Reading Real Estate Foundation

Trustees' Report

The trustees of Reading Real Estate Foundation ('the charity') present their report and the audited financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 July 2020.

Structure and legal status

The charity is registered with the Charity Commission and is also a private company limited by guarantee. It was registered on 4 January 2002 in England and is governed by its memorandum and articles of association. The exemptions for small companies have been taken in relation to the strategic and trustees' report. Each member of the charity's liability is limited to £1 in the event of winding up. The sole member is currently the University of Reading ('the University'). The names of the members of the Council of the University can be obtained from its financial statements. Details about the trust are disclosed on page 3.

The trustees, who are also directors for company law purposes, are listed on page 3. As set out in the articles of association, new trustees may be appointed by an ordinary resolution of members or by a decision of the trustees. They have no fixed term of appointment. They receive a copy of 'The Essential Trustee: What you need to know' and receive a copy of the charity's memorandum and articles of association. The University has the right to nominate a majority of the trustees. None of the trustees held any disclosable interest in the charity.

Objectives and aims

The objective of the charity is the advancement of education in the art and science of real estate at the University.

The aims of the charity are:

- to strengthen the links between the Department of Real Estate and Planning at the University and the Real Estate industry through an active and engaged alumni community;
- to help support and develop the quality of real estate education at the University; and
- to help maintain the position of the University as a centre of excellence for real estate education and research and to raise awareness of this worldwide.

The strategic approach to achieving these aims is led by the Board of Trustees made up of representatives from the real estate industry, Henley Business School and the University of Reading. Through close collaboration with the Department of Real Estate & Planning and through the Board of Trustees' subcommittees, which are run by volunteers who are leaders in the industry, the charity develops and delivers activities that serve the purpose of enhancing education and research and strengthening links with the industry.

Operation of the charity

The Board of Trustees meets three times per year to oversee the running of the charity. The Management Group meet more regularly to conduct the business of the charity. The Management Group comprises the Executive Director, Jean-Pierre Choulet, who has general oversight of the charity and Kerry Johnston who leads the charity on a day-to-day basis.

A budget is set for each academic year setting out the income and expenditure targets for the charity, including specific targets for certain projects. The income budget is broken down by type of income (i.e. fundraising and events), whilst the expenditure budget includes specific targets for areas such as bursaries & awards, student activities, research and academic support and events. These targets are presented to the Board of Trustees at the start of the academic year with progress updates provided at each meeting.

The Management Group meets regularly to:

- monitor income, expenditure and targets for the year;
- ensure that best practice guidelines are achieved as agreed by the Board of Trustees; and
- ensure that Charity Commission standards are complied with.

The Management Group keeps overheads and expenses not directly related to a particular event or educational activity to a minimum.

Policy for awarding grants, scholarships and bursaries

The charity awards grants, scholarships and bursaries to students of the Department of Real Estate and Planning at the University. The Disbursement Committee meets at least twice a year to review applications and to award funds. Applications are carefully reviewed according to agreed guidelines. Awards adhere to levels for each individual; agreed with the Board of Trustees. The Committee is chaired by Cathy Hughes (Head of Department for Real Estate & Planning, Henley Business School, and RREF Trustee) and key staff from the Department of Real Estate & Planning.

Political donations

The charity made no political donations in the current or previous year.

Sources of funding

The charity receives funding from corporate sponsors and patrons as well as individual donors including alumni. It also generates income from fundraising events.

Review of activities and financial performance

The charity recorded net income of £18,445 for the year to 31 July 2020 (2019: deficit of £38,731).

Total income for the year was £592,951 (2019: £722,536) which included a donation of £94,569 from the University (£81,044 in respect of staff salaries and £13,525 in respect of rent).

Income from grants and donations decreased by £79,815. This is primarily due to a one-off donation of £62,717 having been received in the prior year (2019) to the David Robins Town and Country Planning Research Fund, set up in the memory of alumnus David Robins, to support the development of outstanding research in Town and Country Planning at the School of Real Estate & Planning. Pathways to Property income totalled £272,600 (2019: £258,250). However, continued difficult trading conditions in the Real Estate industry did not allow for a growth in financial support in other areas. This is an area the Management Group has under review, with plans in place to revise expenditure/commitments as appropriate.

Activities for generating funds, such as events, raised £840 (2019: £47,965), with the difference primarily being due to the delivery of the RREF Annual (Gala) Dinner, the main fundraising event, in the prior period. In addition, restrictions on face-to-face activities because of COVID-19 prevented a number of events from taking place.

