The University of Reading Science & Technology Centre Limited
Statement of the director's responsibilities in respect of her report and the financial statements

The director is responsible for preparing the Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law the director has elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law), including FRS 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland". Under company law the directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The directors are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the corporate and financial information included on the company's website. Legislation in the United Kingdom governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention in accordance with the Companies Act 2006 and the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102).

In preparing financial statements, judgements have to be made in determining the most appropriate methods of applying the company's accounting policies to the economic transactions which arise during the year. It is also necessary to make assumptions about the future in determining the values of assets and liabilities at the year end date. The director believes there are no areas where critical accounting judgements are required and there are no areas of estimation uncertainty.

The company no longer trades, and steps will be taken to dissolve the company. It is anticipated that the company will be dissolved within 12 months of the approval of these financial statements.

A summary of the primary accounting policies is set out below:

a. Turnover

Turnover represents the invoiced value of goods and services supplied by the company, net of Value Added Tax. Income from the sale of goods or services is credited to the statement of comprehensive income when the goods or services are supplied or the terms of the contract have been satisfied.

Where the company acts as a lessor under an operating lease, lease income from rentals and associated services is recognised on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

b. Taxation

The charge for taxation is based on the result for the year and takes into account taxation deferred because of timing differences between the treatment of certain items for taxation and accounting purposes.

Deferred tax is provided in full in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date where transactions or events that result in an obligation to pay more tax in the future or less tax in the future have occurred at the balance sheet date. Timing differences arise from the inclusion of items of income and expenditure in taxation computations in periods different from those in which they are included in the financial statements.

Deferred tax is measured at the average tax rates that are expected to apply in the periods in which the timing differences are expected to reverse based on tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the year end date.

A net deferred tax asset is regarded as recoverable and therefore recognised only when, on the basis of all available evidence, it can be regarded as more likely than not that there will be suitable taxable profits from which the future reversal of the underlying timing differences can be deducted.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted.

6 Ultimate parent undertaking

These financial statements have been presented in respect of an individual company, The University of Reading Science & Technology Centre Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary undertaking of the University of Reading. The smallest and largest group to consolidate these results is the University of Reading. The consolidated financial statements of the University of Reading can be obtained from the University of Reading, PO Box 217, Whiteknights, Reading, RG6 6AH, which is the registered office address, or on the University's website.

Since the company meets the definition of a qualifying entity under FRS 102 and is included in the consolidated financial statements of the University, the company has taken certain disclosure exemptions available under FRS 102 including:

- Exemption from presenting a statement of cash flows
- Exemption from disclosing key management personnel compensation
- Exemption from disclosing transactions entered into with the University and its wholly owned subsidiaries

7 Related party transactions

The company has taken advantage of the exemption available under paragraph 33.1a of the provisions of FRS 102 Related Party Disclosures, on the grounds that it is a wholly owned subsidiary of a group headed by the University of Reading, whose financial statements are publicly available.
