RIAS Plc

Significant accounting policies

RIAS Plc is a company domiciled in England and Wales.

The financial statements were authorised for issue by the directors on 13th July 2006.

(a) Statement of compliance

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and its interpretations issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) as adopted by the European Union (EU). These are the Company's first financial statements under IFRS and IFRS 1 has been applied.

An explanation of how the transition to IFRS has affected the reported financial position and financial performance of the Company is provided in note 1.

The Company presents its balance sheet in order of liquidity in accordance with IAS 1. For each asset and liability line item in the balance sheet that combines amounts expected to be recovered or settled within twelve months, or more than twelve months after the balance sheet date, a classification at the balance sheet date is included within the notes. The disclosure in the notes for these classifications are distinguished as follows:

- Amounts expected to be recovered in less than one year are referred to as current.
- Amounts expected to be recovered in more than one year are referred to as non-current.

(b) Basis of preparation

The financial statements are presented in Thousands of Pounds Sterling. They are prepared on the historical cost basis.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the year in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that year, or in the year of the revision and future years if the revision affects both current and future years.

Judgements made by management in the application of IFRS that have a significant effect on the financial statements, and estimates with a significant risk of material adjustment in the next year, are discussed in note 2.

The accounting policies set out below have been applied consistently to all years presented in these financial statements and in preparing an opening IFRS balance sheet at 1 January 2004 for the purposes of the transition to IFRS.

(c) Recognition and measurement of revenue

Commission and other income is recognised on policies which incept before the end of the accounting period. Commission income on non-instalment policies is recognised when the premium is paid. Commission and instalment service charge income from instalment policies is recognised on the inception of the policy.

Interest income comprises income from bank deposits.

Significant accounting policies

(d) Revenue

Revenue represents income receivable from the provision of insurance marketing and broking services in the accounting period.

(e) Expenses

(i) Operating lease payments

Payments made under operating leases are recognised in the income statement on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

(ii) Net finance costs

Net finance costs comprise interest payable on borrowings.

(f) Employee benefits

Defined contribution plan

The Company operates a defined contribution pension scheme. The assets of the scheme are held separately from those of the group in an independently administered fund. Obligations for contributions to defined contribution pension plans are recognised as an expense in the income statement as incurred.

(g) Income tax

Income tax on the income statement for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax is recognised in the income statement except to the extent that it relates to items recognised directly in equity, in which case the related income tax is also recognised in equity.

Current tax is the expected tax payable on the taxable profit for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantially enacted at the balance sheet date, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years.

Deferred tax is provided in full, using the balance sheet liability method, providing for temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes, and the amounts used for taxation purposes. The following temporary differences are not provided for: goodwill not deductible for tax purposes, the initial recognition of assets or liabilities that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit, and differences relating to investments in subsidiaries to the extent that they will probably not reverse in the foreseeable future. The amount of deferred tax provided is based on the expected manner of realisation or settlement of the carrying amount of assets and liabilities, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date.

A deferred tax asset is recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the asset can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted.

(h) Segment reporting

In accordance with IAS 14, Segment Reporting, the Company is not required to present segmental information.

Significant accounting policies

(i) Property, plant and equipment

(i) Owned assets

Items of property, plant and equipment are stated at cost (or deemed cost) less accumulated depreciation (see below) and impairment losses (see accounting policy l). Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items of property, plant and equipment.

(ii) Depreciation

Depreciation is charged to the income statement on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of each part of an item of property, plant and equipment.

The estimated useful lives are as follows:

Motor vehicles	2 years
Furniture & fixtures	2 years
Equipment (Computer)	4 years
Licences	not exceeding 4 years
Leasehold improvements	15 years

(j) Other receivables

Other receivables are stated at their cost less any impairment losses.

(k) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash balances and call deposits. Bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Company's cash management are included as a component of cash and cash equivalents for the purpose only of the statement of cash flows.

(l) Impairment

The carrying amounts of the Company's assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, the carrying value is reduced to the estimated recoverable amount by means of a charge to the income statement.

For assets that have an indefinite useful life and intangible assets that are not yet available for use, the recoverable amount is estimated at each balance sheet date.

