STRATEGIC REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 DECEMBER 2013

PRINCIPAL ACTIVITIES AND BUSINESS REVIEW

The principal activity of the Company is to facilitate the securitisation of a portfolio of mortgage loans by entering into financial arrangements with PMAC 05-1 PLC (the "PLC") enabling the PLC to issue Irish Stock Exchange listed mortgage linked notes. On 22 March 2005, the PLC issued mortgage linked notes amounting to £125.1 million to Deutsche Genossenschafts Hypothekenbank ("DG Hyp") and provided funding to the Company to acquire the portfolio of mortgage loans from Paratus AMC Limited (formerly called GMAC-RFC Limited) ("Paratus" or the "Originator" or the "Loan Servicer"). The mortgage loans are secured on residential properties in England and Wales. Profit for the Company is predetermined as it is entitled to retain 0.01% of the loan interest amount. The profit shown in page 6 represents the actual profit/loss made by the Company after any movements in provision for loan losses during the year.

The market conditions and economic climate were challenging during the year with interest rates continuing to stay at historically low levels. The Company holds a portfolio of mortgage loans which has continued to redeem. The book value of the mortgage loan portfolio is £15,183,218 (2012: £16,021,417). The annualised mortgage redemption rate for 2013 was 7.25% (2012: 6.25%) and the pace of prepayments has decelerated during the year. Interest income on mortgage loans and interest expense on the loan payable, have reduced during the year in line with the redemption of mortgage loans and related loan payable. As mortgage loans repay, principal amounts of the loan payable will redeem on a similar profile and accordingly interest income and expenses are expected to reduce further in future years.

The activities of the Company, the PLC and their holding Company (PMAC Holdings 05-1 Limited) are managed in accordance with the securitisation documents.

PRINCIPAL RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

The Company is a securitisation company which has been structured so as to avoid, as far as possible, significant financial risk. After initial set-up, no significant decisions regarding the risk management of the Company were required or taken by the directors. The provision for loan losses is based wholly or in part on estimates or assumptions made by the directors, taking into consideration the current market and economic conditions. There is, therefore, a risk that this provision may be subject to change in future periods. The Company's policies towards market risk, including interest rate and currency, credit risk and liquidity risk are set out in note 16 to the financial statements.

FINANCIAL KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

The directors monitor quarterly cash flows to ensure that these are sufficient to service the interest and any principal repayments due on the loan payable.

GOING CONCERN

Under the terms of the offering circular, the Company is required to make payments to the PLC to the extent of cash available within the Company. At the end of the securitisation, any losses incurred due to the defaults by the borrowers and resultant cash shortage are absorbed by the PLC and then the note holder of the PLC, DG Hyp at the end of securitisation.

The directors are satisfied that the Company has adequate resources to continue in business for the foreseeable future. In addition, the Company has not breached any redemption triggering events referred to in the transaction documents, nor, based on information currently available, do the directors foresee breaching any triggering events in the next 12 months. ## PMAC FUNDING 05-1 LIMITED

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 2006 (the "Act") and applicable accounting standards (UK GAAP including FRS 26 and related standards). The principal accounting policies are set out below.

The financial statements have been prepared on the going concern basis, under the historical cost convention.

The directors have considered the going concern basis of accounting bearing in mind the Company's liquidity position and the net liabilities shown in the balance sheet. Under the terms of the offering circular, the company is required to make payments to the PLC only to the extent of cash available within the company from the waterfall of payments received on the mortgage loan assets. Accordingly, the directors consider there is sufficient liquidity to meet the Company's expected cash requirements. The net liability position arises from the provisions made for expected mortgage loan asset losses. These are expected to be offset in due course against the loan payable at the end of the securitisation, when any losses incurred due to the defaults by the borrowers and resultant cash shortage are absorbed by the PLC and then the note holder, DG Hyp.

The directors are satisfied that the company has adequate resources to continue in business for the foreseeable future. The directors therefore consider it appropriate to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements.

1.1 Basis of preparation

The profit and loss account and balance sheet have adapted the format laid down in Schedule 1 to 'The Large and Medium-sized Companies and Groups (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008' (SI 2008/410) to present its results and the state of the company's affairs respectively. In the opinion of the directors, this is required due to the special nature of the Company's business. The accounting policies have been applied consistently throughout the year, other than where new policies have been adopted.

1.2 Interest receivable

Interest receivable on financial assets that are classified as loans and receivables is determined using the effective interest rate method. The effective interest rate method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or financial liability (or group of financial assets or liabilities) and of allocating the interest receivable or interest payable over the expected life of the related asset or liability. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash flows to the instrument's initial carrying amount. Calculation of the effective interest rate takes into account early redemption fees and transaction costs. All contractual terms of the financial instrument are considered when estimating future cash flows.

1.3 Fee receivable

Fees receivable from customers, that are not included in the effective interest calculation discussed above, are taken to income when due.

