Note from the Chair

It's my pleasure to present this overview of the work of the Association for the 12 months up to April 2018. It also includes our Financial Statements, describing our financial activity over the same period.

As work on our strategy continues unabated, I hope this Review captures the sheer extent of projects that we're undertaking to promote and advocate for the counselling professions. 'Counselling changes lives' is not simply our brand identity; it speaks to the core philosophical principles on which we base all our work, informed by an unwavering commitment to social justice.

We've continued to develop our technology infrastructure during this year. We hope this is providing a more efficient way for members to access what they need, when they need it, while also helping us to deliver services and support to them in a more directed and focused way. Likewise, understanding the needs of our members, and also of the clients who access the services of the counselling professions, ensures we're better able to articulate those to policy makers, commissioners and politicians, to help improve the delivery of psychological services throughout communities.

In reviewing the work through to April 2018, I also give a continued commitment, on behalf of the Board, the staff and all those associated with BACP, to take our work forward in the best way we can.

Andrew Reeves

Chair of the Association

Our philosophy

Counselling changes lives

Not just the lives of individuals, but of families and communities.

Our desire for social justice determines everything we do and guides our relationship with our members and the public, as well as commissioners and government. It's why we champion the counselling professions as a viable, and increasingly evidence-based choice for people. We know counselling works.

We're alongside our members throughout their careers and put them at the heart of what we do. We understand their needs and support them in making a positive difference to the mental wellbeing of their clients.

We do this by promoting and facilitating research to produce trusted best practice, and by providing a robust framework to ensure the profession follows and adheres to the highest possible standards that protect individuals seeking therapy.

As a result, we help the general public, individuals and commissioners make better, more informed choices about the provision of counselling, and continue to raise the ethical and professional standards of the profession.

Charitable objectives

As a registered charity, our two key charitable objectives underpin our work and we use our income and property to promote these aims. In all of our activities, whether we're providing services to members, commissioning research or campaigning, these are the objectives that guide us, and the principles by which we measure our success.

Our charitable objectives are:

- 1. To promote and provide education and training for counsellors and/or psychotherapists working in either professional or voluntary settings, whether full or part time, with a view to raising the standards of the counselling professions for the benefit of the community and in particular for those who are the recipients of counselling and/or psychotherapy.
- 2. To inform and educate the public about the contribution that the counselling professions can make generally and particularly in meeting the needs of those whose participation and development in society is impaired by physical or psychological health needs or disabilities.

Current strategy

Our strategy, launched in spring 2016, was put into place after careful consideration of the above objectives, and the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit.

Because we know that counselling changes lives, we will:

- promote expertise in the counselling professions to enable confidence in BACP and its members
- use our resources efficiently and effectively to fulfil our internal and external strategic objectives to maximise impact
- be alert to change and encourage innovation in a fast moving world, ensuring our policy and interventions are informed and evidence based
- commission, undertake and encourage research and relationships to ensure that we can champion best practice in the counselling professions
- uphold the highest standards of differentiated practice, ensuring that our standards are fit for purpose and communicable to clients and commissioners
- educate the public about the practice and benefits of the counselling professions and learn from people how to develop responsive services
- position the profession in the minds of commissioners and employers, to argue the case for best practice and promote the benefits of the counselling professions
- develop relationships with the wider professions and all our stakeholders
- define the scope and standards of training and practice for the counselling professions, drawing on evidence and experience, reflected in differentiated membership categories
- commit to the highest standards of customer service, public engagement and membership engagement

Key themes

Our work reflects the varied activities of our members and adapts to the changing environment they work in. Following consultation with our members and stakeholders, we identified three key areas for particular focus:

- Older people exploring the role of counselling in improving the lives of older people, and promoting the value of talking therapies to this group
- Children, young people and families continuing our successful work in this area, including promoting the importance of early intervention and joined-up mental health services
- Four nations exploring how we can better serve our members based in England,
 Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales, and influence governing bodies throughout the UK

These areas form the basis of our campaign and policy activities, research work and the range of services we provide for our members.

We are BACP and counselling changes lives.

Annual review

It's been a very productive and busy year in many different ways for BACP. This review concentrates on four key focus areas:

- improving member services
- raising standards and protecting the public
- demonstrating the effectiveness of counselling
- influencing decision makers

You'll find an overview of some of our main accomplishments below.

Improving member services

We aim to support our members throughout their careers by responding efficiently to their enquiries and providing them with the benefits and services that are most useful to them in their professional lives. We're working towards making our services as accessible and user-friendly as we can.

Here are some of our key achievements this year.

More events and online CPD content

From local network meetings to national conferences, there are many live opportunities for members to engage with BACP, gain knowledge and network with their peers. During the year, we supported over 56 local network meetings, and held 28 Professional Development Days, four 'working with' events (training workshops accommodating up to 100 delegates), and three national conferences (Research Conference, Children and Young People Conference and a Private Practice Conference). We also hosted the BACP AGM including a keynote presentation from our Vice President, Julia Samuel. We increased member accessibility through webcasting the three national conferences and the AGM. Combined with live events, we engaged with over 6,000 members.

