Company activities and impact

The Chiswick Calendar CIC is a not-for-profit company which exists to provide benefit to the people who live in, work in, or visit Chiswick in west London's W4 area. The Chiswick Calendar website, www.thechiswickcalendar.co.uk, is a community resource which we describe as 'a celebration of life in Chiswick'. It provides events listings of all that's going on culturally and socially, for free. In doing so, we promote the work of more than a hundred charities, community groups and social enterprises locally and organisations which are too small to pay for promotion otherwise. We have a Club Card scheme which supports local independent businesses by encouraging people to spend their money locally. We also feature the work of local photographers on the website and put on our own events, which include exhibitions featuring the work of local artists. During the financial year 2021-2022, the company's activities have benefited the community in the following ways: We grew our news and features coverageWe promoted organisations putting on events locallyWe supported local businesses by promoting themWe continued to put out a free weekly newsletterWe continued to provide our subscribers with free Club CardsWe put on art exhibitions We continued our jazz club as a weekly fixture, making top quality musicians available for people to see locally and cheaplyThe company has continued to give opportunities to young people wanting their first experience of working in the media. We had a university graduate who could not get a job when he graduated because of Covid, who started working with us part time. We hosted the Bedford Park Festival photography competition online, raising money for St Michael & All Angels Church and several charities