Total expenditure for the year was £574,506 compared to £761,267 in 2019, due mainly to a decrease in awards, grants and bursaries to £135,931 (2019: £182,973); a decrease in the Pathways to Property expenditure including staff costs to £163,595 (2019: £237,970); and no expenditure associated with the Annual Dinner (2019: £39,975).

To further the objectives of the charity as outlined on page 4, the charity continued to deliver on key initiatives such as the Mentoring Programme with support from alumni and professionals in the real estate and planning industry. The charity also continued to support activities such as Mock Assessment Days and Careers Evenings with alumni, alongside the annual Real Estate and Planning Careers Fair and evening lecture series. This has contributed to the continuing development of the curriculum and the ongoing ability of the University to produce highly employable Real Estate and Planning graduates. During the year, the charity continued to support an initiative focused on resilience to support students in the area of mental health.

The charity continues to build on the successful Pathways to Property project, now in its eight year, in partnership with over 20 other real estate firms, with the objective of widening access to the Real Estate industry and raising awareness of Real Estate as a profession and subject of study. In July 2020, 97 students (2019: 99 students) participated in the eighth Pathways to Property Summer School. This year, due to the restrictions in place, the event was held online with content spanning 3 days, and including taster lectures, virtual site visits, careers advice and university life sessions as well as a group project.

Financial position and reserves

The charity had net current assets of £1,098,428 at 31 July 2020 (2019: £1,079,983). The amount owed to the charity by the University at 31 July 2020 was £1,110,923 (2019: £1,125,580).

The trustees aim to retain a reserve for committed costs, such as the ongoing provision of bursaries and awards, and for protection against fluctuations in income. A period of twelve months has been adopted as an appropriate minimum level of reserves.

The total reserves of the charity at 31 July 2020 were £1,098,428 (2019: £1,079,983). This included restricted funds of £736,977 (2019: £664,298) in respect of Pathways to Property, the George Fiennes Bursary and other restricted donations. Unrestricted funds totalled £361,451 (2019: £415,685).

Public benefit

The trustees of the charity have due regard to the Charity Commission's public benefit guidance. All charities must have charitable purposes and apply them for the public benefit. The charity's core charitable purpose is to support and develop the quality of real estate education and research at the University. Key activities in the year to ensure the delivery of core objectives included:

- the provision of bursaries to students in financial need and grants to students suffering hardship;
- events to strengthen the link between industry and the Department of Real Estate and Planning;
- organising seminars and a series of evening lectures in which industry speakers gave students insight into the real estate industry and prevailing market issues;
- expanding the membership of the charity's mentoring scheme network through which members are encouraged to offer expert advice and guidance to students;
- raising awareness of real estate as a profession to a wider audience of school and college pupils in state schools.

Fundraising

The charity has a fundraising strategy aimed at delivering its fundraising targets through different streams of income, mainly corporate fundraising and individual fundraising. Funds raised during the year (excluding donations from the University) totalled £492,844 against a target of £496,728 and the previous year's total of £570,995.

Fundraising activities are carried out by professional fundraisers within the charity and by volunteers managed by the charity. No commercial participators are engaged. The charity does not undertake any mass fundraising activities aimed at the general public. Individuals approached for fundraising purposes are typically already engaged with the charity and are under no undue pressure to donate. During the year 461 volunteers assisted the charity in its fundraising and mentoring efforts by providing generally several hours of service each.

The individual heading the charity's fundraising function, under the management of the charity's Executive Director, is a member of the Institute of Fundraising and holds a Certificate in Fundraising awarded by the Institute of Fundraising.

The internal fundraising function of the charity is under the management of the charity's Executive Director. The Executive Director is also a member of the Development Committee, a body comprising volunteer fundraisers, chaired by one of the charity's trustees.

No complaints were received by the charity in respect of fundraising during the year.

Risk management

The trustees give due consideration to the major risks to which the charity is exposed, in particular those related to operations and finances. The trustees are satisfied that systems are in place to mitigate exposure to the major risks.

The loss of funding from major corporate patrons is the main risk which would reduce the charity's income. To alleviate this risk, the charity continually uses the alumni sub-boards and committees to drive activities forward and to recruit supporters and sponsors. The charity continues to improve the events and activities that it organises in order to continue drawing in funding, and sponsorships.

