Effective for periods

Accounting policies

A Statement of compliance These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards and their interpretations issued or adopted by the International Accounting Standards Board as adopted for use in the European Union ("IFRS")

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with and in compliance with the Companies Act 2006

New standards and interpretations not applied During the year, the IASB and IFRIC have issued the following standards and interpretations to be applied to financial statements with period commencing on or after the following dates

International Accounting Standards (IAS/IFRS's)	beginning on or after
IAS 27 Amendment - Consolidation and Separate Financial Statements	1 July 2009
IAS 39 Eligible Hedged Items	1 July 2009
IFRS 3 Business Combinations (Revised)	1 July 2009
IFRIC 17 Distribution of Non-Cash Assets to Owners	1 July 2009

The Directors do not anticipate that the adoption of these standards and interpretations will have a material impact on the financial statements in the period of initial application and have decided not to early adopt

B Basis of preparation The financial statements are presented in Euros, the functional currency of the Company

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgments about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods. The most significant techniques for estimation are described in the accounting policies below

The accounting policies set out below have been applied consistently to all periods presented in these financial statements

Accounting policies

- C Priority Profit Share Revenue comprises Priority Profit Share from 3i Europartners Va LP and 3i Europartners Vb LP which are English Limited Partnerships. To the extent that there are insufficient partnership profits to allocate the Priority Share of profit, an interest free loan is made to the Company which is included in current liabilities. As this loan is discharged out of surplus profits after future allocations, an amount equal to the shortfall is credited to the statement of comprehensive income and is included in current assets.
- D Administrative expenses Administrative expenses includes the management fee paid by the Company to its parent company
- E Income recognition Income is recognised on an accruals basis
- F Financial instruments Financial instruments are made up of other receivables, other payables and cash and cash equivalents. The Directors consider that the fair value of other receivables and other payables approximate their carrying value. The Directors do not believe that the Company is exposed to significant credit risk, liquidity risk, currency risk or interest rate risk and have not taken any specific actions to mitigate these financial risks (see note 12). There are no other financial instruments.
- G Cash and cash equivalents Cash and cash equivalents in the balance sheet comprise cash at bank and in hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less. For the purposes of the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash and short term deposits as defined above.
- H Other receivables Assets, other than those specifically accounted for under a separate policy, are stated at their cost less impairment losses. They are reviewed at each balance sheet date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated based on expected discounted future cash flows. Any change in the level of impairment is recognised directly in profit or loss. An impairment loss is reversed at subsequent balance sheet dates to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed its original cost.
- I Other payables Liabilities, other than those specifically accounted for under a separate policy, are stated based on the amounts which we consider to be payable in respect of goods or services received up to the balance sheet date
- J income taxes Income taxes represent the sum of the tax currently payable, and deferred tax Tax is charged or credited in the statement of comprehensive income, except when it relates to items charged or credited directly to equity, in which case the tax is also dealt with in equity

The tax currently payable is based on the taxable profit for the year. This may differ from the profit included in the statement of comprehensive income because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and it further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible. The Company's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax is the tax expected to be payable or recoverable on differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit ('temporary differences'), and is accounted for using the balance sheet liability method

J Income taxes (continued) Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which deductible temporary differences can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or other assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the tax profit nor the accounting profit

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the liability is settled or the asset is realised using tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date
