Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date.

Unrelieved tax losses and other deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that they will be recovered against the reversal of deferred tax liabilities or other future taxable profits.

The accounts have been prepared as a going concern on the assurance that the company has the full support of the bank and continued funding from the director. Consequently, the director is confident that the company will be able to meet all its financial obligations in the foreseeable future as they fall due. No formal repayment terms have been agreed for the loans from the director but the loans will not be repaid until the company can afford to do so.
