3. ACCOUNTING POLICIES - continued

Tax

Tax for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in the Income Statement, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity.

Current or deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted.

Current tax is recognised at the amount of tax payable using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the statement of financial position date.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all material timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the statement of financial position date.

Timing differences arise from the inclusion of income and expenses in tax assessments in periods different from those in which they are recognised in financial statements. Deferred tax is measured using tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the year end and that are expected to apply to the reversal of the timing difference.

Unrelieved tax losses and other deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that they will be recovered against the reversal of deferred tax liabilities or other future taxable profits.

Going concern

The director has assessed the Balance sheet and likely future cash flows at the date of approving these financial statements. During the year, the rapid spreading of COVID-19 has become a significant emerging risk to the global economy. The director continues to monitor the impact of the virus on the business as more information about the pandemic emerges. The director is confident that the company has sufficient funds available to meet liabilities as they fall due within the next 12 months; however the director acknowledges that the position is changing day by day meaning forecasting is difficult.
