STRATEGIC REPORT

For the year ended 31 December 2021

The ultimate parent of Moody's Holdings Limited ("the Company") is Moody's Corporation ("Moody's"). Moody's is an essential component of the global capital markets, providing credit ratings, research, tools and analysis that contribute to transparent and integrated financial markets.

Principal activity

The principal activity of the Company is to act as a holding company.

During the year, there was no change in the principal activity of the Company.

Strategy

The strategy of the Company is to act as a holding company for entities within both Moody's Investors Service ("MIS") and Moody's Analytics ("MA"), supporting Moody's group structure. As a holding company it receives dividends from its subsidiaries and distributes dividends to its parent.

Financial results and key performance indicators ("KPIs")

The Company made a profit for the year of £100m (2020: £242m), attributable to dividends received.

The net assets of the Company remained relatively flat at £1,653m (2020: £1,649m) as at the reporting date.

Significant events during the year

The Covid-19 pandemic has not had a material adverse impact on the Company's reported results to date and is currently not expected to have a material adverse impact on its near-term outlook. However, the Company is unable to predict the longer-term impact that the pandemic may have on its business, future results of operations, financial position or cash flows due to numerous uncertainties. However, the Company and Moody's remains confident that it has adequate liquidity to maintain its operations with minimal disruption.

On 23 February 2021, the Company borrowed £5m from Moody's Analytics UK Limited, a fellow subsidiary of the Moody's group.

On 7 September 2021, the Company made a 20% investment in SSBN Limited, for a total consideration of £5m. It is headquartered in Bristol, United Kingdom and provides flood, climate risk data and intelligence products based on and/or containing such data and intelligence.

Subsequent events and future Outlook

On 1 March 2022, the Company rolled over an existing loan of £5m due from Moody's Analytics UK Limited, a fellow subsidiary of the Moody's group.

The Company is closely monitoring the impact of the ongoing Russia/Ukraine conflict on all aspects of its business. As the situation is ongoing, we are unable to predict either the potential broader near-term or longer-term impact that may ultimately result from this situation on the Company due to numerous uncertainties.

Subject to these uncertainties, the director remains confident that the Company will maintain a good level of performance in the future.

Going concern

As part of a regular assessment of the Company's performance and net current liability position, the directors have assessed the performance of its investments, the risks and associated mitigating actions. This includes the expected dividends to be received and that the Company is a participant in a cash pooling arrangement where it is able to access funds to meet its short-term liquidity needs. In addition, the directors noted that intercompany loans are always reassessed on a Moody's group basis, which includes the option to refinance loans where required. Therefore, the directors believe the Company is well placed to manage its risks and have assessed that there is a reasonable expectation that adequate financial resources will continue to be available for the foreseeable future. For this reason, it continues to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements.

Principal risks and uncertainties

The Company's principal risk and uncertainty is the impact of current market conditions on the value of its investments. The Company's subsidiaries continue to look at new products and markets in order to maintain its revenue base and market share.

Principal risks and uncertainties relating to the Company and its subsidiaries are as follows:

- Financial reforms affecting the credit rating industry may negatively impact the nature and economics of Moody's business;
- Exposure to litigation, government regulatory proceedings, investigations and inquiries related to Moody's rating opinions and other business practices;
- Moody's operations and infrastructure may malfunction or fail;
- Risks related to cyber security and protection of confidential information;
- Changes in the volume of debt securities issued in domestic and/or global capital markets, asset levels and flows into investment levels and changes in interest rates and other volatility in the financial markets may negatively impact the nature and economics of Moody's business;
- Increased pricing pressure from competitors and/or customers;
- Exposure to reputational and credibility concerns;
- Introduction of competing products or technologies by other companies;
- Changes in tax rates or tax rules could affect future results;
- Possible loss of key employees and related compensation cost pressures;
- Moody's compliance and risk management programs might not be effective and may result in outcomes that could adversely affect Moody's reputation, financial condition and operating results;
- Dependency on the use of third-party software, data, hosted solutions, data centres, the cloud and network infrastructure; and any reduction in third-party product quality or service offerings could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations; and
- Outcomes resulting from Russia/Ukraine conflict.