Plans for future periods

The charity plans to continue with the current student initiatives and bursary funding. Alongside this, the management team is currently identifying potential areas of future support and funding in the areas of teaching & learning, research initiatives and international opportunities for students.

The Pathways to Property Project Board is currently reviewing project activity with a view to expanding the reach of the project. A focus for the project is to increase the number of students going on to study or work in property after attending the summer school, and to develop a community of students who have been through the programme in order that they may support each other as they enter the industry.

More broadly, the charity is developing opportunities to engage with smaller organisations and start-ups, both financially and through volunteering, in order to ensure it can adapt its activities and stay relevant to a changing industry.

All of our plans for the future will be dependent to a certain extent, on the ending of the current new country-wide lockdown introduced as a response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Going Concern

The charity has significant unrestricted reserves accumulated from historical surpluses and it has net current assets. The trustees do not believe that any material uncertainties exist as to the ability of the charity to continue as a going concern for the foreseeable future.

In January 2021, the COVID-19 pandemic resulted in a new country-wide lockdown affecting economic activity in the UK. This has been treated as a non-adjusting post balance sheet event.

Statement of disclosure of information to auditor

The trustees who held office at the date of approval of this report confirm that, so far as they are each aware, there is no relevant audit information of which the charity's auditor is unaware; and each trustee has taken all the steps that he/she ought to have taken as a trustee to make him/herself aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the charity's auditor is aware of that information. Pursuant to Section 487 of the Companies Act 2006, the auditor will be deemed to be reappointed and Deloitte LLP will therefore continue in office.

Statement of trustees' responsibilities

The trustees (who are also directors of Reading Real Estate Foundation for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice) including FRS 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland".

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- make judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

In so far as the trustees are aware:

- there is no relevant audit information of which the charitable company's auditor is unaware; and
- the trustees have taken all steps that they ought to have taken to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the auditor is aware of that information.

Independent auditor's report to the members of Reading Real Estate Foundation

Report on the audit of the financial statements

Opinion

In our opinion the financial statements of Reading Real Estate Foundation (the 'charitable company'):

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charitable company's affairs as at 31 July 2020 and of its incoming resources and application of resources, including its income and expenditure, for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice, including Financial Reporting Standard 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland"; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

We have audited the financial statements which comprise:

- the statement of financial activities (including income and expenditure account);
- the balance sheet; and
- the related notes 1 to 17.

The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including Financial Reporting Standard 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland" (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report.

We are independent of the charitable company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the Financial Reporting Council's (the 'FRC's') Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

We are required by ISAs (UK) to report in respect of the following matters where:

- the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in preparation of the financial statements is not appropriate; or
- the trustees have not disclosed in the financial statements any identified material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt about the charitable company's ability to continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting for a period of at least twelve months from the date when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

We have nothing to report in respect of these matters.

Reading Real Estate Foundation

Other information

The trustees are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in respect of these matters.

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the statement of trustees' responsibilities, the trustees (who are also the directors of the charitable company for the purpose of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the charitable company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the FRC's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Report on other legal and regulatory requirements

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of the audit:

- the information given in the trustees' report, which includes the directors' report prepared for the purposes of company law for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the directors' report included within the trustees' report has been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified any material misstatements in the directors' report included within the trustees' report.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

Under the Companies Act 2006 we are required to report in respect of the following matters if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit; or
- the trustees were not entitled to take advantage of the small companies' exemption in preparing the trustees' report and from the requirement to prepare a strategic report.

We have nothing to report in respect of these matters.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charitable company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charitable company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company and the charitable company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Notes to the financial statements

1. Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (Charities SORP (FRS 102)) effective from 1 January 2019, the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) and the Companies Act 2006.

The charity meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102, is incorporated in England and Wales as a company limited by guarantee not having a share capital. There are currently thirteen Trustees. The sole member of the company is the University. Each member's liability in the event of winding up is limited to £1. The charity is a registered charity. The registered office is given on page 3.

Assets and liabilities are initially recognised at historical cost or transaction value. The financial statements have been prepared on the going concern basis which the trustees believe to be appropriate.

A summary of the primary accounting policies is set out below:

a. Income

Income is recognised when the charity is entitled to the funds, any performance conditions attached to the item(s) of income have been met, it is probable that the income will be received, and the amount can be measured reliably.