An impairment loss is recognised whenever the carrying amount of an asset or its cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount. Impairment losses are recognised in the income statement.

An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount.

An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

(m) Provisions

A provision is recognised in the balance sheet when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of a past event, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. If the effect is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability.

(n) Dividends

Dividends payable on ordinary shares are recognised when they are paid.

RIAS Plc

Notes to the financial statements

1 Explanation of transition to IFRS

As stated above, these are the Company's first financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS.

The accounting policies set out above have been applied in preparing the financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2005, the comparative information presented in these financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2004 and in the preparation of an opening IFRS balance sheet at 1 January 2004.

In preparing its opening IFRS balance sheet, the Company has adjusted amounts reported previously in financial statements prepared in accordance with its old basis of accounting (UK GAAP). An explanation of how the transition from UK GAAP to IFRS has affected the Company's reported financial position and financial performance is set out in the following tables and the notes that accompany the tables.

In thousands of pounds	Shareholders' funds		Profit
	At 1 January 2004	At 31 December 2004	attributable to shareholders Year ended 31 December 2004
As originally reported under UK GAAP	1,826	1,919	4,593
Adjustments for:
Intangible assets	(17,005)	(18,801)	(1,796)
Dividend payable	3,000	4,500	-
Deferred tax on adjustments	5,102	5,640	538
As restated under IFRS	(7,077)	(6,742)	3,335

Intangible assets

In accordance with IAS 38 an intangible deferred marketing asset which was generated internally and cannot be included as such has been removed from the accounts.

Deferred tax

The removal of the deferred marketing asset will be an allowable deduction from profits in the 2005 accounts. For 2004 comparatives this tax asset has been included in the balance sheet within deferred tax and for 2005 within current tax.

Dividend payable

Dividends under IFRS are accounted for on a paid basis rather than an accrued basis as under UK GAAP. Retained earnings have been increased to eliminate the proposed dividends in the 2004 UK GAAP accounts.

Notes to the financial statements

2 Accounting estimates and judgements

The most critical judgements and estimates made by the Company are those relating to depreciable assets. The Company provides for depreciation of property, plant and equipment on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives. The policy is reviewed regularly to ensure that the policy is appropriate for each class of asset. For further details on property, plant and equipment see Note 10.

3 Risk management

Objectives and policies for mitigating business risk

The Company's primary business is the provision of insurance marketing and broking services. As such it is exposed to a number of risks arising from its dealings with customers and suppliers as well as from its own internal operations. The Company has various procedures in place to manage these exposures. These include an overall Risk Management Framework, a statement on the Company's Risk Appetite, and a set of clearly defined risk policies. The Company also maintains a comprehensive risk register which identifies the individual risks faced in each area of the business and the controls in place to mitigate these. The Company has a Risk Committee which meets regularly to review both the risk policies and the risk register, to ensure they are up-to-date, reflecting the risks currently facing the business, and that corresponding control issues and risk mitigation actions are being addressed in a timely manner. The findings of the Risk Committee are reported to the Company's Board.

Looking at the main areas of risk faced by the Company, they fall into two main categories – Operational Risks and Financial Risks.

Operational Risks

The Company has carried out a detailed review of its operational processes and activities and, based on this, it has identified the areas of key risk to the business. These include the areas of Marketing, Operations, IT, Finance and HR. Separate risk policies have been formulated for each of these areas and, where appropriate, standard procedures have been carefully documented. As well as risk identification, the approach also incorporates risk measurement, risk monitoring, risk reporting and risk management. In evaluating the risks faced by the business significant focus is placed on the controls in place and how well they are operating. Regular reviews of both the risks faced, and the controls, are carried out by the Company's Risk Committee.

Financial Risks

The two main areas of Financial Risk faced by the Company are Credit Risk and Liquidity Risk. The Company has identified the key controls necessary to mitigate the level of risk in each of these areas and these are carefully monitored on a regular basis. As with Operational Risk, the Company's Risk Committee is responsible for monitoring any changes in the specific risks faced by the Company in each of these areas and the effectiveness of the controls in place to mitigate the risks.

4 Revenue

All revenue and profit before income taxes is derived from the provision of insurance marketing and broking services which is undertaken within the United Kingdom.