Section 172 statement

Section 172 of the Companies Act 2006 requires that the directors of a company must act in the way which they consider, in good faith, would be most likely to promote the success of the Company for the benefit of its members as a whole and, in doing so, to have regard (amongst other matters) to the likely consequences of any decision in the long term; the interests of the Company's employees; the need to foster the Company's business relationships with suppliers, customers and others; the impact of the Company's operations on the community and the environment; the desirability of the Company maintaining a reputation for high standards of business conduct; and the need to act fairly as between members of the Company.

The Company's role and purpose

The Company is a holding company for Moody's subsidiaries who are providers of (i) credit ratings and assessment services; (ii) credit, capital markets and economic research, data and analytical tools; (iii) software solutions that support financial risk management activities; (iv) quantitatively derived credit scores; (v) learning solutions and certification services; and (vi) company information and business intelligence products.

Culture and business conduct

Moody's employees uphold the Company's and its subsidiaries' worldwide reputation for high standards of business conduct. An important aspect of Moody's success is its collective commitment to operating in an ethical and lawful manner to maintain the integrity of its business. The directors strive to maintain the highest standards of personal ethics and integrity in our dealings on behalf the Company. At a minimum, this means complying with the principles and policies articulated in the Moody's Code of Business Conduct.

Stakeholder engagement

The Company maintains key relationships that support the generation and preservation of value in Moody's. Through the maintenance of these key relationships, Moody's contributes to a broader stakeholder base to the benefit of both stakeholders and Moody's. The Company's primary stakeholders include:

- Shareholders: The Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Moody's Group UK Limited and, indirectly, of Moody's Corporation. The Company has a prudent approach to dividends to balance distribution of surplus cash to its shareholder and the retention of sufficient resources to support its long-term success, including maintenance of its going concern status to protect the interests of its other stakeholders.
- Suppliers: Moody's supply chain consists of reputable companies, which includes independent consulting firms, and other service providers, in the areas of finance and technology. Moody's expect its suppliers to operate in compliance with the standards set forth in its Supplier Code of Conduct (the "Supplier Code") and Human Rights Statement; Moody's also are starting to monitor sustainability risks in its key suppliers with Orbis, a database created by Moody's on private companies. Moody's is working to build a sustainable supply chain that upholds its rigorous standards and champions human rights, diversity and environment. In addition to increasing its suppliers with greenhouse gas emissions reductions targets and supplier diversity, Moody's have enhanced its due diligence assessments to quantify and monitor potential ESG risks in its supply chain. The Supplier Code specifically addresses forced labour and human trafficking, requiring suppliers to comply with all laws and regulations pertaining to the prohibition of slavery, forced labour and human trafficking such as the UK Modern Slavery Act 2015.
- Community: Moody's approach to community engagement is rooted in its purpose to bring clarity, fairness and knowledge to an interconnected world. Through Moody's Foundation, their Corporate Social Responsibility programmes, and employee engagement activities, Moody's are helping to build towards a world where more people have access to opportunity and where everyone has the resources to grow and thrive. In order to achieve this, Moody's focus on social investing in three key areas: (i) empowering people with financial knowledge; (ii) supporting social equality and the environment; and (iii) helping young people reach their potential.

Climate change

Climate change is a defining issue of our time, and while the Company's operations have a limited direct environmental impact and are not considered a major emitter of greenhouse gas emissions, Moody's nonetheless have an important role to play in demonstrating proactive corporate responsibility, setting industry standards and demonstrating best practices when it comes to climate change mitigation. As such, Moody's is taking steps to advance climate action by publishing and advancing its disclosures against all eleven recommendations of the Task Force on Climate related Financial Disclosures ("TCFD"). Moody's are proud to have fully implemented climate risk awareness into its business activities and overall strategy, corporate governance and risk management. The annual TCFD report can be found at <https://about.moody's.io/sustainability-reports>.

Moody's Decarbonisation Plan outlines tangible strategies for realising its climate ambition, including the procurement of 100% renewable electricity in the Moody's office spaces and optimising efficiencies in its operations through a "Workplace of the Future" program. This includes the Company's operations, which as noted in the Directors' report had zero market-based carbon emissions. The Moody's Decarbonisation Plan was subject to a vote at Moody's Corporation 2021 annual shareholders' meeting with 93% of votes in favour of the proposal, which underscored that climate considerations and action are now an integral part of Moody's business strategy, governance and corporate performance.

