Report of the Directors

The Directors present their report and the financial statements for the year ended 31st December 2001.

Principal Activities and Review of the Business

The object for which the Company is established is to further the education of persons employed in or wishing to pursue a career in publishing, writing and information industries and related fields of activity by the establishment, administration and award of national qualifications in respect of competence.

The PQB represents the body that administers Distance learning courses and awards certification for successful students.

Constitution of the company

On 14th May 1998 the Unwin Charitable Foundation now being referred to as The Publishing Training Centre Foundation (company registered no. 1253584 and registered charity no. 1083081) acquired for nil consideration the majority of the voting powers of Publishing Qualifications Board.

The Publishing Training Centre Foundation is thus entitled to appoint eight trustees and the Independent Publishers Guild to appoint only one.

Statutory Accounts Filing

The Publishing Qualifications Board is a company limited by guarantee and henceforth submits annual accounts to Companies house each year as per the relevant Companies Act. Statutory Accounts are also filed with the Charity commissioners and the Inland Revenue each year.

Results

The results for the year are set out on page 8.

The financial results of PQB for the period have been prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with the accounting policies adopted by PQB.

Trustees Report

The Publishing Qualifications Board was established to further the education of persons employed in or wishing to pursue a career in publishing, writing and information industries and related fields of activity through the delivery of vocational qualifications. Although the National Vocational Qualifications (NVQs) in Publishing are no longer offered, PQB focuses on the delivery, through open and distance learning, of a range of competence and assessment based programmes. These are designed to improve knowledge and performance in a range of publishing related disciplines to the widest possible group of delegates.

These courses are widely recognised by the publishing community as indicators of professional competence. As such they facilitate entry to publishing careers, especially as freelance editors or proofreaders. They have also been independently evaluated and accredited by The Open and Distance Learning Quality Council. New programmes are also being developed, in conjunction with colleges and universities, to provide affordable opportunities for lifelong learning and development. A Copyright and Contracts programme is being designed with Oxford Brookes University to enable delegates to eliminate costly legal errors and so facilitate more efficient publishing. A distance learning diploma is also under construction, with West Herts College, aimed at broadening the professional competence of its delegates in a range of publishing disciplines. All PQB courses have elements of performance evaluation built into them, so that delegates and employers can assess levels of excellence and knowledge.

Statement of Recommended Practice 2000

The Finance department throughout the year worked closely with the Auditors in reviewing the requirements of SORP 2000.

As a result of this, the Trustees are able to confirm that in accordance with the responsibilities under SORP 2000 that the necessary systems and controls required to mitigate risks to the Publishing Qualifications Board are all in place.

Statement of Directors' Responsibilities

Company law requires the Directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the Directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on a going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to assume that the company will continue in business.

The Directors are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 1985. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Auditors' Report to the Members of The Publishing Qualifications Board

We have audited the financial statements on pages 8 and 10, which have been prepared under the historical cost convention and the accounting policies, set out on page 11.

Respective Responsibilities of Directors and Auditors

As described on page 6 the company's directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements. It is our responsibility to form an independent opinion, based on our audit, on those statements and to report our opinion to you.

We therefore draw attention to the points set out in the Directors' Report (Reviewing the Business) and the accounting conventions set out at pages 4 and 11 respectively of these financial statements.

Basis of Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Auditing Standards issued by the Auditing Practices Board. An audit includes examination, on a test basis, of evidence to the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. It also includes an assessment of the significant estimates and judgements made by the directors in the preparation of the financial statements and of whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the company's circumstances, consistently applied and adequately disclosed.

We planned and performed our audit so as to obtain all the information and explanations which we considered necessary in order to provide us with sufficient evidence to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or other irregularity or error. In forming our opinion we also evaluated the overall adequacy of the presentation in the financial statements.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at 31st December 2001 and of its results for the year then ended and have been properly prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 1985.
