HG depression training days for GPs

A generous donation to the Human Givens Foundation by the Corbin family, in memory of their daughter Philippa, has created an opportunity whereby GPs can be offered a grounding in the HG model of depression, including the new understandings about inflammation, along with practical information as to how the HG approach can be applied within a short GP consultation.

Seminars are being offered through the auspices of existing GP training organisations, as these are trusted providers of GP education and events advertised by these organisations will reach doctors that might not be aware of the HG approach. The funding from the Corbins and friends via the HGF enables provision of these seminars as part of GPs' annual professional training, free of pharmaceutical representatives.

The first training event in Bath was attended by 28 GPs and extremely well received, with 90% of attendees rating the course and content "excellent". One GP wrote: "this meeting deserves high praise, it was a new way of thinking about depression for me and feels like it has opened up lots of doors". Another commented "This was an amazing course, almost life changing. The ideas in Humans Givens really resonated with me and my experiences with patients and myself. I have ordered some books, and may even be interested in the diploma in the future."

A further event took place in Dorset during March 2019, and approaches are being made to GP education organisations in the South West, London, Lancashire, Scotland and Ireland. The intention is to make this seminar available to as wide a range of GPs around the UK and Eire as possible.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT

For the year ended 31 January 2019

I report on the accounts of Human Givens Foundation Limited for the year ended 31 January 2019, registered charity number 1108432, which are set out on pages 6 to 8.

Respective Responsibilities of Trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees (who are also directors of the company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 (the Charities Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the Charities Act,
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5)(b) of the Charities Act), and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of the independent examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with the general directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

THE HUMAN GIVENS FOUNDATION LIMITED

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention to indicate that:

- accounting records have not been kept in accordance with section 386 of the Companies Act 2006;
- the accounts do not accord with such records;
- where accounts are prepared on an accruals basis, whether they fail to comply with relevant accounting requirements under section 396 of the Companies Act 2006, or are not consistent with the Charities SORP (FRS102)
- any matter which the examiner believes should be drawn to the attention of the reader to gain a proper understanding of the accounts.