During the year, Moody's accelerated its commitment to achieve net-zero emissions across all operations and value chain by 2040, ten years ahead of the 2015 Paris Agreement goal. Moody's became a founding member of the Net Zero Financial Services Provider Alliance, part of the Glasgow Financial Alliance for Net Zero and joined the Taskforce on Nature-related Financial Disclosures. In addition, for the second consecutive year, Moody's received an 'A' from CDP, a not-for-profit charity that runs a global disclosure system for investors, companies, cities, states and regions to manage their environmental impacts.

Key developments and decisions during the period

During the year under review, the Company made a number of key decisions having a long-term bearing on its operations. These included:

- Modern Slavery: Moody's recognises that modern slavery and human trafficking is a global problem and, in June 2021, the directors reviewed and approved the Company's annual Modern Slavery Statement. The Statement was subsequently published on www.moody's.com and sets out the steps the Company takes to seek to prevent modern slavery taking place in its business and supply chains.
- Covid-19: Moody's closely monitored the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic on all aspects of its business. The Company continued to monitor developments relating to the pandemic to inform decisions on the reopening of its offices. The director has been kept informed of developments in relation to the pandemic, as referred to on page 2.

STATEMENT OF DIRECTOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES
For the year ended 31 December 2021

The directors are responsible for preparing the Annual report / Strategic report, the Directors' report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law they have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with UK accounting standards and applicable law (UK Generally Accepted Accounting Practice), including FRS 101 Reduced Disclosure Framework

Under company law the directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the Company and of the profit or loss of the Company for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- assess the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern; and
- use the going concern basis of accounting unless they either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the Company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the Company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are responsible for such internal control as they determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and have general responsibility for taking such steps as are reasonably open to them to safeguard the assets of the Company and to prevent and detect fraud and other irregularities.

The directors are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the corporate and financial information included on the Company's website. Legislation in the UK governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

The financial statements were approved by the director and are signed by:

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF MOODY'S HOLDINGS LIMITED

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Moody's Holdings Limited ("the Company") for the period ending 31 December 2021 which comprise the Statement comprehensive income, Statement of financial position, Statement of changes in equity, and related notes including the accounting policies in note 3.

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the Company's affairs as at 31 December 2021 and of its profit for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with UK accounting standards, including FRS 101 Reduced Disclosure Framework; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis of opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) ("ISAs (UK)") and applicable law. Our responsibilities are described below. We have fulfilled our ethical responsibilities under, and are independent of the Company in accordance with, UK ethical requirements including the FRC Ethical Standard. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is a sufficient and appropriate basis for our opinion.

Going concern

The directors have prepared the financial statements on the going concern basis as they do not intend to liquidate the Company or to cease its operations, and as they have concluded that the Company's financial position means that this is realistic. They have also concluded that there are no material uncertainties that could have cast significant doubt over its ability to continue as a going concern for from the date of approval of the financial statements ("the going concern period").

In our evaluation of the directors' conclusions, we considered the inherent risks to the Company's business model and analysed how those risks might affect the Company's financial resources or ability to continue operations over the going concern period.

Our conclusions based on this work:

- we consider that the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate;
- we have not identified, and concur with the directors' assessment that there is not, a material uncertainty related to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for the going concern period.

However, as we cannot predict all future events or conditions and as subsequent events may result in outcomes that are inconsistent with judgements that were reasonable at the time they were made, the above conclusions are not a guarantee that the Company will continue in operation.

Fraud and breaches of laws and regulations – ability to detect

Identifying and responding to risks of material misstatement due to fraud

For the year ended 31 December 2021

To identify risks of material misstatement due to fraud ("fraud risks") we assessed events or conditions that could indicate an incentive or pressure to commit fraud or provide an opportunity to commit fraud. Our risk assessment procedures included enquiring of directors and inspection of policy documentation as to the Moody's Corporation's policies and procedures to prevent and detect fraud that apply to this group company as well as enquiring whether the directors have knowledge of any actual, suspected or alleged fraud.