New resources for members

In 2017 we published 22 new web-based Good Practice in Action (GPiA) resources to support members, bringing our total GPiA to over 100 titles. These include new legal resources on suicide, assisted death, abortion, coroner's court as well as new resources on gender identity and sexual orientation and GDPR. We also updated over 30 GPiA resources and 14 Counselling Minded for Children and Young People modules - web-based CPD self-directed learning.

Continued support on Ethics

In 2017/18, the Ethics Team responded to over 3000 ethical queries from members and continued to provide valuable feedback to internal departments on the topics and issues about which members contacted the team.

• Introducing online invigilation

We've been working with a partner company (TestReach) to develop our assessment platform for the Certificate of Proficiency (CoP), our online assessment of the skills, knowledge and abilities required to be a professional counsellor or psychotherapist. As part of this change, we've also started to use online invigilation as our primary method for assessment delivery. Online invigilation is an area that we've been monitoring since it first emerged and we're now confident that this technology offers a more accessible solution for many of our members. It takes away the geographical constraints of our previous approach while maintaining the robust standards of the assessment.

A new member database system and website

This enables us to manage our data and services more effectively, including making it easier to process member applications and requests. The initial implementation of the system was problematic but with the support of the staff team at BACP, it soon stabilised. The new database complies with the new GDPR regulations.

Raising standards and protecting the public

We set and uphold high standards for our members, both for initial registration and for maintaining registered status. We carry out an audit of a sample of registered members every month to make sure that standards are maintained. We investigate complaints through our professional conduct process, provide a support service to clients who have problems with their therapy and consult with external stakeholders to improve awareness of counselling and its benefits.

Here are some of our key achievements this year.

- Completing and publishing the revision of the 2016 Ethical Framework
 To achieve this, we used feedback from members and users. We've included new sections on breaks and endings, confidentiality, working within teams and responsibilities of trainees; updated clauses on supervision and record keeping in line with new data protection requirements; and new clauses on gender identity and sexual orientation, working with CYP and clarification on relationships with former clients.
- Progressing the Scope or Practice and Education (SCoPEd) collaboration project We've now completed the initial mapping of the competences, training requirements and professional standards for counselling and psychotherapy. This project is part of the BACP Collaboration with UKCP and BPC to develop a shared generic competence framework for counselling and psychotherapy. We've now convened an Expert Reference Group (ERG) with an independent chair from University College London (UCL) to continue the next stage of the project.
- Publishing work for Children and Young People
 We completed and published the revised curriculum for Young People aged 11-18, and convened an Expert Reference Group to start the work on extending the current competency framework to include 4 to 10-year olds.
- Planning a counselling skills project
 We received Board approval for this project and are now starting work on it. This will include developing a competency framework, membership category and register for those who use counselling skills to enhance other professional roles.

• Launching a BACP approved qualification (HND in Counselling) in Scotland
We agreed a partnership contract with the Scottish Qualifications Authority (SQA) that offers successful candidates direct entry to the BACP Register by embedding the Certificate of Proficiency. The pilot was delivered at Glasgow and Clyde College.

Reaching an exciting milestone

We went beyond the milestone of 20,000 candidates who've passed the Certificate of Proficiency (CoP) since we first launched the assessment. There are currently 37,844 registered members (at the end of March 2018).

• Enhancing our public protection role

We created a new role of Complaints Assistant and Assessor. The post's been developed as part of our focus on protecting service users and the public to assist complainants and support them in formulating complaints.

Developing the 'Ask Kathleen' Service

We extended this to provide emotional support to complainants throughout the Professional Conduct Procedure. We also developed a new role: Complaints Assistant and Assessor. The post has been created as part of our focus on protecting service users and the public, to assist complainants and support them in formulating complaints.

· New public facing website

As part of our new CRM and website strategy, we've introduced a new area of our website which enables the public to obtain resources and contact a suitable counsellor more easily.

- Working on the revised Professional Conduct Procedures and its associated protocols... with Russell Cooke Solicitors and Professional Standards Authority for Health & Social Care.
- Applying to become an IAPT (Increasing Access to Psychological Therapy) programme accrediting body

We submitted an application to the CYP IAPT National Accreditation Council to become the accrediting body for the IAPT Children Young People (CYP) Evidence Based Counselling Practice programme.

Demonstrating the effectiveness of counselling

We have a critical role to play in supporting and disseminating the evolving research base for counselling and using research to demonstrate the value of counselling in making a positive difference to people's lives. We continue to represent members' interests and to argue for high research standards to inform policy and commissioning.

Here are some of our key achievements this year.

Disseminating our research in a variety of ways

- o We presented Our Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) research as a paper at the Society for Psychotherapy Research conference in Canada, bringing the important findings from this research to an international audience.
- We ensured that key research papers, including our FGM paper and a paper analysing data from the National Audit of Psychological Therapies, are also published gold open access.
 This means we can ensure not only that these papers are available to our members but also that they reach a wider international audience, ensuring greater impact and influence in the field.

