NOTES TO THE FILLETED ACCOUNTS
For the year ended 30 June 2019

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These filleted accounts are prepared in accordance with applicable United Kingdom accounting standards. The particular accounting policies adopted, which have been applied consistently throughout the current and the prior financial years, are described below.

General information and basis of preparation

David Ord Limited is a private company, limited by shares, incorporated in the United Kingdom under the Companies Act and registered in England and Wales. The address of the registered office is Level 8, 71 Queen Victoria Street, London, EC4V 4AY. The principal activity of the company is the provision of management services to First Corporate Shipping Limited (trading as The Bristol Port Company).

These filleted accounts are prepared under the historical cost convention modified to include certain items at fair value, and in accordance with Section 1A of Financial Reporting Standard 102 ("FRS 102") 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland' issued by the Financial Reporting Council.

Basis of accounting

The functional currency of the company is considered to be pounds sterling because that is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the company operates. Consequently, these filleted accounts are presented in pounds sterling.

Going concern

The company was profitable in the year. The director has considered forecast profit and associated cash flows for the coming year. The director has considered the facilities available to the entity and is of the opinion that the company can operate within the facilities available for the period of the cash flow forecast.

Turnover

Turnover, which is stated net of value added tax, represents management charges invoiced from the provision of services to customers within the UK. Turnover is recognised in the year to which it relates.

Interest income

Interest income is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the company and the amount of revenue can be measured reliably.

Taxation

Current tax, including UK corporation tax, is provided at amounts expected to be paid (or recovered) using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred taxation is provided in full on timing differences that result in an obligation at the balance sheet date to pay more tax, or a right to pay less tax, at a future date, at rates expected to apply when they crystallise based on current tax rates and law. Timing differences arise from the inclusion of items of income and expenditure in taxation computations in periods different from those in which they are included in the financial statements. Deferred tax is not provided on timing differences arising from the revaluation of fixed assets where there is no binding contract to dispose of these assets. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is regarded as more likely than not that they will be recovered.

Pensions

For defined contribution schemes the amounts charged to the profit and loss account in respect of pension costs and other post-retirement benefits are the contributions payable in the year. Differences between contributions payable in the year and contributions actually paid are shown as either accruals or prepayments in the balance sheet.

Financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are recognised on the company's balance sheet when the company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial liabilities and equity instruments are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities.

(i) Financial assets and liabilities

All financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at transaction price (including transaction costs), except for those financial assets classified as at fair value through profit or loss, which are initially measured at fair value.

Financial assets and liabilities are only offset in the balance sheet when a legally enforceable right exists to set off the recognised amounts and the company intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Debt instruments are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Debt instruments classified as payable or receivable within one year on initial recognition are measured at the undiscounted amount of the cash or other consideration expected to be paid or received, net of impairment. Other debt instruments not meeting these conditions are measured at fair value through profit or loss.

Financial assets are derecognised when:

- a. the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or are settled;
- b. the company transfers to another party substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset; or
- c. the company, despite having retained some, but not all, significant risks and rewards of ownership, has transferred control of the asset to another party.

Financial liabilities are derecognised only when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires.

(ii) Investments

Investments where shares are publicly traded or their fair value is reliably measurable are measured at fair value through profit or loss. Where fair value cannot be measured reliably, investments are measured at cost less impairment.

(iii) Equity instruments

Equity instruments issued by the company are recorded at the fair value of cash or other resources received or receivable, net of direct issue costs.

(iv) Fair value measurement

The best evidence of fair value is a quoted price for an identical asset in an active market. When quoted prices are unavailable, the price of a recent transaction for an identical asset provides evidence of fair value as long as there has not been a significant change in economic circumstances or a significant lapse of time since the transaction took place. If the market is not active and recent transactions of an identical asset on their own are not a good estimate of fair value, the fair value is estimated by using a valuation technique.

2. AUDITOR'S REPORT

The company has chosen to file filleted accounts without a profit and loss account. Consequently, the company is not required to file an auditor's report. The auditor's report for the company's financial statements was unqualified and there were no matters to which the auditor drew attention by way of emphasis. The auditor was Deloitte LLP and the auditor's report was signed on its behalf by David Hedditch as senior statutory auditor.

The fair value of listed investments was determined with reference to the quoted market price at the reporting date. If these investments were sold at their 30 June 2019 values, an estimated tax credit of £46,269 (2018: credit of £41,742) would arise.

Other investments are held at fair value where the investment is in a fund which regularly publishes net asset value information. Otherwise, other investments are held at cost less impairment because their fair value cannot be measured reliably. Of the other investments, £49,581 represents assets held at fair value (2018: £60,291) and none of the provision for impairment relates to these assets.

Loans receivable constitute financing transactions and are measured at the present value of the future cash flows, discounted at a market rate of interest.
