WEBCHAIN LIMITEDNOTES*(Forming Part of the Financial Statements)*Financial Instruments

The company only enters into basic instruments transactions that result in the recognition of financial assets and liabilities like trade debtors and creditors, loans from banks and other third parties, loans to related parties and investments in non-puttable ordinary shares.

Debt instruments (other than those wholly repayable or receivable within one year), including loans and other accounts receivable and payable, are initially measured at present value of the future cash flows and subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Debt instruments that are payable or receivable within one year, typically trade debtors and creditors are measured initially and subsequently, at the undiscounted amount of the cash or other consideration expected to be paid or received. However, if the arrangements of a short term instrument constitute a financing transaction, like the payment of a trade deferred beyond normal business terms or financed at a rate of interest that is not a market rate or in case of an out-right short term loan not at market rate, the financial asset or liability is measured, initially, at the present value of the future cash flow discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument and subsequently amortised at cost.

Interest Income

Interest income is recognised in the Statement of Income and Retained Earnings on a receivable basis.

Deferred Taxation

Deferred tax arises as a result of including items of income and expenditure in taxation computations in periods different from those in which they are included in the company's accounts. Deferred tax is provided in full on timing differences which result in an obligation to pay more (or less) tax at a future date at the average tax rates that are expected to apply when the timing differences reverse, based on current tax rates and laws.

Current Taxation

The current corporation tax charge is calculated on the basis of tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date in the countries where the company operates and generates income.

Pensions

The company pays contributions into defined contribution schemes on behalf of the director and an employee of the company. A defined contribution plan is a pension plan under which the Company pays fixed contributions into a separate entity.

WEBCHAIN LIMITEDNOTES*(Forming Part of the Financial Statements)

Once the contributions have been paid the company has no further payment obligations.

Contributions are charged to the Statement of Income and Retained Earnings in the year in respect of which they are payable. The assets of the plans are held separately from the company in independently administered funds.
