PART 1 - GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE COMPANY'S ACTIVITIES AND IMPACT

In the space provided below, please insert a general account of the company's activities in the financial year to which the report relates, including a description of how they have benefited the community.

SIAM BOXING CAMP'S fundamental aim is to provide Muay Thai, K1 and kickboxing sessions to the local community. Delivering fun, safe, affordable, accessible, mixed gender, mixed ages and mixed ability group sessions throughout the week. During the financial year the camps activities have benefited the local community in the following ways:

Families and individuals have been able to train together in a safe and well equipped environment learning the fundamental basic and advanced techniques of Muay Thai, K1 and kickboxing under specialised and qualified instruction several times a week on a continual and sustained basis.

Families and individuals have achieved amazing weight loss, strength, fitness and overall well- being targets throughout the accounting period which has ultimately benefitted how they approach the daily demands of everyday life.

Families and individuals have managed to take what they have learnt to competition level up and down the country, taking part in local competitive bouts-receiving medals in recognition of their hard work and dedication to the sport.

Families and individuals have been able to consistently attend the sessions due to the accessibility and "open door policy" that we (the directors) have worked hard to establish and maintain beyond the accounting period. In areas deemed "non-committed", "unengaging", "difficult to inspire and motivate," and "difficult to engage". We have managed to change this theory dramatically.

Families and individuals that have accessed our sessions have also benefitted from making better nutritional choices and as a result are stronger and happier members of the local community.

The camp has seen an increase of females accessing this male dominated sport which will only benefit the sport as a whole-country wide.

The sessions enable families and young people to train together which ultimately gives them something to feel an integral part of- a sense of belonging and we all know that this really is the making of a better and stronger community as a whole.

Our members have built strong, long lasting and positive relationships with each other which goes beyond the physical delivery of the sessions.

The sessions have given young people, families and individuals something they can look forward to attending on a weekly basis for recreational purposes.

SIAM BOXING CAMP has really helped to ignite and restore strength, faith, motivation and a great sense of achievement and excitement within our local community. Igniting a "can do" attitude in these hard and challenging times.

Despite experiencing a very challenging year due to government restrictions and an inability to deliver weekly sessions as a result of government restrictions, we have been able to re start our sessions and get the community focusing and prioritising their physical and mental health goals.
