5 THE ELFON JOHN AIDS FOUNDATION - ANNUAL REPORT 2020

To our Friends, Donors, Grantees, and Supporters of the Elton John AIDS Foundation,

Well, 2020 was certainly not a year that any of us anticipated but we have you to thank for helping us make sure it was a year where the Foundation did not slow down and in fact, was incredibly successful. The COVID-19 pandemic has affected us all in unimaginable ways, but we have stayed strong to ensure that one pandemic does not override another. UNAIDS estimates there will be an additional 500,000 deaths from AIDS in sub-Saharan Africa this year due to service disruptions in HIV care as a result of COVID-19 and we are determined to do what we can so this does not become a reality for our partners.

Last year in May 2020, we launched our own COVID-19 Emergency Fund to protect the people we have always sought to serve through HIV care, treatment and prevention throughout the COVID-19 pandemic. We are proud of the team and our donors who took action so urgently. The Foundation's COVID-19 Emergency Fund made grants totalling over $2 million, supporting over 100 organisations to mitigate the adverse effects of coronavirus on HIV response efforts for vulnerable communities around the world. Activities we are funding include replacing face to face services with online provision, buying PPE to protect staff and the people they serve, delivery of lifesaving medical treatment and provision of vital supplies to key populations. We also convened a large group of HIV funders to pool our understanding of where help was most needed and make recommendations to the incoming Biden administration.

In 2020, alongside our COVID-19 Emergency Fund, we launched a brand-new grants strategy to lead our goals for the next 5 years as we work towards ending the AIDS epidemic by 2030. This exciting plan amplifies our unique strengths and the ways in which we can connect our work on the ground with our convening and advocacy; speaking truth to power based on what we know works.

WE COMMIT TO:

1. Creating urgency, concern and resources

We will highlight to governments and funding partners the urgency and concern for the and protected care they need most vulnerable people in society at risk or living with HIV so they can access the safe

The most marginalised groups are increasingly invisible to public services consortia, to change the way that HIV and AIDS-related deaths are perceived, understood and care for people, we must know who they are, where they are and what they need because they are ignored or are too fearful to seek help. In order to provide HIV prevention We will use innovative models of support and the data they generate, alone or as part of

We were so lucky that the Academy Awards⁶⁹ safely took place before the COVID-19 pandemic began to close down the world, but sadly it did mean it was our last live event for 2020.

Guests arrived at the Academy Awards's Viewing Party for cocktails followed by a gala dinner and viewing of the 92nd Academy Awards's telecast. Chef Wayne Elias and Crumble Catering designed and prepared the delicious gala dinner enjoyed by guests. IMDb once again broadcast its annual "IMDb Live" streaming show during the party. IMDb's four-hour show was co-hosted by Aisha Tyler and Dave Karger. Following dinner and an exciting live auction conducted by Alexander Gilkes, British actor, singer-songwriter and BRITS Critic Choice Award winner in 2018. Sam Fender performed.

This event was one of the most memorable in its history as Sir Elton John and David Furnish arrived fresh from the Oscars to a triumphant welcome following Elton John and Bernie Taupin's win for Best Original Song "(I'm Gonna) Love Me Again" from Rocketman at the Academy Awards[®].

"What a night. It is so special to celebrate our Foundation's 28th annual Oscar Party with the Fab Five and Sam Fender and to top it off, another Oscar win!" said Elton John, "But most importantly, tonight we have come together to raise urgently needed funds and awareness for the LGBT community at risk or living with HIV in the U.S. and around the world. A gay man is 27 times more likely to have HIV than their straight peers, so tonight helps us to remind people that we still have a long way to go to end the AIDS epidemic."

The incredible amount of money raised will help the Foundation to continue providing testing, treatment and prevention services for people at risk or living with HIV in the LGBT community in the U.S. and around the world.

Cadillac, Gilead Sciences, M&M's Chocolate Candies and MrA-C Viva Glam partnered with the Foundation as the evening's Co-Sponsors; Fin Gray and Michael Meinick and Bob and Tamar Manoukian were Associate Sponsors. Wines were provided courtesy of Domaine Bertaud Belieu and champagne was donated by Chandon, Spirits were courtesy of Ciroc Vodka and Tequila Don Julio. The Foundation is especially grateful to the City of West Hollywood for continued collaboration and to American Airlines as the Foundation's official airline.