1.4 Interest payable and other expenses

Interest payable is accounted for using the effective interest method. Other operating expenses are accounted for on an accruals basis.

PMAC FUNDING 05-1 LIMITED

1.5 Mortgage loans

Mortgage loans are stated at amortised cost less provision from loan losses. Mortgage loans are initially recognised at fair value plus directly related transaction costs. Amortised cost is calculated using the effective interest method.

1.6 Provision for loan losses

For a mortgage loan, the Company first assesses whether objective evidence of impairment exists. If the Company determines that no objective evidence of impairment exists, it includes the loan in a group of loans with similar credit risk characteristics and collectively assesses them for impairment.

The amount of impairment loss is measured as the difference between the loan's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the loan's effective interest rate. The calculation of the present value of the estimated future cash flows also reflects the probability of foreclosure.

For the purposes of a collective evaluation of impairment, mortgage loans are grouped on the basis of similar risk characteristics, taking into account loan type, geographical location of the residential properties in England and Wales, past due status and other relevant factors. These characteristics are relevant to the estimation of future cash flows for groups of such loans by being indicative of the counterparty's ability to pay all amounts due according to the contractual terms of the loan being evaluated. Model assumptions are adjusted based on current observable data to reflect the effects of current conditions that did not affect the period on which the historical loss experience is based and to remove the effects of conditions in the historical period that do not currently exist. The methodology and assumptions used for estimating future cash flows are reviewed regularly to reduce any differences between loss estimates and actual loss experience. When a loan is uncollectable, the related collateral is repossessed and sold at the prevailing market price. Where the sale proceeds, net of selling costs, are lower than the actual receivable balance, the arising deficit is recognised as a shortfall in the profit and loss account.

1.7 Loan payable

The loan payable represents an amount owed to PMAC 05-1 PLC. It is initially recognised at fair value plus directly related transaction costs and is classified under creditors. It is subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

1.8 Taxation

The Company has elected to be taxed under the "permanent" tax regime for securitisation companies (contained in Statutory Instrument 2006/3296), under which the Company is taxed broadly by reference to its net cash flows during the year, and not by reference to its accounting profits, to the extent that these differ.

1.9 Segmental Analysis

The Company has elected to enter the permanent tax regime for securitisation companies. The directors are satisfied that the company meets the definition of a 'securitisation company' as defined by both The Finance Act 2005 and subsequent secondary legislation and that no incremental unfunded tax liabilities will arise.

The directors are satisfied that the Company currently satisfies the conditions to be taxed under the permanent regime.

16 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Company has the following risks arising from its holding of financial instruments

Liquidity risk

The Company does not believe it is subject to any material liquidity risk as payments of interest and principal to the PLC are linked to receipts of interest and principal from mortgage loans such that the payments cannot exceed the amounts received

Interest rate risk

The Company does not believe it is subject to any material interest rate risk because the rate of interest payable on the loan from PLC is linked to the rate of interest receivable on mortgage loans less certain expenses

Foreign exchange risk

As at 31 December 2013 the Company had no currency exposures (2012 nil) All material financial assets and liabilities are denominated in Sterling

Credit Risk

The Company's major assets are a portfolio of mortgage loans with a carrying value of £15,183,218 (2012 £16,021,417) which is administered by Paratus and cash held by the Company of £73,177 (2012 £31,631) These mortgage loans are secured by first charge over residential properties within the United Kingdom and are subject to regular reviews by Paratus and the Company for possible credit problems to ensure credit risks are identified on a timely basis and losses are minimised The Company's maximum credit exposure is limited to the carrying value of the portfolio of mortgage loans and other assets

Borrowers whose loans default are subject to active arrears management procedures Debt management strategies, which include negotiating repayment arrangements, concessions and debt counselling, can start as early as the day after a repayment is past due, and will continue until legal action If the agreed repayment arrangement is not maintained, legal proceedings may be taken and may result in the property being taken into repossession The loan servicer (Paratus) sells the repossessed property at market price and uses the sale proceeds, net of costs, to pay off the outstanding value of the mortgage

The following tables detail information on the portfolio of mortgage loans forming the loan

The fair value of the mortgages has been calculated by an independent valuation service provider based on the present value of discounted expected cashflows. In discounting the cashflows, the UK RMBS Prime index has been taken as a proxy for the spread over three-month Euribor. The reference rate is therefore constructed as 3-month Euribor plus the spread, with the implicit assumption of flat forward rates.

An additional risk premium was used to account for additional risks of the assets relative to the benchmark used, which include differences in exposure to and volatility of potential additional collateral losses, given the nature of the structure and the inherent credit risk in the notes, and the forward interest rate risk. The risk premium used was a best estimate considering similar kinds of mortgages and available relevant market benchmarks.

The Directors are satisfied that the basis of calculating the fair value is appropriate and reasonable for the mortgage pool. The fair value of the loan payable has been calculated after adding cash in hand to the fair value of mortgage loans.
