Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent,
- prepare the financial statements on a going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. Independent auditors report

To the shareholders of Usborne Trading Limited

We have audited the financial statements of Usborne Trading Limited on pages 5 to 13 for the year ended 30 September 2012. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

This report is made solely to the company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the company's members those matters that we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Respective responsibilities of directors and auditors

As explained more fully in the Directors' Statement of Responsibilities set out on page 1, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view. Our responsibility is to audit the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland). Those standards require us to comply with the Auditing Practices Board's Ethical Standards for Auditors.

Scope of the audit

An audit involves obtaining evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements sufficient to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error. This includes an assessment of whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the company's circumstances and have been consistently applied and adequately disclosed, the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by the directors, and the overall presentation of the financial statements. In addition, we read all the financial and non-financial information in the Directors' Report to identify material inconsistencies with the audited financial statements. If we become aware of any apparent material misstatements or inconsistencies we consider the implications for our report.

Opinion on financial statements

In our opinion the financial statements

- give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at 30 September 2012 and of its profit for the year then ended,
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice, and

Accounting Policies

Basis of accounting

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with applicable United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice), which have been applied consistently (except as otherwise stated)

Under FRS 1 the company is exempt from the requirement to prepare a cash flow statement on the grounds that a parent undertaking includes the company in its own published consolidated financial statements. In addition, advantage has been taken of the exemption available under FRS 8 not to disclose details of transactions with Thompson Investments (London) Limited or its subsidiary undertakings as the consolidated financial statements of Thompson Investments (London) Limited, in which the company is included, are publicly available.

The directors have a reasonable expectation that the company has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. Thus they continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual financial statements.

Depreciation

Depreciation of tangible fixed assets is calculated by reference to cost at rates calculated to write down the relevant assets to estimated residual value over their expected useful lives, taking into account normal commercial and technical obsolescence. The annual rates are:

Office equipment	20% - 33 33%

Turnover

Turnover represents the invoiced value, net of Value Added Tax, of goods sold to customers.

Foreign currencies

Currency transactions during the year are converted at actual rates of exchange. Currency balances at the year end have been converted to Sterling at the rates ruling at the balance sheet date. All differences arising on conversion are taken to the profit and loss account.

Pension costs

The company participates in a group defined benefit pension scheme and certain employees are members of the scheme. The method of accounting for such schemes is governed by FRS 17. FRS 17 lays down rules for the calculation and disclosure of the assets and liabilities of the entire scheme, and further details are provided in the consolidated financial statements of Thompson Investments (London) Limited, which are available from the Registrar of Companies. In view of the fact that the company is only one of a number of participating companies, however, it is not practicable to identify the company's share of the scheme assets and liabilities on a consistent and reasonable basis. In accordance with FRS 17 the company therefore accounts for its membership of the scheme as if it was a defined contribution scheme, and the pension charge for the year is equal to the contributions paid (see note 5). Company contribution rates are based on actuarial advice and in July 2011 were reduced from 25.9% to 25.6% of pensionable salary of qualifying employees.

Contracts

In the ordinary course of business the company on occasion enters into contracts for the future delivery of agricultural products. In accordance with accepted practice, contracts in respect of futures commitments in the ordinary course of business are valued, on a contract by contract basis, at the market prices ruling on the balance sheet date. The policy on futures may on occasion represent a departure from normal statutory requirements and cause unrealised gains to be reflected in the financial statements, but the directors consider the policy to be necessary in order for the financial statements to show a true and fair view. This departure had no material effect on the company result after tax in either the current or the previous year.

13 Financial instruments

The company's principal financial instruments comprise bank balances, balances with group companies, trade debtors and trade creditors. The main purpose of these instruments is to finance the company's operations and to provide investment income.

In respect of bank balances, the liquidity risk is managed by maintaining a balance between the continuity of funding, and flexibility through the use of loan accounts with group companies at floating rates of interest. The company is exposed to interest rate risk in that fluctuations in market rates of interest impact upon the level of interest income and expense. Trade debtors are managed in respect of credit and cash flow risk by policies concerning the credit offered to customers and the regular monitoring of amounts outstanding for both time and credit limits. Trade creditor liquidity risk is managed by ensuring that sufficient funds are available to meet amounts due.