THE UK HIV COMMISSION 2020

The HIV Commission is an independent process supported by Elton John AIDS Foundation. Terrence Higgins Trust and National AIDS Trust to find ambitious and achievable ways to end new HIV transmissions and HIV-attributed deaths in England by 2030.

Tuesday 1 December 2020 will go down in history as a seminal moment in the fight against HIV in England. Following 18 months of hard work, evidence gathering and hundreds of people sharing their expertise and experiences, the HIV Commission published its findings and recommendations, providing a blueprint for making the goal to end new transmissions in England by 2030 a reality and set out 20 action points. The message was clear: implement these recommendations and England could be the first country to end new HIV cases.

Widely spread across the UK media on 1st December 2020, including BBC News, Channel 4, Sky News, The Times, Daily Telegraph. Independent Evening Standard, Pink News and more, you could see the headline that England could be the first country to end new cases; a target to reduce new cases of HIV by 80% by 2025, annual reporting of progress to parliament; and, crucially to normalise HIV testing across the NHS. This was particularly pertinent to the Foundation's work – over the last two years we have pioneered 'opt out' testing in South London as part of a Social Impact Bond which gave us a deep understanding of the opportunity to expand nationwide.

The HIV Commission hosted an event to launch their Report's recommendations on 1st December which featured Sir Elton John, Lord Fowler, Dame Inga Beale and many other speakers. The momentum from the Report, media, advocacy from the HIV sector and political engagement resulted in:

- The Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, Michael Gove MP spoke and promised annual reporting to parliament on the 2030 goal, interim targets and the chance of England being the first nation to achieve this.
- The Prime Minister Boris Johnson backing up our zero new cases of HIV by 2030.
- A welcome to the HIV Commission Report from the Chancellor Rish: Sunak in the House of Commons to end new HIV cases in England by 2030.
- A confirmation from the Secretary of Health, Mart Hancock MP to create an HIV Action Plan by next summer to end new HIV cases in England by 2030

- A debate in parliament organised by commissioners Steve Brine MP (Conservative) and Wes Streeting MP (Labour). The Secretary of State decided to appear personally for this backbench debate and returned to make yet another commitment; that the HIV Commission would be the basis of a HIV Action Plan available 'as early next year as is teasible to ensure that the work is high-quality, can be delivered and can set us fair on a credible path to zero new transmissions in 2030'.
- The Foundation and its co-sponsors of the HIV Commission are now engaging with the Department of Health & Social Care to support completion of the action plan.

The 32nd World AIDS Day was a timely reminder of the strength there is in HIV organisations, supporters, and people living with HIV, coming together with one collective voice. History was made and lives can now be changed as a result.

COVID-19 EMERGENCY FUND

COVID-19 has become the defining health crisis of our time. What we knew in March 2020 when COVID-19 made shockwaves across the globe, and which sadly has only been emphasized further with the passage of time, is that this is not just a health crisis. COVID-19 is an unprecedented socio-economic crisis, stressing every one of the countries it touches. It is only exacerbating the already deep-rooted inequalities and health disparities across the globe, with the most vulnerable communities facing the greatest risk. For people living with or at risk of HIV, the pandemic has raised the barriers to health and wellness even further.

- Over 4,000 people living with HIV have received home or community delivery of their HIV medication
- Over 27,000 condoms have been distributed and over 500 people received HIV prevention or 'PrEP' services
- Over a million-text messages have been sent containing health information ranging from COVID-19 prevention to domestic violence and mental health support.

In August 2020, we launched this second stream of funding to provide further emergency support for people living with and affected by HIV during the COVID-19 pandemic, this time beyond existing Foundation grantees. The programme leveraged the strengths of Frontline AIDS and the Foundation partnership to ensure funding reached even more of those in the greatest need -- including the LGBT community. Sex Workers, people living with HIV and people who use drugs. The geographic reach of the Fund was also extended with 47 countries eligible for support.

Frontline AIDS issued grants to address barriers to health and human rights issues (including increased gencerbased violence, increased stigma and discrimination and deepening of pre-existing vulnerabilities) via delivery of COVID-19 safe community-based HIV services; transportation costs for individuals to reach health facilities; and distribution of PPE.

