The following accounting policies have been used consistently in dealing with items which are considered material in relation to the limited partnership's financial statements

Basis of preparing the financial statements

Investment properties are accounted for in accordance with Financial Reporting Standard for Smaller Entities relating to Investment Properties, which provides that these should not be subject to periodic depreciation charges (unless held on lease), but should be shown at open market value. This is contrary to the Companies Act 2006, which states that, subject to any provision for depreciation or diminution in value, fixed assets are normally to be stated at purchase price or production cost. Current cost accounting or the revaluation of specific assets to market value, as determined at the date of their last valuation, is also permitted.

The treatment of investment properties under the Companies Act does not give a true and fair view as these assets are not held for consumption in the business but as investments, the disposal of which would not materially affect any manufacturing or trading operations of the enterprise. In such a case it is the current value of these investments, and changes in that current value, which are of prime importance Consequently, for the proper appreciation of the financial position, the accounting treatment required by Financial Reporting Standard for Smaller Entities is considered appropriate for investment properties.

Details of the current value and historical cost information for investment properties are given in note 4

Accounting convention

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard for Smaller Entities (effective April 2008)

The financial statements are drawn up on a going concern basis which the General Partner considers appropriate as it will ensure that all third party debts are settled in advance of repaying the amounts due to the partners

Turnover

Turnover represents net receivable rental income and the fair value of the consideration receivable for

Rent free periods or other incentives received for entering into a lease are accounted for over the period of the lease so as to spread the benefit received over the lease term or, if shorter, the period ending when prevailing market rentals will become payable

Investment property

Investment properties are independently valued each year on an open market basis. The valuation is included as the investment property balance. Any surplus or deficit arising in taken to the revaluation reserve, unless a deficit is expected to be permanent, in which case it is charged to the profit and loss account. A transfer equal to the amount of the deficit recognised in the profit and loss account is made between the partners' current accounts and partners' loan accounts so that the amount of the deficit is offset against loans due to the partners.
