PHELIX RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 DECEMBER 2020

The trustees, who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act 2006, present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 December 2019. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The charity's objects as stated in its Articles of Association are:

"To protect and promote the health of the public in particular by research into the nature, cases, diagnosis, prevention, treatment and cure of chronic infection diseases, including the development of findings of research into practical applications for the prevention, treatment and cure of chronic infection diseases and in furtherance of that primary objective, to support information and raise public understanding of such matters, and to support the research on bacteriophages for bacterial infections in a chronic phase and to develop therapeutic programs based on bacteriophages."

Phelix Research & Development (Phelix R&D) is a medical research charity. The charity works hand in hand with Phelix France, registered in France as an 'Association d'Intérêt Général'.

Its team is a strong co-partnership of healthcare professionals (practitioners, immunologists and university researchers, amongst them Leicester University) and volunteers, working together to reach the charity's key objectives.

The overall aim is to develop phage-based diagnostic and treatment of Lyme disease. To-date, we have developed a novel phage-based diagnostic method targeting Lyme Borrelia strains. This novel diagnostic method showed higher sensitivity compared to the current diagnostic methods. With further development, our phage-based method could have the power to distinguish between active and non-active Lyme infection and offer a promise of early Lyme diagnostics.

In addition to our pioneer work in Lyme diagnostics, we have also developed our pipelines of methodologies in isolation and identification of phages that specifically infect Lyme Borrelia strains, and we are currently actively screening for phages. Once we identify phages, we will test the efficacy of these phages in killing Borrelia strain, and develop them towards therapeutics.

Activity update

- Due to the successive lockdowns in 2020, limited research was done.
- We did not attend any conferences.
- Commercialisation of the Borrelia Phage based test in partnership with Red laboratories in Belgium - Brussels: <https://redlabs.be/phelix-phage-borrelia/>
- Publication in 'Frontiers in Microbiology' of the article describing and detailing our research on the development of a new technology to detect Borrelia infections. <https://www.frontiersin.org/articles/10.3389/fmicb.2021.651217/full>
- Collaboration with the Bay Area Lyme Foundation on a study of North American Lyme patients.
- Launch with our partner, Red Laboratories, of a test using Phage technology for Rickettsial infections.
- Continuation of research for the development of a more generic and less expensive test to detect borrelia / Lyme infections.
- Study in partnership with Red Laboratories on more than 100 Ticks to better understand the epidemiology of so-called Lyme bacteria.
- We are continuing unabatedly the work of transferring Phage technology to detect so-called Bartonella infections.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Public benefit

The trustees can confirm that they have complied with the duty in Section 17 of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to public benefit guidance published by the Charities Commission. Significant activities that we undertook during the year that demonstrate public benefit are set out above.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF PHELIX RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

Independent examiner's report to the trustees of Phelix Research and Development ('the Company')

I report to the charity trustees on my examination of the accounts of the Company for the year ended 31 December 2020.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the charity's trustees of the Company (and also its directors for the purposes of company law) you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 ('the 2006 Act').

Having satisfied myself that the accounts of the Company are not required to be audited under Part 16 of the 2006 Act and are eligible for independent examination, I report in respect of my examination of your charity's accounts as carried out under section 145 of the Charities Act 2011 ('the 2011 Act'). In carrying out my examination I have followed the Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5) (b) of the 2011 Act.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe:

1. accounting records were not kept in respect of the Company as required by section 386 of the 2006 Act; or
2. the accounts do not accord with those records; or
3. the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of section 396 of the 2006 Act other than any requirement that the accounts give a true and fair view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination; or
4. the accounts have not been prepared in accordance with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice for accounting and reporting by charities (applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102)).

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
