1 ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of preparing the financial statements

The accounts have been prepared on a going concern basis in expectation that the company will have sufficient funding to be able to continue its operations for the foreseeable future. At 31 December 2010 the company had net liabilities of £258,924 and had made a loss for the year of £130,206. The company's available cash resources are limited but the company has received financial support from a shareholder, White Rose Technology Limited in the form of shareholder loans and through the issue of equity shares.

Subsequent to the year end the company has received further funding of £7,500 from further shareholder loans and has received further grant payments. In addition, the company is securing new commercial contracts and is predicting further revenue growth during the next 12 months which is expected to generate positive cash flows. The directors are confident that they can control expenditure in such a way as to ensure that the company has sufficient resources for the foreseeable future.

Consequently the directors believe that the company will have sufficient working capital available to it over the next 12 months and therefore they believe it is appropriate to prepare the accounts on the going concern basis.

Accounting convention

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard for Smaller Entities (effective April 2008).

Turnover

Turnover represents net invoiced sales of goods and services, excluding value added tax.

Tangible fixed assets

Depreciation is provided at the following annual rates in order to write off each asset over its estimated useful life.

Plant and machinery etc - 33% on cost

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is provided in full on timing differences which result in an obligation at the balance sheet date to pay more tax, or a right to pay less tax, at a future date, at rates expected to apply when they crystallise based on current tax rates and laws. Timing differences arise from the inclusion of items of income and expenditure in taxation computations in periods different from those in which they are included in the financial statements. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is regarded as more likely than not that they will be recovered. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted.

Research and development

Research expenditure undertaken with the prospect of gaining new scientific or technical knowledge and understanding is recognised in the profit and loss account as an expense as incurred.

Expenditure on development activities, whereby research findings are applied for the production of new or substantially improved products and processes, is capitalised if the product or process is technically and commercially feasible and the company has sufficient resources to complete development. Amortisation is charged to the profit and loss account on a straight line basis over the useful economic life of the activity.

Hire purchase and leasing commitments

Rentals paid under operating leases are charged to the profit and loss account on a straight line basis over the period of the lease.

Grants receivable

Grants receivable are recognised as income for the period in which the corresponding expenditure, on which they are based, is incurred and recognised.

On 2 February 2010 670 preference shares of £1 each (total nominal value £670) were issued at a price of £37.31 per share for total cash consideration of £25,000. The purpose of the share issue was to provide working capital to the company.

The ordinary shares carry one vote per share.

The White Rose share carries no right to dividends, the right to receive the sum of £1 in preference to any repayment of capital on the ordinary shares on a winding up and certain voting rights in the event that there is any default by the company in the repayment of any monies or loans by the company to White Rose Technology Limited in accordance with the terms of an investment agreement dated 6 December 2001.

The preference shares have no voting rights. They are entitled to receive dividends on a pari passu basis with the ordinary shares. They are entitled to a preferred payment of £37.30 per share on a winding up or return of capital, thereafter they rank pari passu with the ordinary shares. The preference shares are not redeemable.
