leading customer service, creating the difference through distinctive brands and a range of high quality and innovative services to customers. Combined with powerful customer oriented IT solutions such as quotations, e-invoicing and customer e-portals, the company continues to put customers at the heart of its strategy.

Principal risks & uncertainties

From the perspective of the Company, the principal risks and uncertainties are integrated with the principal risks of the Group and are not managed separately. Accordingly, the principal risks and uncertainties of Inula Holding UK Ltd, which include those of the company are discussed on page 2 of the Group's annual report which does not form part of this report.

Key Performance Indicators

The directors of Inula Holding UK Limited manage the group's operations on a divisional basis. For this reason, the Company's directors believe that analysis using key performance indicators for the company is not necessary or appropriate for an understanding of the development, performance or position of the business of Dial Contracts Limited

The company's profit and loss account is shown on page 6

No dividend was paid during the year (2006 £22 50 per £1 ordinary share totalling £5,000,000) The directors do not propose any further dividend payments for the year

ENVIRONMENT

The company has introduced a number of initiatives to achieve the highest possible environmental standards in all of its operations, as detailed in its Environmental Policy

FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The company's operations expose it to a variety of financial risks that include residual value risk, interest rate risk and credit risk

Residual Value Risk

Residual value exposure occurs due to the uncertain nature of the value of an asset at the end of an agreement Throughout the life of an asset its residual value will fluctuate because of the uncertainty of the future market for that asset as well as general economic conditions. Future residual values are constantly monitored so as to identify any impairment required, by reference to the company's past history for residual values and industry projections of the likely future market for each group of assets.

Interest Rate Risk

The company has a specific policy to manage the interest rate risk arising from its leasing business

The company has both interest bearing assets (lease contracts) and interest bearing liabilities (loans). Lease contracts earn a fixed rate of interest over the life of each individual contract, which typically average three years.

It is the company's policy to match lease contracts with medium term loans of the same contract duration in order to minimise interest rate risk. This matching principle is closely monitored through monthly gap reports

The company has implemented policies that require appropriate credit checks on potential customers before finance is granted. The company's risk management and underwriting sections are responsible for continually monitoring the credit risks associated with new and existing business. Market risk, cash flow risk and foreign exchange risk are not considered material to the company.

1 ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) Basis of preparation

The accounts have been prepared on a going concern basis and in accordance with the historical cost accounting conventions, the Companies Act 1985 and applicable accounting standards

The accounts have been prepared in compliance with the Statement of Recommended Accounting Practice issued by the Finance and Leasing Association. A summary of the accounting policies which have been consistently applied are set out below.

Consolidated financial statements

The company has taken advantage of the exemption permitted under S228 of the Companies Act 1985 not to prepare consolidated financial statements, as it is a wholly owned subsidiary of Inula Holding UK Limited, whose accounts are publicly available and where group accounts are prepared

b) Income recognition

Finance lease and lease purchase contracts

Finance income generated by an asset is the difference between the cost of an asset and the lease rentals received. Finance income is credited to the profit and loss account in proportion to the reducing net investment in the asset. Net investment in an asset is shown as a debtor on the balance sheet.

Operating leases

Rentals received are recognised on a straight line basis over the life of the lease

Management and administration fees charged are also credited to the profit and loss account on a straight line basis over the lease term

Fleet services rentals received are recognised as the service is provided, based on the amount invoiced to the customer excluding Value added tax

c) Maintenance income and costs

Maintenance costs are charged directly to the profit and loss account as they become due together with the corresponding income. For closed calculation contracts the net maintenance income is recognised over the life of the contract using a prudent estimate of the expected maintenance results per vehicle. With open calculation contracts, at the end of the lease term, the net balance is settled with the client in line with their contractual arrangement or taken to the profit and loss account. The difference between maintenance income earned to date and maintenance rentals received is held on the balance sheet as deferred income. Immediate provision is made where an overall loss is anticipated on the portfolio Estimation techniques.

In order to calculate the required provision for losses on the portfolio and the maintenance income expected to arise over the life of the closed calculation contracts, estimations are made in respect of the total contract costs and the net maintenance surplus by vehicle based upon the most recent maintenance experience and projected maintenance prices

d) Tangible fixed assets and depreciation

Assets leased to customers

Operating leases are depreciated using the annuity method down to their anticipated residual value over the period of the lease. The annuity method allocates depreciation to each period such that the total value of interest and depreciation in any period is a constant percentage of income, thus resulting in a consistent profit margin over the period of the lease Residual values.

Future residual values are constantly monitored by the directors and any permanent impairment in the residual value of an asset is immediately charged to the profit and loss

e) Leases as lessee

Operating lease rentals payable are charged to the profit and loss account evenly over the length of the lease

f) Taxation

The charge for taxation is based on the profit for the year and takes into account taxation deferred because of timing differences between the treatment of certain items for taxation and accounting purposes

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date, where transactions or events that result in an obligation to pay more tax in the future or a right to pay less tax in the future have occurred at the balance sheet date

A net deferred tax asset is recognised as recoverable and therefore recognised only when, on the basis of all available evidence, it can be regarded as more likely than not that there will be suitable taxable profits against which to recover carried forward tax losses and from which the future reversal of underlying timing differences can be deducted

Deferred tax is measured at the average tax rates that are expected to apply in the periods in which the timing differences are expected to reverse, based on tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. Deferred tax is measured on an undiscounted basis

g) Stock

The stock is valued at lower of cost or net realisable value

h) Investments

In the company's financial statements, investments in subsidiary undertakings are stated at cost less any provision for impairment. The directors assess the investments for impairment on an annual basis

1) Bad debts

The company has an ongoing policy for monitoring the credit quality of its portfolio and for making provisions for losses inherent in credit exposures

Specific provision is made for bad debts as they arise taking into account possible recoveries from the customer and sale proceeds of the asset. In addition, a general provision is made to cover likely losses on doubtful debts not specifically identified but known, from experience, to exist at the balance sheet date.

j) Commissions

Commissions and similar costs incurred in arranging new contracts are capitalised and charged to the profit and loss account over the estimated average life of the lease contracts

Estimation techniques

The estimated average life of these contracts is based on historical data and the average length of the contracts

k) Initial costs

These are costs directly associated with negotiating and consummating a lease transaction. These are capitalised and amortised on a straight line basis over the term of the lease

The cost is estimated using the average incremental costs that are associated with arranging contracts
