OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

Academic research and collaborative working led by Professors Patricia Broadfoot CBE and Guy Claxton within the Graduate School of Education, University of Bristol, culminated in the establishment of Vital Partnerships Ltd as a charity in September 2004. The objectives of their collaboration were to determine what makes some people more effective lifelong learners than others, to characterise those with strong 'learning power' and to create a profiling instrument and methodology appropriate to the wider application of learning techniques. The instrument resulting from the research team's work under Professor Broadfoot's guidance is the Effective Lifelong Learning Inventory (ELLI).

The purposes of the charity are:

- " to advance personal achievement and performance not only throughout the education sector but among disenfranchised and indigenous communities and those seeking not only to improve their levels of engagement in the workplace but also to enrich their daily lives;
- " to inspire and create culture change;
- " to encourage the adoption of learning for life; and
- " to provide those who become learning enablers to better understand their role, develop their own learning relationships and create the conditions in which their students feel sufficiently confident to take responsibility for their own learning.

Our principal objectives are ambitious:

- " to create a 'learning culture' within those communities and organisations whose lack of learning power is seriously impeding their socio-economic progress and leading to environmental destruction, political upheaval and humanitarian disaster;
- " to enhance the effectiveness of learners throughout the educational establishment, businesses, government and communities globally;
- " to generate funds for further research into the dimensions of learning power;
- " to adopt new research-validated instruments that resonate with our audiences and add value to their learning journeys

Significant activities

In 2011, Vital Partnerships Limited created a subsidiary trading company - Vital Partnerships Professional Services Ltd (VPPS), because the charity was limited in its ability to meet ELLI's trading opportunities. VPPS had been trading almost exclusively in the education sector. In 2015, with a requirement to update its technical platform, the charity sold 51% of its shares in VPPS to its technical partner, The People's Cooperative Ltd (TPCL). Disappointing trading results and lack of marketing endeavour led to both parties selling their shares to Pathways to Learning Ltd (P2L), which now holds the comprehensive license agreement to trade ELLI, protects its intellectual property and governs the operation of VPPS in all markets. Since 2015, P2L had been trading ELLI most particularly in the business and government market sectors.

P2L's own consultancy and trading activities have been transferred into a more robust VPPS, which is expected to return a revenue stream to the charity in due course and so enable the charity to develop its work.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Financial position

The charity received no funding during the year and incurred no expenses.

As a consequence of the lack of an income stream over recent years, the charity has focused on monitoring the activities of its licensees. Nonetheless, with the changes in the ownership and management of VPPS, it is the hope and expectation of the trustees that the charity will be able to re-engage in activities directed towards meeting its objectives.

Reserves policy

The charity has been unable to build sufficient reserves to create the small surplus that would enable it to cover its usual operating costs.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

Vital Partnerships Limited is a company limited by guarantee, governed by its Memorandum and Articles of Association dated 14 July 2004. It is registered as a charity with the Charity Commission (charity number 1105805). Membership of the charity is at the discretion of the trustees.

Appointment of trustees

At each annual general meeting, one third of the trustees retire from office. Retiring trustees may be reappointed. New trustees must be recommended by trustees or be proposed by members.

Trustees have been appointed on the basis of the expertise that they can bring to the Board. All trustees have management and leadership experience across the educational establishment and offer extensive experience of the upholding of charitable values.

Organisation

The Board of Trustees, which must be three or more, administers the charity. The Board meets at least three times each year and more frequently should the necessity arise. Two of the trustees, including the Chairperson, have been given executive responsibilities for the management of day to day operations. The Trustees offer their support to the operating company when their professional expertise is called upon.

The Board of Trustees is the custodian of the licence for the commercial and academic implementation of ELLI and licenses that responsibility to its trading partner Pathways to Learning Ltd. The Board of Trustees is responsible for setting the strategies and policies for the charity, its integrity and ensuring that its purposes are upheld.

The charity had no employees in the year..

STATEMENT OF TRUSTEES' RESPONSIBILITIES

The trustees (who are also the directors of Vital Partnerships Ltd for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Report of the Trustees and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the trustees are required to

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charity SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.