Supporting research

- The University of Roehampton with BACP as co-investigators were successfully awarded funding by the Economic and Social Research Council (ESRC) to conduct ETHOS, an £835,000 fully powered RCT of school-based counselling versus pastoral care. The trial officially started in April 2016 and data collection started in September. The final report is expected in summer 2019.
- As part of the trial, BACP is funding a part time PhD which includes an examination of parental experience of school counselling for their child as well as family outcomes following child engagement in school counselling.
- We've continued to build research capacity in the field through the launch and recruitment of two funded PhD studentships, one researching the role of the therapeutic alliance when working with adolescent depression and another exploring black men's experiences of therapy
- o In May 2017, we held our 23rd Annual BACP Research Conference, co-hosted with the University of Chester. Our eminent conference keynote speakers were Professor Clara E Hill who spoke about "Therapist self-disclosure and immediacy" and Professor Stephen Joseph whose speech addressed the question, "Are we measuring what matters in counselling and psychotherapy research?" We successfully trialled an innovative approach to bringing research to a wider audience of BACP members by live webcasting a selection of research presentations from the conference.
- To support our Policy Team, BACP Research provided a robust response to the NICE depression guideline consultation, based on a rigorous critique of the research evidence and methodology.

Influencing decision makers

We work with politicians and decision makers representing all four UK nations to help them understand the positive changes that counselling can make to people's lives. Through political monitoring and targeted, evidence-based communications, we inform and influence the decisions that will impact on the public and members of the counselling professions most.

Here are some of our key achievements this year.

More input than ever

BACP 'asks' were reflected in nine 2017 General Election manifestos, across the four nations, including:

- o a request for increased research funding for mental health
- o the introduction of school-based counselling (in England/Scotland)
- o a call for a 28-day target from referral to treatment (Wales)
- o an increase in the range of psychological therapies available

Responding to key consultations

We provided expert and evidence-based submissions to around 25 government and stakeholder consultations and parliamentary inquiries across each of the four nations. Responding to these consultations on issues concerning health, education, justice and social care widens our sphere of influence in the private, public and voluntary sectors and helps to demonstrate just how counselling changes lives.

Powerful working relationships

We continued to strengthen and build relationships with key stakeholders, partners and decision makers as well as building BACP's reputation across the four nations. We've met with parliamentarians across the political spectrum on a variety of issues and across all four nations of the UK. In Scotland, BACP was the first organisation to meet with the Mental Health Minister, Maureen Watt MSP following publication of the Government's new ten-year Mental Health Strategy. The Mental Health Minister also helped launch our flagship counselling HND for Scotland in March 2018. We strengthened relationships with opposition politicians and have now met the main shadow ministers in both Wales and Scotland. In Northern Ireland, where the Executive and Assembly remain in stasis, our focus has been on strengthening our partnerships.

Expertise in action

Working alone and with partner organisations we maintained the pressure on NICE to ensure that counselling and psychotherapy remain preserved within the Depression in Adults clinical guideline. Our collaborative work has seen the issue receive favourable political interest, due to a consistent and robust response from the field, with an early day motion raised in Parliament and several meetings directly with NICE to raise to concerns.

Campaigning for change

We actively campaigned around the Transforming Children and Young People's Mental Health Provision green paper. Our call for a counsellor in every school and college to be included in the proposals reached over 49,000 people and led to over 2,000 letters and messages of support sent to MPs across the UK through a campaign tool on our website. Successful stakeholder engagement also led to the Local Government Association joining our call for school-based counselling.

New resources for members

In 2017 we published 22 new web-based Good Practice in Action (GPiA) resources to support members, bringing our total GPiA to over 100 titles. These include new legal resources on suicide, assisted death, abortion, coroner's court as well as new resources on gender identity and sexual orientation and GDPR. We also updated over 30 GPiA resources and 14 Counselling Minded for Children and Young People modules - web-based CPD self-directed learning.

Working with others too

- We worked collaboratively with other professional bodies and charities, including joint member surveys with UKCP, BPC and ACP and also Place2be to enable us to jointly promote working with children and young people and respond to challenges in the children and young people green paper.
- Together with Relate, we conducted public perception work around access to relationship counselling with plans to use this information to engage decision makers in a debate on increasing accessibility to cost-effective relationship support.
- We also continue to work closely with UCKP, BPC, BPS and BABCP to scrutinise the Government on its proposals for welfare reform in relation to their impact on mental health.

- We've made real progress in developing our work around helping older people. Our strategy focuses on doing research, providing an improved service and promoting work with older people to the counselling profession.'
- We held roundtable meetings with key stakeholder organisations and established an expert reference group of our members. We also carried out a public opinion survey, which showed that older people with common mental health problems are less likely to be referred for talking therapy.

