1 Accounting policies

General information and basis of preparation

Reinsurance Solutions London Limited ('the Company') is a private company limited by shares and is incorporated and domiciled in England. The address of its registered office is St Clare House, 30-33 Minories, London, EC3N 1PE.

The accounts are presented in sterling which is the functional currency of the company.

Statement of compliance

The accounts have been prepared in accordance with Section 1A of the Financial Reporting Standard 102, the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the United Kingdom and the Republic of Ireland and the Companies Act 2006.

Summary of significant accounting policies

The significant accounting policies applied in the preparation of these accounts are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated. The company has adopted FRS 102 Section 1A in these accounts. Details of the transition to FRS 102 Section 1A are disclosed in Note 9.

Turnover

Turnover represents brokerage arising from the placement of insurance contracts by the Company.

Brokerage income is recognised at the date of inception of the underlying insurance contract subject to the policy having been substantially completed and subject to a deferral of brokerage in respect of post placement services that constitute obligations of the Company under those contracts. Adjustments relating to additional premiums and/or return premiums are accounted for as they arise. Income from monthly declarations is recognised when the declarations are received

Going concern

The directors believe that the company's financial statements should be prepared on a going concern basis on the grounds that current and future sources of funding or support will be more than adequate for the company's needs. In this respect, the directors have received confirmation from Ouranos Limited that the group will continue to support the operations of the Company for the foreseeable future.

Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Costs include costs directly attributable to making the asset capable of operating as intended.

Depreciation has been provided at the following rates in order to write off the assets over their estimated useful lives.

1 Accounting policies

Current and deferred tax

The tax expense for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Current tax represents the amount of tax payable or receivable in respect of the taxable profit (or loss) for the current or past reporting periods. It is measured at the amount expected to be paid or recovered using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax represents the future tax consequences of transactions and events recognised in the accounts of current and previous periods. It is recognised in respect of all timing differences, with certain exceptions. Timing differences are differences between taxable profits and total comprehensive income as stated in the accounts that arise from the inclusion of income and expenses in tax assessments in the periods different from those in which they are recognised in the accounts. Unrelieved tax losses and other deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that they will be recovered against the reversal of deferred tax liabilities or other future taxable profits.

Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date that are expected to apply to the reversal of timing differences.

Foreign currency transactions

Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the rate ruling at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rate of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date. All differences are taken to profit and loss.

Employee benefits

The company operates a defined contribution pension scheme for the benefit of its employees. Contributions are expensed as they become payable.

Insurance debtors and creditors

The Company acts as an agent in broking the insurable risks of its clients and, generally, is not liable as principal for premiums due to underwriters nor for claims payable to clients. Notwithstanding the company's legal relationship with clients and underwriters and since, in practice, premium and claims monies are usually accounted for by insurance intermediaries, it has shown cash, debtors and creditors relating to insurance business as assets and liabilities of the company itself.

The Company has followed generally accepted accounting practice and offsets debtors and creditors from insurance broking transactions only where it is legally enforceable.

Cash at bank relating to insurance activities is held in a non-statutory trust, and is not readily available to meet the company's day to day working capital requirements.
