Review of activities

Much of our year was spent in preparing, with help from the club, for projects which would help us serve the enormous interest in the club's history and identity. The pandemic brought those projects to a halt. It also hindered some aspects of our cataloguing and research work but past efforts to create reliable systems and procedures meant we were able to progress.

The responses of football's governing bodies to the pandemic have emphasised a divergence from former values. Our year ended with the game intended to resume as televised entertainment but with an enforced severance of clubs from the communities of which they are formed and which they were created to serve. Matches are to be played in private; an indication of a change in purpose. Trustees are mindful of the need to broaden the understanding and appreciation of the dynamics which helped create, shape and sustain our professional football club. It is not only objects which warrant our care. Our efforts continue.

Financial results

The results for the year are set out on page 5 of the financial statements.

Nothing has occurred since the balance sheet date that would significantly affect the understanding of these financial statements.

Reserves policy

Unrestricted

The charitable company's unrestricted reserves are represented, in the majority, by cash at bank and in hand. Due to fluctuations in income, the trustees consider that unrestricted reserves should be sufficient to cover the charitable company's planned expenditure for a period of six months.

Risk management

The trustees have assessed the major risks to which the charitable company is exposed, in particular those related to the operations and finances of the charitable company. Systems have been established to ensure that risks are identified and reviewed on a regular basis and that procedures are in place to mitigate their effect.

Statement of trustees' responsibilities

United Kingdom company and charity law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial period which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and its financial activities during the year then ended. In preparing these financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue its activities

The trustees are responsible for maintaining proper accounting records, safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.