In total, over 100 grants have been distributed through both COVID-19 Emergency Funding rounds in over 30 countries. From the first funding round alone, over 68,000 people had been reached through the Fund by the end of 2020. Here at the Foundation, we have been so impressed by innovative solutions our grantees have delivered for their communities across the globe. Their dedication has helped protect the people we have always sought to serve through HIV care, treatment.

As COVID-19 cases continue to rise across the globe, supporting the sustainability of adaptions and the resilience of communities to the next phases of the pandemic and future pandemics will be crucial. It has been essential to incorporate COVID-19 mitigation and safety plans into our projects and we continue to expore new ways to address the adverse impacts of COVID-19 for communities affected by HIV. As the world grapples with this pandemic, we cannot lose sight of the millions of lives that were and can still be lost to the HIV pandemic.

AND CENTRAL ASIA

2020 was a traumatic and turbulent year for many organisations working on the frontline of harm reduction, but our incredible partners around the world proved their resilience and commitment to supporting those most marginalised and neglected. This year, over 100,000 people who use drugs were reached with a range of services and 34,224 people received an HIV diagnosis. Even with social distancing measures in place and major disruptions to health care services, using funding from the Foundation, grantees across North America, Asia and Eastern Europe were able to link 8.130 people to HIV treatment programmes.

In Indonesia, our partners continued the rollout of a mobile application for people who use drugs, which links individuals to service providers and counsellors and provides referrals to psychosocial and biomedical services. Further, they were able to expand their programme of work across the country to also support LGBT communities who use drugs, as well as those who use amphetamine type stimulants and those who do not inject drugs. This innovative work responds to the growing need to provide comprehensive harm reduction services to all communities who use drugs and the increased evidence that non-injection drug use also increases HIV risk.

Our partners in Ukraine – who have developed an innovative and dynamic campaign that works with young people who use drugs and those engaging in chemsex – saw over 200,000 visits to their online platform, where individuals can access information about safer sex and drug use. Physical services were also provided at nightlife settings in Kylv, with young people receiving advice on how to use drugs safely as well as harm reduction supplies.

In June, our funding contributed to the 8th Global Day of Action under the 'Support. Don't Punish' campaign, an initiative in support of harm reduction and drug policies that prioritise public health and human rights. This year, an amazing 288 events were organised in 239 cities across 90 countries and saw communities and activists come together to speak out against inhumane laws that criminalize and stigmatize people who use drugs, increasing their vulnerability to HIV. Although many 'actions' took place virtually, the events opened dialogues with policy makers and raised awareness among the media and public around drug policy reform.

The Foundation also expanded its work for people who use drugs in 2020, with two large grants in the United States and India. In March, we renewed our support through EJAF Inc for the Syringe Access Fund, an initiative which seeks to reduce the health, psychosocial and socioeconomic disparities for people who use drugs across the US. With 10% of all new HIV infections in the United States now attributable to unsafe Injection, our support for the Fund ensures that community-based organisations can provide lifesaving harm reduction commodities such as needles, syringes and medication that prevents overdose, as well as equipping local organisations with the resources to advocate for better laws and policies that increase access to critical health services for people who use drugs. Our funding with Syringe Access Fund in partnership with other organisations provided 3.5 million disposable syringes in the first 6 months of the grant, that cannot be purchased with federal funds.

In India, we began a programme of work in Delhi and Uttar Pradesh - as part of the wider 'ACCELERATE' initiative - that aims to increase engagement and retention in HIV treatment programmes for people who use drugs, by reducing barriers to care and offering key health services in one community-based location, India has made impressive progress in slowing its HIV epidemic, with a 27% reduction in new infections since 2010 and the government pledging to fund over 90% of the domestic response going forward. However emerging epidemics - for example among people who inject drugs in northern states - threaten to undo gains made in reducting new infections. This exciting new project will aim to demonstrate how a decentralised model of service delivery can increase take up of HIV and harm reduction services and ensure that communities living with HIV have easy access to treatment and are supported to remain in care.

