Principal risks and uncertainties

The current and emerging risks to the Company have been fully mitigated and full risk registers are maintained. The key area of risk facing the Group is seen to be regulatory change that may adversely affect the current organisation or future strategic direction of the business. The Group takes a pro-active approach in identifying and mitigating at the earliest opportunity the impact of any proposed regulatory or legislative change.

2020 has seen considerable market risk and uncertainty due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Whilst the Group's revenue model is not linked to equity market movements the outlook for the coming year is likely to be affected by the current COVID-19 outbreak and as reopening commences there remains significant uncertainty over how this will unfold. Nevertheless, the Group believes its investments in the operations of the business will continue to benefit the Group and that the majority of the return on these investments is yet to come.

Oversight of risk management across the Curtis Banks group is performed by the Risk Committee, chaired by a Non-Executive Director of Curtis Banks Group PLC. The committee's role is to ensure the effectiveness of the overall risk framework and that key risks to the Group are being identified and assessed relative to the appetite, and monitored and controlled in line with the Curtis Banks group risk appetite. Oversight is then delegated to the Group Risk, Audit & Compliance Committee ("GRACC") and the Group Asset & Liability Committee ("Group ALCO").

SUFFOLK LIFE GROUP LIMITED

Notes to the financial statements (continued)

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Segment reporting

All business arose in the United Kingdom. In the opinion of the directors, the Company operates a single business segment, being that of a holding company.

Investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures

Shares in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures are stated at cost less provision for impairment if applicable. Non current asset investments are reviewed for impairment at each reporting date.

Impairment

The Company reviews the carrying value of its assets at each Statement of Financial Position date to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment. If the carrying value of its assets is impaired, the carrying value is reduced through a charge to the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks and other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less and bank overdrafts. In the Statement of Financial Position, bank overdrafts are shown within Current liabilities.

Revenue recognition

Revenue comprises the fair value of the consideration received or receivable for the sale of services in the ordinary course of the Company's activity. Revenue is shown net of value added tax ("VAT"), returns, rebates and discounts. The Company recognises revenue when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured, it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the entity and when specific criteria have been met for the Company's activities, as described below:

- Dividend income

For interim dividends, the dividend income is recognised when paid, and for final dividends, it is recognised when approved by the respective subsidiary's Board.

- Interest income

Interest income is recognised by the Company as it accrues.

Investment income

Investment income includes dividends and interest. Dividends receivable from Group companies are recognised when paid for interim dividends, and when approved by the subsidiary Board for final dividends. All other investment income is recognised on an accruals basis.

Current and deferred income tax

The tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

Current tax comprises tax payable on current period profits, adjusted for non-tax deductible items, and any adjustments to tax payable in respect of previous periods. Current tax is recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income unless it relates to items recognised in Other Comprehensive Income or directly in Shareholders' Funds. In this case, the tax is also recognised in Other Comprehensive Income or directly in Shareholders' Funds respectively. The Company's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date.

Deferred tax is calculated on differences arising between the accounting value of assets and liabilities and their respective tax values. Deferred tax is also recognised in respect of unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will arise against which the losses can be utilised. Deferred tax is charged or credited to the Statement of Comprehensive Income, except when it relates to items charged or credited directly to equity, in which case the deferred tax is also dealt with in Other Comprehensive Income. Deferred tax is calculated using tax rates that are expected to apply to the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled.

Management regularly assess the likelihood that deferred tax assets will be recovered from future taxable income. No deferred tax asset is recognised when Management believe that it is more likely than not that a deferred asset will not be realised.

Dividend recognition

A dividend distribution to the Company's shareholders is recognised as a liability in the period in which the dividends are authorised and are no longer at the discretion of the Company.