Looking Ahead

Improving member services

Next year we plan to:

Launch our new CPD Hub

This will provide a wider, more accessible programme for CPD for members. It will build on our livestreaming content, podcasts and new learning modules. At launch, the CPD Hub will include 40 hours of CPD with an estimated 10 hours added each month.

• Continue to deliver an outstanding programme of members' events

These will include the relaunch of Making Connections events and the addition of Staying Connected, which will be a post-event online version of the live event that will be available to all members. Our ever-popular biannual Student Conference will be supplemented by a new conference focused on innovation in the sector and we plan to hold a second 'Evening with' event.

Provide more ethics resources

2018/19 will see an exciting growth in the services and resources offered to members by our Ethics Team. The service will be rebranded as the Ethics Hub. It will provide a central online location where members can find information about the services on offer and access online resources and CPD relating to the Ethical Framework and Good Practice resources.

The current service offered by the Ethics Officers will continue. Running alongside this will be our new Ethics Consultant. We're going to pilot this role for six months to provide consultations to Supervisors who require additional support and information while working through ethical dilemmas presented by their supervisees.

Publish new GPiA resources

These will include:

- o legal resources on GDPR, pre-trial therapy, record keeping, ownership of records, unplanned endings, and sharing records with other legal professionals
- o placement resources and new resources on clinical wills and digital resources
- o additional GPiAs on retirement, older people, disability and clinical reflections for practice

We'll also update all current GPiAs and Ethical Framework guidance to reflect the new 2018 Ethical Framework and GDPR requirements.

Further improve our data management

We'll continue to develop and enhance our new database and website, to improve the quality of data we hold, and to use it to inform and improve our members' services.

Raising standards and protecting the public pathways for the benefit of clients, commissioners and trainees.

Next year we plan to:

- Develop a shared competency framework across the sector
 Complete our SCoPEd project with our partners UKCP and BPC so that we arrive at a shared competency framework for counselling and psychotherapy following a period of consultation with stakeholders. The intention is to offer clarity around entry levels, scope of practice and training
- Extend the unique SQA partnership to improve access to counselling training Extend the SQA approved qualification model to England and NI through partnerships with awarding organisations in England and NI offering a clear vocational pathway to the BACP Register via qualifications designed and mapped to BACP training and practice standards.
- Recognise the importance of counselling skills
 Complete the counselling skills competency framework and begin work on building membership category, services and a professional home for those who use counselling skills in other professional roles but who are not counsellors. This will offer a benchmark of minimum competence for a wide range of people who make an enormous contribution to the mental health of the four nations.
- Implement competency framework for children and young people

 Complete the Children and Young People 4 to 10-year olds competency framework, offer clarity around the competences needed to work safely and effectively with younger children. This will complete the overall CYP competency framework and associated practice standards for work with CYP from 4-18.
- Initiate coaching skills project
 Initiate a project to look at a competence framework for coaching in recognition of the growing importance of coaching as a discrete set of skills that contribute to meeting the needs of clients.
- Implement a publication policy for professional conduct notices

 We are developing a more formal publication policy for professional conduct notices/decisions in relation to the regulatory function of the Register. This will be published in the summer of 2018 to ensure that our process is clear and transparent and will also give members and complainants information regarding the purpose of publication.
- Collaboration between Professional Standards and the Register department
 We will continue the collaboration between Professional Standards and the Register on the future development of a register for associated disciplines. This will ensure that appropriate standards and public protection needs move forward together.
- Develop external networks

We will develop the external clerks and panellist networks to reinforce the public protection function of the Register. This will increase our pool of experts to support the adjudication process.

• Implement our revised Professional Conduct Procedure (PCP)
Following approval of our revised Professional Conduct Procedure by the Professional Standards
Authority for Health & Social Care and will begin our implementation process, which will include our member and public communications plan. Any supporting documentation will also need finalising, along with training for all those involved in the Procedure.

Demonstrating the effectiveness of counselling

Next year we plan to:

- Offer two further PhD studentships
 We will continue to expand our evidence base through supporting innovative research to demonstrate the value of counselling in making a positive difference to people's lives.
- Publish a live webcast of our Research Conference
 This follows on from the success of live webcasts of our 2017 Annual Research Conference.
 There'll also be a selection of additional content that will be shared and developed as new CPD resources for members.
- Offer two research grants of £50K

 To support vital research contributing to the evidence base for humanistic therapies and also in relation to psychological therapies for older people, we will be offering two research grants of up to £50K by open tender process.
- Launch Pilot Research Tool

 This pilot project will evaluate the use of an online outcomes measures system for use by private practitioners with their clients, with the aim to contribute to the research evidence base and to facilitate practice-based research networks, with a view to assessing the feasibility of wider rollout in future.