Through the Foundation's COVID-19 Emergency Fund, we were able to support 13 projects working with people who use drugs during the pandemic. These grants – across Eastern Europe, Africa, Asia, North and South America enabled communities to continue low threshold harm reduction services whilst protecting staff and project clients, through the provision of PPE and other safety equipment. For example in Kenya, our partners provided over 2,500 face masks and trained 60 community workers on safer drug use during COVID-19, whilst also reaching thousands via radio commercials with information on where to access health services and support during periods of lockdown.

GLOBAL LGBTQ

Despite significant success in the global AIDS response, Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual. Transgender and Queer (LGBTQ) communities still face significant barriers from access to resources and comprehensive sexual health services. HIV disproportionately affects LGBTQ communities across all regions, with gay men and transgender people accounting for 25% of new HIV infections across the globe (UNAIDS, Global AIDS Update 2020).

The Foundation has a sustained commitment to address the injustices and inequalities that make life-saving prevention, care and treatment out of reach for many LGBTQ people globally. In 2020 alone, the Foundation reached over 400,000 people who identify as LGBTQ and tested over 34,000 LGBTQ people for HIV. This includes LGBTQ people reached through our work in Eastern Europe and Central Asia and the Foundation's COVID-19 Emergency Response Fund.

In 2020 the Foundation's LGBT Fund implemented by Frontline AIDS, LVCT Health, MPact, and other partners, concluded with impressive results. The Foundation built the $11.5m Fund with our partners UNAIDS and PEPFAR in 2015. The LGBT Fund's pioneering approach has supported LGBTQ individuals to access and realise their right to health, often in very challenging and discriminatory environments. Over the four year lifetime of the LGBT Fund, we reached 75,000 LGBTQ people with vital services in 26 countries. Moreover, through our partners' successful advocacy, the Fund has created lasting change well beyond the numbers of people reached with services. For example, in Trinidad and Tobago, the Fund supported LGBT activist, Jason Jones, to win a landmark ruling challenging the law against same-sex relationships. This win has been a catalyst for action on LGBT rights in the wider region. In Kenya, the Fund supported and LGBT organisation to successfully contest the practice of forced anal testing.

GLOBAL LGBTQ

In Guyana, it helped repeal a law on cross-dressing, meaning transgender people are now legally protected to openly express themselves. This critical support that the Foundation provided meant partners could make changes locally and nationally to challenge the unequal treatment from health facilities and the wider community.

The advent of the COVID-19 pandemic has created an environment where communities and systems must forge new ways of delivering high-quality services while protecting the safety of LGBTQ communities. The Rapid Response Fund (RRF), implemented by Frontline AIDS, was a key programme within the LGBT Fund portfolio. The RRF rapidly distributed timely, high quality emergency grants to LGBTQ people who face violence, stigma and discrimination in accessing basic HIV services such the as 4,461 people who were provided with urgent housing, 4,388 people reached with safety and security measures, 2,074 people provided with legal support, and 17,377 provided with HIV testing.

In 2020, we continued our partnership with Population Council to implement an ambitious project in in Lagos, Nigeria, serving Gay Men and Transgender communities who remain extremely marginalised and at-risk of HIV with access to quality healthcare. The project will leave behind a trained and sensitised cadre of health care providers to offer LGBT-friendly and non-stigmatising services. Furthermore, vital data and evidence will be garnered on the vulnerabilities of transgender populations which will help inform policy and future programming.

In 2020, the Foundation also continued our partnership with the Kaiser Family Foundation, who are undertaking policy analysis to improve the health system for LGBT people in the USA. The project is producing timely analysis, data and policy tools for key stakeholders to utilise. This includes analysis of key HIV prevention and treatment programmes and proposed policy changes that impact people with and at risk of HIV and LGBTQ populations. Recently, the Kaiser Family Foundation has produced a report that indicates LGBTQ individuals are at greater risk of both COVID-19 health and economic outcomes, Stakeholders can utilise this evidence to advocate for change and help ensure the health system is inclusive and accessible to all.

In the past year alone, the Foundation has reached over 16,000 young people with a holistic array of HIV services, including testing of over 10,000 young people for HIV. Despite the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Foundation has made several significant investments to support innovative solutions that focus on reaching and engaging the most marginalised youth.

