Strategic Report for the Year Ended 31 December 2020

The directors present their strategic report for the year ended 31 December 2020.

Principal activity

The principal activity of the company is to exploit and protect its brand which remains owned by the company.

Fair review of the business

Royalty income for the year amounted to £299,000 (2019: £316,000). The loss for the financial year amounted to £55,000 (2019: £54,000). Dividends totalling £nil (2019: £nil) were paid during the year. The net asset position of the company at year end was £1,755,000 (2019: £1,810,000).

Principal risks and uncertainties

As the company earns royalty income from the use of its brand by other group companies, it is not exposed to any significant external risks or uncertainties other than indirectly through the performance of those other group companies.

Financial risk management

The company's operations do not expose it to significant risk with regards to price or credit risk because it has no trade with parties outside of the Danone group. However, the company is exposed to the following financial risks: foreign exchange risk and liquidity risk.

Foreign exchange risk

The company is exposed to foreign exchange risk, principally in respect of retranslating a portion of the royalties which are received in Euros. Although its exposure is unhedged in the company, there will be offsetting gains and losses in a fellow group undertaking such that there is minimal overall exposure to the Danone group.

Liquidity risk

Debt and cash balances predominantly relate to amounts payable to and receivable from fellow group undertakings. Such balances are managed to ensure the company has sufficient available funds for its operations.

Approved by the Board on 27/09/2021

Directors' Report for the Year Ended 31 December 2020

The directors present their report and the unaudited financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2020.

Directors' of the company

The directors of the company who were in office during the year and up to the date of signing the financial statements were as follows:

R D J Phillips (resigned 19 August 2020)

A J Cuadra (appointed 19 August 2020)

Dividends

The directors recommend a dividend of £nil in respect of the year ended 31 December 2020 (2019: £nil).

Future developments

The directors do not expect there to be a significant change to the company's activities.

Going concern

In the prior year, the directors reviewed the future purpose of the company giving rise to uncertainty over the going concern status. A possible outcome of the review would have resulted in a transfer of assets and liabilities to another group company in order to dissolve the company. As such, the prior year financial statements were prepared on a basis other than going concern and all assets and liabilities were presented as current. In the current year, following the completion of the review, the directors have a reasonable expectation that the company has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. For this reason, they adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements.

Third Party Indemnity Provision

Qualifying third party indemnity insurance is provided by Danone SA, the ultimate parent company and was in place for all directors during 2020 and continues to be in place at the date of signing the financial statements.

Audit Exemption Statement

For the year ending 31 December 2020, the company was entitled to exemption from audit under s479A-479C of the Companies Act 2006.

As such, the prior year financial statements were prepared on a basis other than going concern and all assets and liabilities were presented as current. Foreign currency translation

Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the spot exchange rates at the dates of the transactions.

At each period end foreign currency monetary items are translated using the closing rate. Non-monetary items measured at historical cost are translated using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction and non-monetary items measured at fair value are measured using the exchange rate when fair value is determined.

Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from settlement of transactions and from translation at period-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income except when deferred in other comprehensive income as qualifying cash flow hedges.

Foreign exchange gains and losses that relate to borrowings and cash and cash equivalents are presented in the Statement of Comprehensive Income with 'finance income or costs'. All other foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in the income statement within 'other operating income'.

Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of the company are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the company operates ('the functional currency'). The financial statements are presented in 'pound sterling' (\mathfrak{L}) which is also the company's functional currency.

Tax

The tax expense for the period comprises current tax. Tax is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income, except that a change attributable to an item of income or expense recognised as other comprehensive income is also recognised directly in other comprehensive income.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date in the countries where the company operates and generates taxable income.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets are measured at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Brands are amortised on a straight line basis to the Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income over their useful economic life.

The assets' residual values, useful lives and amortisation methods are reviewed and adjusted prospectively if appropriate, or if there is an indication of a significant change since the last reporting date.

Amortisation

Asset class Brands Amortisation method and rate 24.29 straight line years

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and call deposits, and other short-term highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Trade receivables

Trade receivables are recognised initially at the transaction price. They are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment. A provision for the impairment of trade receivables is established when there is objective evidence that the company will not be able to collect all amounts due according to the original terms of the receivables.

Loans and receivables are classified at fair value through the statement of comprehensive income.

Trade payables

Trade payables are obligations to pay for goods or services that have been acquired in the ordinary course of business from suppliers. Accounts payable are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within one year or less (or in the normal operating cycle of the business if longer). If not, they are presented as non-current liabilities.

Trade payables are recognised initially at the transaction price and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Equity instruments are measured at the fair value of the cash or other resources received or receivable, net of the direct costs of issuing the equity instruments. If payment is deferred and the time value of money is material, the initial measurement is on a present value basis.

Dividends

Dividend income is recognised when the right to receive payment is established.

3 Critical accounting judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The company makes estimations and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are addressed as follows.

Impairment of non-financial assets

Non-financial assets not ready to use are not subject to amortisation and are testing annually for impairment. Assets that are subject to amortisation are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. For the purpose of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are largely independent cash inflows (cash-generating units). Prior impairments on non-financial assets (other than goodwill) are reviewed for possible reversal at each reporting date.

See note 8 for further details regarding assumptions.

Changes to the UK corporation tax rates were announced in the Finance Bill 2016. These included reductions to the main rate to 19% from 1 April 2017 and to 17% from 1 April 2020. It should be noted that subsequent to the balance sheet date, the UK government enacted a change to the future tax rate; as per the Finance Act 2020, which now stands at 19%. Deferred taxes at the balance sheet date have been measured using the enacted tax rates at which they are expected to unwind and these have been reflected in the financial statements.

In order to review the carrying value of the brand, management has applied a value in use calculation based on the future cash flows of the business.

The cash flows used to determine the value in use of the cash generating units ('CGUs') are derived from the annual budgets and strategic plans of the CGUs, which are drawn up by management and cover a period of three years, and are extended, on the basis of the most recent forecasts, to eight years. The company uses projections over eight years to better reflect the divisions growth over this period. This is in line with the Danone SA group policy.

Future cash flow beyond these periods are extrapolated using a long-term growth for the division as a whole;

- The operational assumptions used to calculate the terminal value are in line with the above in terms of cash flows: and
- The long-term growth rate is determined by taking into account its average growth trend and its geographic area (macro-economic environment, demographics etc).

The weighted average terminal growth rate applied is 0%.

The post-tax weighted average cost of capital ('WACC') is 7.5%