As required by auditing standards, we perform procedures to address the risk of management override of controls, in particular the risk that management may be in a position to make inappropriate accounting entries. On this audit we do not believe there is a fraud risk related to revenue recognition because there are no revenue transactions outside the Moody's group. We did not identify any additional fraud risks.

We performed procedures including identifying journal entries to test based on risk criteria and comparing the identified entries to supporting documentation. These included those posted to unusual accounts.

Identifying and responding to risks of material misstatement related to compliance with laws and regulations

We identified areas of laws and regulations that could reasonably be expected to have a material effect on the financial statements from our general commercial and sector experience and through discussion with the directors (as required by auditing standards), and discussed with the directors the policies and procedures regarding compliance with laws and regulations.

The company is subject to laws and regulations that directly affect the financial statements including financial reporting legislation (including related companies legislation), distributable profits legislation and taxation legislation and we assessed the extent of compliance with these laws and regulations as part of our procedures on the related financial statement items.

This company, as a holding company, is not subject to other laws and regulations where the consequences of non-compliance could have a material effect on amounts or disclosures in the financial statements.

Context of the ability of the audit to detect fraud or breaches of law or regulation

Owing to the inherent limitations of an audit, there is an unavoidable risk that we may not have detected some material misstatements in the financial statements, even though we have properly planned and performed our audit in accordance with auditing standards. For example, the further removed non-compliance with laws and regulations is from the events and transactions reflected in the financial statements, the less likely the inherently limited procedures required by auditing standards would identify it.

In addition, as with any audit, there remained a higher risk of non-detection of fraud, as these may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal controls. Our audit procedures are designed to detect material misstatement. We are not responsible for preventing non-compliance or fraud and cannot be expected to detect non-compliance with all laws and regulations.

Strategic report and Director's report

The directors are responsible for the Strategic report and the Director's report. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover those reports and we do not express an audit opinion thereon.

For the year ended 31 December 2021

Our responsibility is to read the strategic report and the directors' report and, in doing so, consider whether, based on our financial statements audit work, the information therein is materially misstated or inconsistent with the financial statements or our audit knowledge. Based solely on that work:

- we have not identified material misstatements in the strategic report and the directors' report;
- in our opinion the information given in those reports for the financial year is consistent with the financial statements; and
- in our opinion those reports have been prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 2006.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

Under the Companies Act 2006 we are required to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of directors' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

We have nothing to report in these respects.

Director's responsibilities

As explained more fully in their statement set out on page 7, the directors are responsible for: the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view; such internal control as they determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error; assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern; and using the going concern basis of accounting unless they either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue our opinion in an auditor's report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but does not guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements.

A fuller description of our responsibilities is provided on the FRC's website at www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities.

The purpose of our audit work and to whom we owe our responsibilities

This report is made solely to the Company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the Company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to

As part of a regular assessment of the Company's performance and net current liability position, the directors have assessed the performance of its investments, the risks and associated mitigating actions. This includes the expected dividends to be received and that the Company is a participant in a cash pooling arrangement where it is able to access funds to meet its short-term liquidity needs. In addition, the directors noted that intercompany loans are always reassessed on a Moody's group basis, which includes the option to refinance loans where required. Therefore, the directors believe the Company is well placed to manage its risks and have assessed that there is a reasonable expectation that adequate financial resources will continue to be available for the foreseeable future. For this reason, it continues to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements.

2.4 Functional and presentation currency

These financial statements are presented in sterling ("£"), which is the Company's functional currency.

2.5 New accounting standards applied during the current year

No new accounting standards have been applied during the year.

3 SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The accounting policies set out below have, unless otherwise stated, been applied consistently to all periods presented in these financial statements.

3.1 Investments in subsidiaries

Initial and subsequent recognition

Investments in subsidiaries are initially recognised at cost (being the fair value of the consideration given) on the date when the Company acquires control of the subsidiary. Control exists when the Company is exposed, or has the rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee.

Subsequent to initial recognition, the investments in subsidiaries continue to be recognised at cost less impairment, if any.

Derecognition

Investments in subsidiaries are derecognised on the date the parent loses control of the underlying entities. The difference between carrying amounts and proceeds received is recognised in the Statement of comprehensive income and classified as other non-operating income/(expenses), net.