This year, in partnership with the Foreign Commonwealth and Development Office, the Foundation awarded a grant to Frontline AIDS and their partners to tackle the HIV epidemic amongst young people in Mozambique. The 3-year project in Maputo City is designed to benefit adolescents at highest risk of HIV infection by enabling access to comprehensive services throughout the HIV prevention and treatment cascades. The project is utilising and scaling the highly successful Community Adolescent Treatment Supporters (CATS) model: a peer-driven intervention for adolescents living with HIV. The model engages a cadre of HIV positive 18–24-year-olds to support other young people living with HIV to navigate their treatment journey and help ensure they are linked and retained in care. Through the project, over 40,000 young people will be reached with HIV services.

In Côte d'Ivoire, the Foundation has perthered with UNICEF to reach young people with critical tools to prevent HIV, including HIV Self Testing kits and pre-exposure prophylaxis drugs which prevent users from getting HIV. This grant is strategically capitalising on UNICEF's existing digital platform, U-Report, which can gather opinions and information from beneficiaries on topics they care most about. Data on these topics are analysed, aggregated and relayed back to both affected communities and policy makers who shape national health strategies for young people. The programme aims to reach over 35,000 adolescents.

As part of their commitment to end AIDS for all, the MenStar Coalition spearheaded by the Foundation and launched in 2018, came together to address the unique needs of men in the HIV epidemic, expanding their diagnosis and treatment of HIV intections, particularly in sub-Saharan Africa.

As part of this initiative, and together with either coalition partners namely. CIFF and UNITAID, the Foundation is supporting increased access of HIV self-testing in Kerya. These efforts seek to increase uptake of HIV self-testing among men with a view to linking those who are positive into treatment. Our partners Repulation Services international and Population Services. Kerya use client-centered distribution models to reach men in two counties of Nairobi and Mombasa. These models include distribution of HIV self-testing kits at a subsidized price through 1700 retail pharmacies, 3 online pharmacies as well as through targeted community and workplace distribution to reach men who cannot afford the subsidized kit.

In 2020, the project has distributed

- O 107914 tes kits
- 39,680 being through pharmacies
- 17.832 through targeted workplaces
- 50,402 through community distribution.
- Of the total kits distributed, 77% have been to men. Linkage and follow up efforts have seen 49% of men who report a positive test result being linked to treatment.

To repidly expand access to additional pharmacles and counties, our Foundation, engaged the services of a sales and merchandising agency, Smollan, to help us to supply HIV self-testing kits to an additional 500 pharmacles in three new counties and non-stocking pharmacles in the existing counties of Nalirobi and Mornbasa. This pilot project also involved creating visibility of the test kits in the pharmacles through the HIV self-testing flagiship campaign brand. Chukua Selfie developed by the Foundation and it's partners. The pilot that was implemented over 4 months was riighly successful in bringing on board 770 pharmacles, creating more demand for at home testing kits. One of the key success factors was branding of the pharmacles with the Chukua Selfie campaign point of sale materials. These rapidly increased visibility in the pharmacles and alerted clients on the availability of the fest kits instore.

The Chukua Selfie campaign continues to create awareness and dernand for HIV self-testing. The campaign has created a strong link between HIV self-testing and the brand Chukua Selfie has been driving traffic towards where men can access HIV self-testing kits, as well as promoting the affordable subsidized price of the kit and how one can also access counseling support. The campaign partnered with one of the online pharmacies to drive traffic to the pharmacy pharton and specifically increase uptake of HIV self-testing. These demand creation efforts saw an increase in uptake of HIV self-test kits through the platform from an average of 60 kits per week to over 200 test kits sold weekly.

Adjusting their model to a virtual environment was one of their biggest challenges but one they saw as a positive in helping Sister Love move forward and stay ahead. The Foundation supports a project called U-Report in Cote d'Ivoire whereby young people join a digital platform to gather their opinion and information on topics they care about. Young people who op! in are sent SMS texts to respond to polls and report issues. The data and insights are shared back with communities and connected to policymakers who make decisions that affect youth.

In Cote d'Ivoire, the Foundation is supporting this U-Report project to provide HIV self-testing to 36,500 young people and to initiate 1000 young people on preventative HIV treatment called PrEP.

As part of Meledy's role, he visits communities to engage young people to join the platform, provide HIV education and connections to HIV services that they may need. During an awareness activity that he was facilitating at a bus station, Meledy met Ali, a 22 year old in Abobo.

