The financial statements are required by law to present fairly the financial position and the performance of the company. The Companies Act 1985 provides in relation to such financial statements that references in the relevant part of that Act to financial statements giving a true and fair view are references to their achieving a fair presentation.

Notes to financial statements

1. Accounting policies

TEAMtalk com Limited (the "Company") is a limited liability company incorporated in England and Wales, and domiciled in the United Kingdom ("UK")

a) Statement of compliance

The financial statements have been prepared and approved by the directors in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the EU ("Adopted IFRSs")

These are the Company's first annual financial statements since adopting IFRS, and the Company has elected 1 January 2005 as the date of transition to IFRS (the "Transition Date")

b) Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared on an historical cost basis, except for the remeasurement to fair value of financial instruments as described in the accounting policies below

The ability of the company to discharge its debts in the foreseeable future is largely dependent on the continued support of the ultimate parent company. The parent company has indicated that it intends to provide such funds as are necessary for the company to discharge its debts for the foreseeable future. Accordingly, the directors consider that the financial statements should be prepared on an ongoing basis.

The Company has taken advantage of the exemption from preparing the consolidated accounts afforded by section 228 of the Companies Act 1985, because it is a wholly-owned subsidiary of BSKyB which prepares consolidated accounts which are publicly available (see note 16)

c) Foreign currency translation

The Company's functional currency and presentational currency is pounds sterling. Trading activities denominated in foreign currencies are recorded in pounds sterling at the actual exchange rates as of the date of the transaction. Monetary assets, liabilities and commitments denominated in foreign currencies at the year end are reported at the rates of exchange at the balance sheet date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the exchange rate prevailing at the date of the initial transaction. Gains and losses on retranslation of assets and liabilities are included net in the profit or loss for the year, except for exchange differences arising on non-monetary assets and liabilities where the changes in fair value are recognised directly in equity.

d) Intangible assets

Research expenditure is recognised in the income statement as the expenditure is incurred. Development expenditure (relating to the application of research knowledge to plan or design new or substantially improved products for sale or use within the business) is recognised as an intangible asset from the point at which it is probable that the Company has the intention and ability to generate future economic benefits from the development expenditure, that the development is technically feasible and that the subsequent expenditure can be measured reliably. Any other development expenditure is recognised in the income statement as incurred.

Amortisation of an intangible asset begins when the asset is available for use, and is charged to the income statement through operating expenses on a straight-line basis over the intangible assets' estimated useful life, being a period of no more than ten years, unless the asset life is judged to be indefinite. If the useful life is indefinite or the asset is not yet available for use, no amortisation is charged and an impairment test is carried out at least annually.

e) Property, plant and equipment ("PPE")

i. Owned assets

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses, (see accounting policy g), other than those that are classified as held for sale, which are stated at the lower of carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell.

When an item of property, plant and equipment comprises major components having different useful economic lives, the components are accounted for as separate items of property, plant and equipment.

ii. Depreciation

Depreciation is provided to write off the cost, less estimated residual value, of property, plant and equipment on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life. Principal useful economic lives used for this purpose are:

Fixtures & fittings	3 to 5 years
Plant & equipment	3 to 5 years

f) Financial assets and liabilities

Financial assets and liabilities are initially recognised at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs. At each balance sheet date, the Company assesses whether there is any objective evidence that any financial asset is impaired. Financial assets and liabilities are recognised on the Company's balance sheet when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the financial asset or liability. Financial assets are derecognised from the balance sheet when the Company's contractual rights to the cash flows expire or the Company transfers substantially all the risks and rewards of the financial asset. Financial liabilities are derecognised from the Company's balance sheet when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires.

i. Trade and other receivables

Trade and other receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Trade and other receivables, with no stated interest rate, are measured at the original invoice amount if the effect of discounting is immaterial. An allowance account is maintained to reduce the carrying value of trade and other receivables for impairment losses identified from objective evidence, with movements in the allowance account, either from increased impairment losses or reversals of impairment losses, being recognised in the income statement.

ii. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash in hand, bank accounts, deposits receivable on demand and deposits with maturity dates of 3 months or less from the date of inception. Bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and which form an integral part of the Company's cash management are included as a component of cash and cash equivalents where offset conditions are met.

iii. Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are non-derivative financial liabilities and are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Trade and other payables, with no stated interest rate, are measured at the original invoice amount if the effect of discounting is immaterial.

g) Impairment

At each balance sheet date, and in accordance with IAS 36 "Impairment of Assets", the Company reviews the carrying amounts of all its assets excluding financial assets (see accounting policy f) and deferred taxation (see accounting policy j) to determine whether there is any indication that any of those assets have suffered an impairment loss.