Influencing decision makers

Next year we plan to:

- Promote the advantages of counselling at work through a BACP-commissioned report This will seek to influence the delivery of the recommendations of Thriving at work: the Stevenson/Farmer review of mental health and employers.
- Build on our increased engagement and visibility in Scotland, Northern Ireland and Wales We'll also promote a much greater awareness and recognition of the impact of counselling with decision makers and funders across the four nations.
- Enhance our work in Northern Ireland
 In Northern Ireland, we're working with a range of partners to explore ways to improve the evidence base for counselling. We're particularly looking forward to working with our partners to deliver the 2019 BACP Research Conference in Belfast our first in the province.

• Build on our work around the key strategic theme of children, young people and families We'll do this through a new strategy, expanding our work from the successful core campaign around school counselling. We'll begin to extend our focus to look at the importance of families in relation to children and young, children missing from education, perinatal mental health and adverse childhood experiences. Early work will focus on developing key stakeholder relationships in these new areas.

Press for action on mental health

We'll hold the Government to account for the delivery of the five-year forward view for mental health, particularly the commitments for additional psychological therapy roles to be recruited and ability of the counselling workforce to fulfil those posts. These new roles offer a real opportunity to deliver expanded choice of therapy, increased access and reduced waiting times for all clients across NHS mental health services.

Build on the development of the older people strategy
 We aim to identify articulate and promote expertunities to

We aim to identify, articulate and promote opportunities to increase access to therapy for people aged 50 and over. Consulting the BACP members, gathering examples of best practice and working in collaboration with partner organisations, we'll increase understanding of the efficacy and perceptions of counselling for older people, call for increased service accessibility and promote work with older people to the counselling profession.

Governance, structure and accountability

Our Governors are elected or appointed to oversee our strategic direction and the management of the Association. Representing and accountable to our members, their role is to provide strong leadership, enhance our decision-making and to make sure that we achieve our objectives.

The Board of Governors consists of up to seven Governors elected by our members, and up to four Governors appointed by the Board. The Board appoints the Chair and the Deputy Chair from the elected Governors. The Board convenes four times each year and holds an additional 24-hour strategic planning event.

Governors serve for a term of three years and may serve two further terms of three years. Elected and appointed Governors will be announced at, and terms will commence from, the Annual General Meeting. The AGM takes place between September and November each year.

Our members elect the Governors by a single transferrable vote. The election is supervised by an external organisation appointed by our President. Below is a list of our Governors during the year, along with the other committees they were members of:

All elected Governors must be BACP members. Appointments to the Board are made to provide the skills and expertise considered necessary to achieve our strategic aims.

The Board may also co-opt up to two members with the relevant skills and experience to fill any vacancies that may arise.

On appointment, each Governor completes a register of interests and a confidentiality agreement. They're provided with a Governor Handbook that includes the Articles of Association, Standing Orders of the Association, policies and procedures on issues such as delegation of authority, recruitment, equal opportunities, investment, reserves, conflict of interest, business expenses and other guidance. The Handbook contains a role description for the Governors and a copy of various relevant Charity Commission leaflets including but not limited to, The Essential Trustee: What you need to know, The Essential Trustee: An introduction, Trustee Expenses and Payments and The Good Trustee Guide. All new Governors meet with the Chair and the Chief Executive and an induction meeting with senior staff including a tour of the office is arranged for all new members of the Board. Their training needs are regularly assessed and met.

Board of Governors' responsibilities

Company law requires the Board of Governors to prepare the financial statements for each financial year, which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and the group and of the surplus or deficit of the group for that year.

In preparing these financial statements, the Board of Governors is required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities Statements of Recommended Practice
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent
- prepare the financial statements on the 'going concern basis', unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company and group will continue in business

The Board of Governors is responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and to enable the Board to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006, the Charities Act 2011 and the Statement of Recommended Practice for Accounting and Reporting by Charities (SORP 2015 (FRS102) effective January 2015).

The Board of Governors is also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and the group, and for taking reasonable steps to prevent and detect fraud and other irregularities.

More information about how our Association is governed can be found in our Articles of Association and our Standing Orders.

Statement as to disclosure of information to auditors

As far as the Board of Governors is aware, there's no relevant audit information (as defined by Section 418 of the Companies Act 2006) of which the company's auditors are unaware, and each Governor has taken all the steps that he or she ought to have taken as a Governor to make himself or herself aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the group's auditors are aware of that information.

Management and staffing

Our Chief Executive, Dr Hadyn Williams, is responsible for planning and developing our services and strategies, within clear policies and protocols set by the Board.

Our Chief Executive reports, via the Finance and Policy Committee, on the financial position of the company, including the actual performance compared to the budget. Management Accounts are received quarterly by the Board and regularly by the Finance and Policy Committee.

The Board approve the association's salary policy and procedure. Salaries are benchmarked against similar posts in the sector and geographical area every third year.

Our staff team is recruited and supported to provide the skills and expertise needed to operate our organisation successfully. The Senior Management Team, who oversee each of our departments, is listed below.

Volunteers

We're hugely grateful to the many volunteers who support us by serving on our divisions, committees, expert reference groups, forums, working groups and as peer reviewers and media spokespersons. Thank you for your continued and significant contribution to our success - your dedication, commitment, passion and hard work allow us to better serve our members and stakeholders; to promote the counselling professions effectively and to support our vision: counselling changes lives.