All had contacted Meledj to receive PrEP as he was frequently sick and had a hard time providing for himself. All was encouraged to take a HIV self-test by Meledj and it was positive for HIV. Meledj supported him and assured him that the results would be kept confidential. He referred him to a doctor who confinned the results and immediately enrolled him for life-saving treatment. Meledj visited Ali at home to discuss the side effects he was experiencing and referred him to a social worker in a specialised clinic. Today, Ali is healthy and has resumed his work.

INDERNATION OF THE STREET OF T

An anonymous story from a male in his sixties in London.

'Having moved homes in London, I decided to change my GP to my local practice. I was invited to a registration and a routine welcome check-up. At the end of the check-up, the nurse asked me if I wanted to take an HIV test. I was not in a hurry, so I thought why not. Bizarrely, had I been in a hurry I may not have taken the test, deferring it to another more convenient time. I was actually putting my coat on to leave the surgery when I was given the bad news, it was positive! I was in a state of shock and walked out of the surgery. By the time I reached horne the doctor had already called me to reassure me that I would be ok. I visited for a routine check-up because I changed to a new GP. I didn't visit because I felt sick. Had I not changed to a new GP or I had been in a hurry that day, it may have taken a large chunk of my life away or maybe worse, coupled with the fact that I may have passed it on to an innocent person.'

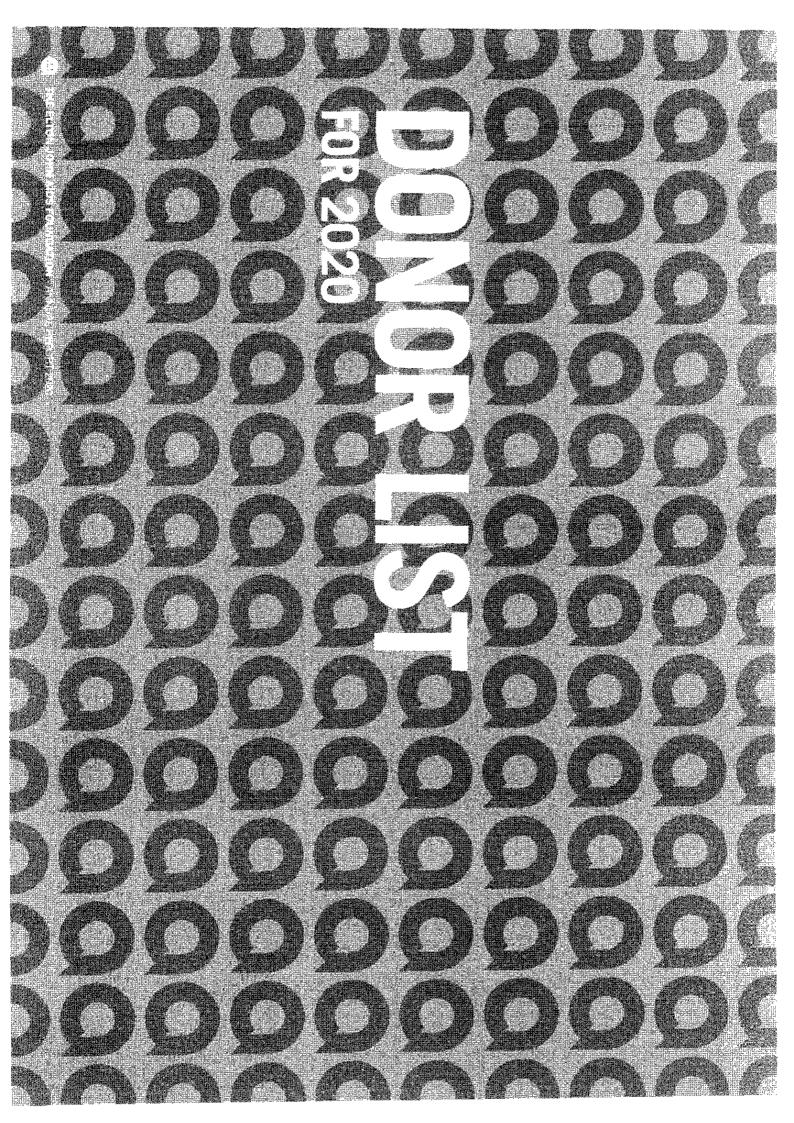

This individual received an instant HIV test at his local GP as a result of our Foundation's Social Impact Bond in South London where GPs have been encouraged to offer HIV testing more widely. He was sure that he would have been negative but said yes to one anyway and found out that in fact, he was HIV positive. He told us that initially he was terrified, but his doctor helped him very quickly and he was on treatment within 3 weeks of receiving his diagnosis. He is now undetectable – meaning he has very low levels of HIV circulating in his body and non-infectious.