An impairment is recognised in the income statement whenever the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the greater of net selling price, defined as the fair value less costs to sell, and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and risks specific to the asset.

An impairment loss for an individual asset shall be reversed if there has been a change in estimates used to determine the recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised and is only reversed to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised. Any impairment loss in respect of goodwill is irreversible.

h) Revenue recognition

Revenue, which excludes value added tax and sales between Group companies, represents the gross inflow of economic benefit from the Company's operating activities. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. The Company's main sources of revenue are recognised as follows:

- Revenue generated through the production and sale of sports content for radio, mobile and internet. Recognised in the month in which the content is provided.
- Advertising sales revenue is recognised when the advertising is broadcast. Revenue generated from airtime sales where the Company acts as an agent on behalf of third parties is recognised on a net commission basis.
- The building and hosting of websites for third parties. Recognised on a monthly basis.
- Online ecommerce sales which include the sale of products through a dedicated web based shop. The revenue is recognised in the month of the sale.

i) Employee benefits

Wages, salaries and social security contributions

Wages, salaries, social security contributions, bonuses payable and non-monetary benefits for current employees, are recognised in the income statement as the employees' services are rendered.

Pension obligations

The Company provides pensions to eligible employees through defined contribution schemes. The amount charged to the income statement in the year represents the cost of contributions payable by the Company to the scheme in exchange for employee services rendered in that year. The assets of the schemes are held independently of the Company.

Termination benefits

Termination benefits are recognised as a liability when, and only when, the Company has a demonstrable commitment to terminate the employment of an employee or group of employees before the normal retirement date or as the result of an offer to encourage voluntary redundancy.

j) Taxation, including deferred taxation

The Company's liability for current tax is based on taxable profits for the year, and is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognised using the balance sheet liability method, providing for temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the balance sheet and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences arising on investments in subsidiaries, except where the Company is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. The amount of deferred tax provided is based on the expected manner of realisation or settlement of the carrying amount of assets and liabilities, using tax rates that have been enacted or substantially enacted at the balance sheet date.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect an amount that is "probable" to be realised based on the weight of all available evidence. Deferred tax is calculated at the rates that are expected to apply in the period when the liability is settled or the asset is realised. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted.

Deferred tax is charged or credited in the income statement, except where it relates to items charged or credited directly to equity, in which case the deferred tax is also included within equity.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the Company intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

k) Accounting standards, interpretations and amendments to published standards not yet effective

The Company has not yet adopted certain new standards, amendments and interpretations to existing standards, which have been published and are mandatory for the Company's accounting periods beginning on or after 1 July 2007, or later periods. These new standards are listed below:

- IFRS 7 "Financial Instruments: Disclosures" (effective from 1 July 2007)
- Amendment to IAS 1 "Presentation of Financial Statements – Capital Disclosures" (effective from 1 July 2007)
- Revised guide on Implementing IFRS 4 "Insurance Contracts" (effective from 1 July 2007)
- IFRIC 10 "Interim Financial Reporting and Impairment" (effective from 1 July 2007)
- IFRIC 12 "Service Concession Arrangements" (effective from 1 July 2008)
- IFRIC 13 "Customer Loyalty Programmes" (effective from 1 July 2008)
- IFRIC 14 "IAS 19 – The limit on a Defined Benefit Asset, Minimum Funding Requirement and their Interaction" (effective from 1 July 2008)
- Amendment to IAS 23 "Borrowing Costs" (effective from 1 July 2009)
- IFRS 8 "Operating Segments" (effective from 1 July 2009)

The Directors currently anticipate that the adoption of these standards, amendments and interpretations in future periods will not have a material impact on the financial statements of the Company other than additional disclosure requirements.

l) Accounting estimates and judgements

Management believe that the key accounting judgement relates to the capitalisation and carrying value of staff development costs.