Review of BACP's financial position

We remain in a healthy financial position in line with our reserves policy. This position allows us to undertake and support a broad range of activities in relation to our charitable objectives.

Further details about the financial position are included in the 'Review of the business' section of the Strategic report.

Reserves policy

The Board of Governors reviews the reserves policy annually. The current policy is that the free reserves should be at a level to allow for future unanticipated fluctuations in income and expenditure, and to cover the estimated running costs for six months. This is currently estimated at about £2 million.

The free reserves for this purpose are the total reserves, less restricted and designated funds (to the extent that they have been committed), less the insurance (designated) fund, less tangible and intangible fixed assets and capital commitments, plus the membership fees received in advance (which would not be repayable if the charity was wound up).

At 31 March 2018 the level of the charity's free reserves was:

| Total reserves: | £5,614,110 |
| Less: | |
| Restricted funds | £19,037 |
| Designated funds (that have been committed) | £68,850 |
| Insurance Fund | £1,000,000 |
| Tangible and Intangible fixed assets | £3,755,687 |
| Capital Commitments | £68,800 |
| Sub-Total | £701,736 |
| Plus: | |
| Membership fees received in advance | £2,015,677 |
| Free reserves | £2,717,413 |

Although higher than policy, planned deficits will be incurred to bring the level of the free reserves in line with the policy over the next two years.

Strategic report Review of the business

Our main sources of funding are membership subscriptions, Find a Therapist directory fees, accreditation fees and income from our trading subsidiary, BACP Enterprises Ltd.

Total incoming resources for the year decreased by £141,228 to £8,446,709 (1.7%). The reduced income was due to three main factors which were the ceasing trading of the BACP Research Foundation, the decision to end the arrangement that yielded commission on members' professional indemnity insurance premiums, and the temporary impact of transition of systems on payment processes and services. Core membership income remained strong, out-performing income projections in the year. The trading subsidiary yielded a slightly lower contribution this year and continues to operate in a very competitive environment. The sources of funding sustain the costs incurred in delivering our key objectives through representation of the profession, developing research, the provision of journals, conferences and events, professional standards, register and conduct processes.

We maintain a sound practice of review and planning. Operating expenditure increased by £700,715 to £8,317,782 (9.2%). Increased resourcing was applied to the Good Practice in Action resources and the Ethical Framework. The staff cohort increased modestly, mainly in the latter part of the year, as new posts were brought on board aligning with strategy. Due to the transition of systems, events activity was reduced compared to the norm in the year. With the head office building becoming 11 years old, some extensive refurbishment was necessary internally and externally, with the main expense being a replacement heating and cooling system. Amortisation of the capital cost of the website and database across three years is beginning to impact the income and expenditure account as the cost is written off.

The surplus for the year after a small unrealised loss on investments of £24,556 is £104,371. Total funds increased accordingly to £5,614,110. Further capital expenditure was incurred relating to the build cost of the new website and membership database, as well as commencing improvement of the finance and human resources systems.

Kleinwort Hambros Private Bank manage the ethical investment portfolio in line with our policy on ethical investment. The investment objectives criterion is based on maximum total gross return. This is achieved by generating growth through capital appreciation in the value of shares and the reinvestment of income as generated from dividends, while complying with our policy on ethical investment. In line with overall market movements, the portfolio suffered the unrealised loss during the last quarter of the financial year

On 31 March 2018 we had 45,632 members, an increase of 1.03% on the previous year, with growth slowing. Membership numbers are closely monitored throughout the year.

In April 2016 we launched a new five-year strategy, with a series of 'strategic intents' to help us achieve our position and purpose. These are the elements of our work that have been identified through consultation with our members as being the most important. The intents are themselves supported by a comprehensive operational plan, and our resources have been aligned in order to enable us to concentrate on these vital elements of our work.

During our financial year 2017/2018 staff teams have made progress across each of the following strategic intents.

1. Promote expertise in the counselling professions to enable confidence in BACP and its members.

We've responded to a diverse range of Government and stakeholder consultations and calls for evidence, significantly the NICE Guideline on Depression Adults and the Children and Young People's Mental Health Green Paper. We have continued to develop a strong presence in Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland and extended our work in Greater Manchester where a significant healthcare budget has been devolved to the city region.

2. Use our resources efficiently and effectively to fulfil our internal and external strategic objectives to maximise impact.

The introduction of a new CRM database made improvements to our website including on the quality of our data, and increased members' access to renew online. In addition, we rolled out the COP online assessment, removing the access barrier so that all members are now able to take the COP from their homes, work or wherever they are in the world. We undertook a review of our structures and teams to ensure that we continued to work cohesively and efficiently.

3. Be alert to change and encourage innovation in a fast-moving world, and our policy and interventions will be informed and evidence based.

We committed to being alert in a changing world, whether these changes come in the form of evolving government agendas, new legislation or technological challenges in serving members and clients. We found partners who will help us develop our policies and systems and make sure they are up-to-date with best practice.