'I have to add that I feel blessed to not only be on medication and now undetectable, but for the reassurance and emotional support I received, especially during the early traumatic days. I don't think about it too much now.'

'I was fine before the test and I feel fine now. How has it helped me? I am living and I will continue to live a normal life, taking one tablet daily! Please don't think I am blasé, I would rather be negative, but taking one tablet daily is no hardship. I will get a full medical yearly which potentially means un-associated illnesses may be picked up early. I may live longer with HIV than without it!

He told us that he would encourage others to get an HIV test to save their life and it may save others too.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

The Foundation's total funds as at 31 December 2020 were £18.8 million (2019: £14.7 million) of which £5.8 million are classified as restricted funds (2019: £6.5 million) and £13.1 million as unrestricted funds (2019: £8.2 million), £0.4 million (2019: £0.4 million) of the unrestricted funds have been designated for the EECA KP Fund and £0.2 million (2019: £0.2 million) for the Fobert Key Memorial Fund.

The current financial year, 2021, is very different to the outlook when we prepared our budget due to the Covid19 pandemic and government restrictions. Given the uncertainty of our income, we have had to reassess our plans. We have focused on our cost base to keep fixed costs as low as possible. In addition, we have modelled various scenarios to estimate the impact on future cash and believe that we have sufficient cash reserves to ensure financial stability.

The Board has reviewed the financial position of the Foundation and consider that adequate resources continue to be available to fund the activities of the Foundation for the foreseeable future. The Board is of the view that the Foundation is a going concern.

PLANS FOR FUTURE PERIODS

We hosted a virtual Academy Awards Viewing Party in April and hope to be able to host the planned Dine & Disco event in the summer. Despite current restrictions, we are continuing to deliver the 2020-2025 Grants Strategy, providing additional funding to grantees, where needed, to enable them to deliver HIV services safely.

We have delivered new systems for fundraising and grants and will integrate these systems with the new finance system in 2021. We also plan to overlay all three systems with Power BI reporting to support effective decision making.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE & MANAGEMENT

PURPOSE

The Foundation's mission is simple: an end to the AIDS epidemic. The Foundation's purpose is to harness local expertise mobilise networks of generous public and private supporters and partners, and maximise the platform and influence of our Founder Elton John to eliminate HIV as a problem for people vulnerable to HIV and for their communities.

It is possible for people to live a full and healthy life with HIV, yet 15 million people today are not accessing the life-saving HIV treatment they need because they are already restricted in their own society: gay men, young people, those who inject drugs or sell sex, and transgender women. Most new HIV infections are in these marginalised groups. They face abandonment, discrimination and violence. Tragically, it stops them from getting the effective, life-saving services that already exist and so prolongs the AIDS epidemic. The Foundation harnesses local expertise across four continents to challenge discrimination, prevent infections and provide treatment for these groups, as well as mobilising governments to end AIDS. We will not stop until the AIDS epidemic is over.

Our contribution to this vision is through making grants, mainly to civic organisations that will improve people's access to services and get their rights addressed. Developing communications programmes that generate significant global awareness of the threat of HIV/AIDS and help reduce stigma and partnering with key stakeholders to attract additional funding and support to the cause, are also critical elements of our work. The Foundation believes that since collaboration between formal and non-formal sectors is essential in achieving this vision, it will use its influence with other grant makers and with governments to leverage further funding and services and break down stigma and discrimination.

MAIN ACTIVITIES UNDERTAKEN

The Foundation continues to fund a broad range of services for those living with or affected by HIV, including education, peer support, medical care and commodities HIV counselling and testing. The Foundation funds operational research but does not support pure medical research. Emphasis is given to the most disadvantaged or high-risk groups, both nationally and internationally, and to community driven programmes that place people living with HIV at the centre of service provision.