3.2 Taxation

Current income tax expense

Current income tax expense is measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. Corporate income tax payable on taxable profits is recognised as an expense in the period in which the profits arise. Current tax is measured using tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

MOODY'S HOLDINGS LIMITED
NOTES

Current income tax expense relating to items recognised directly in equity is recognised in equity and not in the Statement of comprehensive income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised using the statement of financial position method, providing for temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes.

Deferred tax is not recognised for the following temporary differences: the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither the accounting nor taxable profit or loss, and differences relating to investments in subsidiaries and jointly controlled entities to the extent that it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future. In addition, deferred tax is not recognised for taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to be applied to temporary differences when they reverse, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are only offset when there is both a legally enforceable right to set-off and an intention to settle on a net basis.

A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised.

3.3 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash in hand and deposits held at call with banks with an original maturity of 90 days or less.

The Company is a participant in a cash management pooling system and as a result all cash is transferred to a centralised pool account managed by Moody's Group UK Limited, a fellow subsidiary of Moody's Group. Therefore, cash deposited in the cash pool has been classified as amounts due from group undertakings.

3.4 Financial instruments

The Company recognises the financial instruments when it becomes a party to the contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Financial assets

All financial assets, except as mentioned otherwise in the accounting policy, are measured initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not measured at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset.

The Company classifies financial assets as subsequently measured at amortised cost or fair value through profit or loss on the basis of its business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual cash flows characteristics of the financial asset.

MOODY'S HOLDINGS LIMITED
For the year ended 31 December 2021

- Financial assets at amortised cost:

Financial assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortised cost. Examples of such financial assets include intercompany loans.

- Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (FVPL):

Financial assets which are not classified in amortised cost and other comprehensive income category are subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss. Examples of such financial assets are derivatives.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are measured initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs. Financial liabilities are classified either at amortised cost or fair value through profit and loss. Financial liabilities at amortised cost include intercompany loans, borrowings, trade and other payables. Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss include financial liabilities held for trading.

Financial assets are derecognised when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or when the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards are transferred.

The gain or loss arising from the derecognition of financial instruments shall be determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds, if any, and the carrying amount. The gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in the Statement of comprehensive income and classified as other non-operating income/(expenses), net.

Interest income on loans

Interest income on loans is recognised using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. When a loan amount is impaired, the Company reduces the carrying amount of the instrument to its recoverable amount, being the estimated future cash flows discounted at the original EIR of the instrument, and continues unwinding the discount as interest income on loans.

3.5 Impairment

Financial assets

The Company uses the expected credit losses (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on its financial assets. Credit losses are measured as the present value of all cash shortfalls. The maximum period considered when estimating ECLs is the maximum contractual period over which the Company is exposed to credit risk.

Non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount.

An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit ("CGU") fair value less costs to sell and its value-in-use and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. In assessing value-in-use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs to sell, recent market transactions are taken into account, if available. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used. These calculations are corroborated by valuation multiples, quoted share prices for publicly traded entities or other available fair value indicators.

For the year ended 31 December 2021

3.6 Foreign currency transactions

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded by the Company at the functional currency rates prevailing at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the functional currency spot rate of exchange ruling at the reporting date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates as at the dates of the initial transactions. All foreign exchange differences are recognised in the Statement of comprehensive income and are included in operating expenses.

3.7 Revenue

Dividend income is recognised when the right to receive the payment has been established. This is disclosed as revenue on the Statement of comprehensive income.

4 SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING JUDGMENTS, ESTIMATES AND ASSUMPTIONS

The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the disclosures of contingent liabilities, at the end of reporting period. However, uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of the asset or liability recorded in future periods.

The Company reviews the estimates and underlying assumptions on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised.

4.1 Impairment

The Company bases its impairment calculation on detailed budgets and forecast calculations, which are prepared separately for each of the Company's investments to which the individual assets are allocated. These budgets and forecast calculations generally cover a period of five years. For longer periods, a long-term growth rate is calculated and applied to project future cash flows after the fifth year. An impairment loss is recognised if the carrying amount of an investment exceeds its estimated recoverable amount. Impairment losses are recognised in the Statement of comprehensive income.