4. Commission, undertake and encourage research and relationships to ensure that we can champion best practice in the counselling professions.

We have continued to work hard to build the evidence base for counselling and psychotherapy by commissioning and undertaking research, such as our two PhD studentships and projects relating to Children, Young People and Families, and Older People. We have continued to encourage, facilitate and promote research within the field by collaborating with experts and academics.

5. Uphold the highest standards of differentiated practice, ensuring that our standards are fit for purpose and communicable to clients and commissioners.

A new interim position statement on the difference between counselling and psychotherapy is in development as part of the SCoPEd project, to ensure consistent communication. We have also completed and published the revision of the 2016 Ethical Framework using feedback from members and users. It includes new sections on breaks and endings, confidentiality, working within teams and responsibilities of trainees; updated clauses on supervision and record keeping in line with new data protection requirements; and new clauses on gender identity and sexual orientation, working with CYP and clarification on relationships with former clients.

6. Educate the public about the practice and benefits of the counselling professions and learn from people how to develop responsive services.

Throughout the course of the last 12 months the Public Engagement Department has attended monthly Memory Cafes with a view to signposting and gaining information to inform us how to reach the older community. Delivery of informative sessions externally has taken place on key mental health days and we've also joined a Sport and Mental Health Advisory Network. We have re-developed the public pages of the website, and we're currently undergoing analysis of the metrics gained to help inform us to produce better, much needed resources.

To raise public awareness, a short film was made with ITN promoting Counselling Changes Lives with a view to using rushes from the film in future communications with the public. We have also attended key external conferences and meetings, allowing us to engage in and learning from external stakeholders on best practice when working with the public.

- 7. Position the profession in the minds of commissioners and employers, to argue the case for best practice and the benefits of the counselling professions.

 One outcome of the SCoPEd project will be the ability to promote counselling and psychotherapy and the skills of BACP members to commissioners by being able to explain more clearly how the different categories of membership and their association with defined areas of practice can effectively meet different client needs.
- 8. Develop relationships with the wider professions and all our stakeholders.

We've worked with wider professions and stakeholders to explore the challenges and opportunities that collaborative working affords. We've continued our strong relationships through membership of over 30 policy and campaign groups, and developed closer working relationships with associations like UKCP and BPC, and stakeholders such as Relate and Cruse.

We developed new key relationships around the key strategic theme of older people including Independent Age, Age UK and Centre for Ageing Better. Relationships in the area of children, young people and families have also been developed through a focused push on meeting key children's charities, parent infant partnerships, players in the maternal mental health arena and others such Young Minds and Youth Access.

Relationships in Wales remain strong through membership of the Cross-Party Group for Mental Health and in Scotland an active working relationship has been secured with SAMH with joint working on a number of projects on-going.

9. Define the scope and standards of training and practice for the counselling professions, drawing on evidence and experience, reflected in differentiated membership categories.

We progressed the SCoPEd collaboration project, completing the initial mapping of the competences, training requirements and professional standards for counselling and psychotherapy. We also convened an ERG with an independent chair from UCL to continue the next stage of the project.

On CYP, we completed and published the revised curriculum for young people aged 11-18. We also convened an ERG to start the work on extending the current competency framework to include 4 to 10-year olds.

We received Board approval for a counselling skills project which includes developing a competency framework, membership category and register for those who use counselling skills to enhance other professional roles.

10. Commit to the highest standards of customer service, public engagement and membership engagement.

The introduction of a new CRM database and improved website proved to be a challenging time for BACP. The launch in February 2018 proved difficult, and we accept that we weren't able to always offer our highest level of customer service during the initial implementation. However, our loyal staff teams went the 'extra mile' to minimise disruption to our members. Going forward once stabilised, the new system will provide a solid foundation for BACP to develop and improve its membership experience.

Description of principal risks and uncertainties

During the year, the Finance and Policy Committee and the Board of Governors carry out an assessment of the business, operational and financial risks. We then review the policies, procedures and reporting regimes, and amend them if needed, to manage and reduce the identified risks. Our Governors have assessed the charity by reviewing budgets, plans, financial and operational risks and the external environment for the forthcoming year. Our Governors are satisfied that there are no material uncertainties around the continuing relevance of the charity or its ability to continue.

Risks are divided into five categories: governance, operational, financial, external and compliance. The Risk Register is reviewed every month by assessing each risk in terms of likelihood and impact. Mitigation strategies are drawn up, responsibilities allocated and progress monitored. The Finance and Policy Committee then make reports on current and mitigated risks to the Board of Governors. If a mitigation process requires financial investment, it is held to account through this process.

The Board has delegated clear lines of authority to our staff and staff are involved in the recognition of risk in their activities.

In this accounting period, the primary risk and uncertainty centred on the transition between CRM systems and data-migration from the old database to new. Other risks and uncertainties that were considered and mitigated included project management of our research trails, and multi-association agreements. During the year considerable work went in to planning for GDPR and the SCoPEd project.