Grant making activity

The Foundation's website provides information about how it views the current landscape and needs of the AIDS epidemic. It highlights case studies of responses it has made to those needs to date and details the type of work it aims to fund going forward.

Advocacy and communications

The Foundation seeks to use its influence to unlock bilateral and unilateral resources in the global fight against AIDS and to ensure that such resources are appropriately weighted towards key drivers of the epidemic and those groups or populations most at risk. It also seeks to bring new champions to the issue who have either the resources, access or geographical reach to influence global impact. Our communications aim to bring both the progress and continuing jeopardy regarding ending AIDS to the attention of policymakers, business and the general public.

PUBLIC BENEFIT

- People's HIV status should have no impact on their quality of life or access to opportunities HIV information, care and support must come without stigma, exclusion or fear for people living with HIV or at risk of HIV.
- Everyone has the right to access the best treatment
- Those most directly affected by the epidemic are central to finding effective solutions.
- 4. Care and concern for each person, and respect to: their human and legal rights particularly the most vulnerable and marginalized is central to any caring community.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE & MANAGEMENT

The foundation aims to

- 1. Be transparent and accountable
- Be effective and responsible as a grant making charity.
- Achieve a positive impact with its funding.
- 4. Work in partnership with a wide range of stakeholders to mobilize resources.
- 8. Learn from its work and share knowledge gained

The Trustees consider that the Foundation has compiled with Section 17 of the Charities Act 2011 in respect of Public Benefit, and the Trustees have had regard to the Charity Commission's guidance.

PERFORMANCE EVALUATION AND PLANNING

An appraisal of the charity's performance against goals is reviewed annually by both staff and Trustees. The charity's strategic plan, covering the period 2020-2025, was approved by the Board in April 2020. Work plans against the strategy are developed annually to fulfil governance, finance, fundraising and grant making objectives and monitored at Senior Management Team and committee meetings throughout the year. During 2020, the charity's risk was reviewed regularly at Finance & Investment Committee and board meetings. Our annual end of year Strategy Day was held remotely and focussed on evolving our formal definition of the cultural identity of the Foundation, facilitated by external agency. Innovation Beehive, Having an agreed well-defined culture will help ensure the goals and principles we have established are embedded into our working.

We have audited the financial statements of The Elton John AIDS Foundation ('the Group') for the year ended 31 December 2020 which comprise the Consolidated Statement of Financial Activities, the Consolidated and Foundation Balance Sheets, the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows and the notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice)'.

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the group and the charitable company's affairs as at 31 December 2020 and of its incoming resources and application of resources, including its income and expenditure, for the year then ended,
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the group in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

CONCLUSIONS RELATING TO GOING CONCERN

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statement is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the group or parent charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

OTHER INFORMATION

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The trustees are responsible for the other information contained within the financial statements. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the course of the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. It based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

DENT AUDIT

OPINIONS ON OTHER MATTERS PRESCRIBED BY THE COMPANIES ACT 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of our audit.

- the information given in the strategic report and the trustees' report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the strategic report and the trustees' report have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

MATTERS ON WHICH WE ARE REQUIRED TO REPORT BY EXCEPTION

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the Group and the parent charitable company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Trustees Report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept by the parent charitable company or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the parent charitable company financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns: or
- certain disclosures of trustee's remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit

RESPONSIBILITIES OF TRUSTEES

As explained more fully in the Trustees' statement (so our choice A2), the Trustees' are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the Trustees' determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Trustees' are responsible for assessing the group's and the parent charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees' either intend to liquidate the Group or the parent charitable company to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Irregularities. including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

Based on our understanding of the group and the industry in which it operates, we identified that the principal risks of non-compliance with laws and regulations related to the acts by the group, which were contrary to applicable laws and regulations including fraud, and we considered the extent to which non-compliance might have a material effect on the financial statements. We also considered those laws and regulations that have a direct impact on the preparation of the financial statements such as the Companies Act 2006. We evaluated management's incentives and opportunities for fraudulent manipulation of the financial statements (including the risk of override of controls), and determined that the principal risks were related to revenue recognition and the group's net income for the year.

Also, the risk of not detecting a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than the risk of not laws and regulations is from the events and transactions reflected in the financial statements, the less likely we would misrepresentations, or through collusion.