Grant income is recognised when the charity is entitled to the funds and any performance-related conditions have been met. Income received in advance of performance-related conditions is deferred on the balance sheet and released in line with such conditions being met.

Donation income is a type of non-exchange transaction without performance-related conditions. Donations are recognised as income when the charity is entitled to the funds. Where donations have donor-imposed restrictions, they are recognised as income when the charity is entitled to the funds and the income is retained within a restricted reserve until such time as it is utilised in line with the restrictions. The charity takes an exemption from providing the names of grant recipients, and the amounts of such grants, during the lifetime of the settlor who donated the funds from which the grants are paid, or during the lifetime of any spouse or civil partner of the settlor.

Donated professional services and donated facilities are recognised as income when the charity has control over the item, any conditions associated with the donated item have been met, the receipt of economic benefit from the use by the charity of the item is probable and that economic benefit can be measured reliably. On receipt, donated professional services and donated facilities are recognised on the basis of the value of the gift to the charity which is the amount the charity would have been willing to pay to obtain services or facilities of equivalent economic benefit on the open market. A corresponding amount is then recognised in expenditure in the period of receipt. In accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102), time given by volunteers is not recognised as income.

Income received in advance for specific events is deferred until the time of the event.

Interest receivable is credited to the statement of financial activities on a receivable basis.

1. Accounting policies (continued)

b. Expenditure

Expenditure is recognised once there is a legal or constructive obligation to make a payment to a third party, it is probable that settlement will be required, and the amount of the obligation can be measured reliably.

Where possible, expenditure is allocated to the fundraising or charitable activity to which it relates. Staff costs are included within expenditure on charitable activities since most of their time is spent on these activities. Other support costs which assist the work of the charity but do not directly relate to identifiable charitable activities are classified as other expenditure.

Short-term employment benefits such as salaries and compensated absences are recognised as an expense in the period in which the employees render service to the charity. Any unused benefits are accrued and measured as the additional amount the charity expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement.

Contributions to defined contribution pension schemes are recognised as an expense in the period during which services are rendered by employees. Differences between contributions payable in the year and contributions actually paid are shown as accruals in the balance sheet.

Other long-term employee benefits are measured at the present value of the benefit obligation at the reporting date.

c. Tax

The charity is considered to pass the tests set out in Paragraph 1 of Schedule 6 of the Finance Act 2010 and therefore it meets the definition of a charitable company for UK corporation tax purposes. Accordingly, the charity is potentially exempt from taxation in respect of income or capital gains received within categories covered by Chapter 3 of Part 11 of the Corporation Tax Act 2010 or Section 256 of the Taxation of Chargeable Gains Act 1992, to the extent that such income or gains are applied exclusively to charitable purposes.

The charity is partially exempt in respect of Value Added Tax, so that it can only recover a minor element of VAT charged on its inputs. Irrecoverable VAT on inputs is included in the costs of such inputs.

1. Accounting policies (continued)

d. Fund accounting

Unrestricted funds are funds which are available to spend on activities that further the objectives of the charity. Designated funds are unrestricted funds of the charity which the trustees have decided at their discretion to set aside to use for a specific purpose. Restricted funds are funds which are to be used in accordance with specific restrictions imposed by either the donor or by the terms of an appeal for funds. The costs of raising and administering such funds are charged against the specific fund.

e. Financial instruments

Trade and other debtors are recognised at the settlement amount due after any trade discount offered. Prepayments are valued at the amount prepaid net of any trade discounts due. Cash at bank and cash in hand includes cash and short term highly liquid investments with a short maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition or opening of the deposit or similar account. Creditors and provisions are recognised where the charity has a present obligation resulting from a past event that will probably result in the transfer of funds to a third party and the amount due to settle the obligation can be measured or estimated reliably. Creditors and provisions are normally recognised at their settlement amount after allowing for any trade discounts due.

f. Liabilities

A liability is recognised where the charity has a present obligation to act or perform in a particular way. The obligation may be either a legal obligation or a constructive obligation. Where there is uncertainty over the amount or timing of a liability, it is classified as a provision. All other liabilities are classified as creditors.

2. Critical accounting judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

In preparing financial statements, judgements have to be made in determining the most appropriate methods of applying the charity's accounting policies to the economic transactions which arise during the year. It is also necessary to make assumptions about the future in determining the values of assets and liabilities at the balance sheet date. The trustees believe there are no areas where critical accounting judgements are required and there are no areas of estimation uncertainty.