REPORT OF THE INDEPENDENT AUDITORS TO THE MEMBERS OF BRITISH ASSOCIATION FOR COUNSELLING AND PSYCHOTHERAPY

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of British Association for Counselling and Psychotherapy (the 'parent charitable company') and its subsidiaries (the 'group') for the year ended 31st March 2018 which comprise the Consolidated Statement of Financial Activities, the Consolidated Summary Income and Expenditure Account, the Consolidated and Parent Charitable Company Balance Sheets, The Consolidated Cashflow and the related notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including Financial Reporting Standard 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

This report is made solely to the charitable company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we may state to the charitable company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditors' report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company and the charitable company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

In our opinion, the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the group's and of the parent charitable company's affairs as at 31st March 2018 and of the group's incoming resources and application of resources, including its result, for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the group and charitable company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the ISAs (UK) require us to report to you where:

- the Governors' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is not appropriate; or
- the Governors have not disclosed in the financial statements any identified material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt about the group's or the parent charitable company's ability to continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting for a period of at least twelve months from the date when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Other information

The Governors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and the Report of the Independent Auditors thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of the audit:

- the information given in the Strategic Report and the Annual Review for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the Strategic Report and the Annual Review have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the group and the parent charitable company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Strategic Report or the Annual Review.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept by the parent company, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the parent charitable company financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of Governors' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Responsibilities of the Board of Governors

As explained more fully in the Board of Governors' Responsibilities Statement, the Governors (who are also the directors of the parent charitable company for the purpose of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the Governors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Governors are responsible for assessing the group's and the parent charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Governors either intend to liquidate the group or the parent charitable company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a Report of the Independent Auditors that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our Report of the Independent Auditors.

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Accounting convention

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention as modified by the revaluation of listed investments and freehold property to market value, and comply with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Principles and Statement of Recommended Practice Accounting and Reporting by Charities (SORP 2015 (FRS102) effective January 2015) and with the Companies Act 2006. All figures are exclusive of value added tax.

Basis of consolidation

The group financial statements consolidate the financial statements of the company and its wholly owned subsidiaries on a line by line basis. A separate Statement of Financial Activities, or Income and Expenditure Account, for the Charity itself is not presented because the Charity has taken advantage of the exemptions afforded by Section 408 of the Companies Act 2011.

Going concern

The financial statements have been prepared on a Going Concern basis. The Trustees have assessed this basis by reviewing budgets, plans, financial and operational risks and the external environment for the forthcoming year. The Trustees are satisfied that there are no material uncertainties around the continuing relevance of the charity or its ability to continue.

Key judgements and assumptions

There are no key judgements that have a significant effect on the accounts or assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment in the next reporting period.

Fund accounting

General income funds are unrestricted funds which are available for use at the discretion of the Board of Governors in furtherance of the general objectives of the Charity and which have not been designated for other purposes.

Designated funds comprise unrestricted funds that have been set aside by the Board of Governors for particular purposes.

Restricted funds are funds which are to be used in accordance with specific restrictions imposed by donors or which have been raised by the Charity for particular purposes.

Incoming resources

Subscriptions are accounted for in the period in which the service is provided. All other income is included in the period in which it is receivable.

The value of services provided by volunteers has not been included.

All income from departments is treated as furthering the charity's objectives since it either relates to the membership of an accredited body to enhance the public's confidence or the sale of publications and training aids and facilities to improve the standard of counselling and psychotherapy in the UK.

Resources expended

Resources expended are included in the Statement of Financial Activities on an accruals basis.

Certain expenditure is directly attributable to specific activities and has been included in those cost categories. Certain other costs, which are attributable to more than one activity, are apportioned across cost categories on the basis of an estimate of the proportion of time spent by staff on those activities.

Operating leases

Operating lease rentals are charged to the Statement of Financial Activities on payment.

Pensions

The company contributes towards to a group defined contribution pension scheme for employees. Contributions are charged to the Statement of Financial Activities in the period in which they are made.

Irrecoverable value added tax

As the membership subscriptions are exempt from value added tax, there is a restriction in the amount of input value added tax that the group is allowed to reclaim on its expenses.

The RCT (Randomised Control Trial) on depression was undertaken by the BACP Research Foundation, which is limited by guarantee, and is a wholly owned subsidiary of BACP. As the RCT is now nearing completion, the BACP Research Foundation has closed and any remaining work will be continued through BACP.

BACP through its risk assessment process commissioned expert advice on its insurance coverage. Whilst adequate, the review indicated that some risks were currently uninsurable and a degree of self-insurance might be prudent. As a result of this the governors have agreed to reallocate the balance of the former Special Projects fund to an Insurance Fund and maintain this at £1,000,000.

BACP successfully delivered an e-learning package to the Department of Health. Work continues with the DH on updating and enhancing the content. During the year £11,857 (2017 - £NIL) of the Restricted funds were utilised.
