10. POST BALANCE SHEET EVENTS

Since the reporting date, the growth of the COVID-19 pandemic across the world has led to some doubts as to whether the company can continue as a going concern for the next twelve months.

Due to the nature of the business, there have been impacts on both the supply chain and ability to trade with customers who are also facing difficulties at this time.

The directors have reviewed budgets and forecasts and although there is an impact on the 2020 performance, this will not significantly impact going concern. Given the level of cash held by the company, reasonable levels of reserves and support of the shareholders, the company is in a position to continue as a going concern for the next twelve months.
