Yukon Midco 2 Limited

Strategic Report for the Year Ended 30 April 2020

Introduction

The directors present their strategic report for the Yukon group ("YSC", "Group"), of which Yukon Midco 2 Limited is a subsidiary, together with the audited financial statements for the year ended 30 April 2020.

Strategic review and future developments

Yukon Midco 2 Limited is an Investment Company formed to hold the investment in Yukon Bidco Limited and indirectly invest in the assets of the YSC Group of trading companies.

YSC's foundation was built from behavioural science, and the Group seamlessly blends the commercial context unique to client organisations with its knowledge of the latest methodologies in leadership assessment, development, analytics and inclusive leadership to ensure client people practices are aligned with their business strategy.

YSC largely focuses on the top five to ten percent of leaders within the organisations that it partners with globally. Through this partnership, leaders and organisations more mindfully, purposefully and intentionally make judgments, direct their drive and extend their influence to create transformational change.

YSC offers a number of leadership strategy services to enable the sustained success of client's commercial performance and creates unique solutions specific to each individual client leadership challenge. Such services include CEO succession planning and board effectiveness, executive assessment, leadership coaching and team development, identifying and developing potential, and diversity and inclusion services.

Principal risks and uncertainties

The financial and non-financial performance of the Group is reviewed on a monthly basis by the Board. The directors utilise various Key Performance Indicators in order to measure the performance of the business. These include pipeline, revenues, utilisation, margin operating profit and debtor days.

In the opinion of the directors the principal risks faced by the business, other than economy-wide risks (such as the Covid-19 pandemic covered in more detail under Going concern below, Brexit and wider economic downturns), are: the risk of significant client loss, failure to manage the pool of talent correctly, exchange rate fluctuations and cash flow management.

The Group seeks to manage the risk of losing clients by continuing to broaden the product offering and the service sectors in which the Group operates. On an individual client level the Group also ensures a high level of client satisfaction by close account management.

The products offered by the Group are continually reviewed by the directors of the Group, with new offerings often developed in conjunction with existing clients.

The Group values its employees highly and implements market appropriate policies to ensure high levels of employee retention. These remain under constant review.

The development of the international offices allows the performance of global contracts, whilst potentially opening up new markets to the Group. Fees in the international offices are predominantly received in the local currency to match the cost base and to minimise exchange risk.

The business sectors in which the Group operate are regularly reviewed by the directors of the Group to ensure no over-reliance in one market area. Potential markets are also identified, allowing business development activity to source new clients.

Yukon Midco 2 Limited

Strategic Report (continued) for the Year Ended 30 April 2020

Going concern

The Group meets its day to day working capital requirements through long term bank financing, a revolving credit facility and ongoing operating cashflows.

On 31 January 2020 the World Health Organisation declared a global pandemic due to the Covid-19 virus that has spread across the globe, causing different governments and countries to enforce restrictions on people movements, international travel and other precautionary measures. This has had a widespread impact economically, with many industries being heavily impacted, potential uncertainty around cash collection from clients and a more general need to reconsider whether budgets and targets previously set remain realistic in light of these events.

The performance of the Group was severely impacted by Covid-19 towards the end of the 30 April 2020 financial year, with revenue from some clients dropping significantly against original forecast projections. As a result a number of mitigating actions were implemented in order to protect existing client revenue, minimise on-going costs within the business and to maximise the cash available to sustain the Group as a going concern. Detailed reforecasting and stress testing was also undertaken in order to consider the likely future performance of the Group and how much forecasts would have to reduce by in order to cause cash or other constraints, and the likelihood of those scenarios occurring.

The business also reviewed the financial covenants around its bank and revolver facility financing to consider whether it was likely that a breach might occur. Whilst the Group has continued to hold a significant level of cash throughout the period through to the date of the financial statements, agreement was reached with the Group's lending banks to waive certain financial covenants, to defer one repayment for £750,000 due in April 2020 over the remaining life of the Group's facilities, and to rebase the future financial covenants to take account of the impact of Covid-19 on the Group. As a result, taking into account the reforecasting work undertaken, the directors have a reasonable expectation that the Group will not be in breach of any financial covenants for at least 12 months from the date the accounts were authorised for issue.

The level of monthly client revenues have subsequently started to increase, and the Group continues to hold a satisfactory level of cash. As a result, the directors have a reasonable expectation that the Group has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for at least 12 months from the date the accounts were authorised for issue. Therefore it is considered appropriate that the Group continues to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual financial statements.

Future developments

The Group continually invests in its people, new services, enhancement of existing services and in its own bespoke technology solutions. The directors remain confident that these initiatives, coupled with the Group's independent market positioning, will continue to create further growth and strategic opportunities.

The Group's plan for the next 12 months from the date of the financial statements is one of organic growth from existing and new clients, whilst taking into account the impact of Covid-19 within certain clients and industries, and the potential for further economic downturns, whether driven by Covid-19, Brexit or broader economic factors. The Group is not dependent on any individual client, industry sector or geography. As a result the Group expects to be able to continue to grow in certain markets in order to partially offset the impact of those markets more impacted by Covid-19.

The directors continue to assess the impact of Covid-19, as the situation evolves. To date the Group has responded in an agile manner to mitigate the Covid-19 impact, and the directors will continue to consider and implement appropriate measures to align costs with client demand.

Section 172 statement - engaging with stakeholders

The Section 172 statement has been prepared for the Yukon group and is consistent throughout.

The success of the Group is dependent on the support of all stakeholders. Building positive relationships with all stakeholders assists YSC in delivering long-term sustainable success.

The directors make decisions with a long-term view in mind and with the highest standards of conduct in line with Group policies. In order to fulfil their duties, the directors take care to have regard to the likely consequences on all stakeholders of the decisions and actions which they take. Where possible, decisions are carefully discussed with affected groups and are therefore fully understood and supported when taken.

Reports are regularly made to the Group Board by the directors about the strategy, performance and key decisions taken which provides the Board with assurance that proper consideration is given to stakeholder interests in decision-making.

At Group level, the Board is well informed about the views of stakeholders through the regular reporting and it uses this information to assess the impact of decisions on each stakeholder group as part of its own decision-making process. Details of the Group's key stakeholders and how we engage with them are set out below.

Shareholders

As owners of our Group we rely on the support of shareholders and their opinions are important to us. We have an open dialogue with our shareholders through one-to-one meetings, and annual update meetings. Discussions with shareholders cover a wide range of topics including financial performance, strategy, outlook, governance and ethical practices. Shareholder feedback is regularly discussed by the Board and their views are considered as part of decision-making.

Colleagues

Our employees are key to our success and we wish them to be successful individually and as teams. There are many ways we engage with and listen to our people including colleague surveys, team and face-to-face meetings, internal communities and newsletters. Key areas of focus include health and well-being, development opportunities, pay and benefits. Regular reports about what is important to our employees are made to the Board ensuring consideration is given to colleague needs.

Clients

Our ambition is to deliver best-in-class service to our clients. We build strong lasting relationships with our clients and spend considerable time with them to understand their needs and views, and listen to how we can improve our services for them. We use this knowledge to inform our decision-making, for example to continuously develop and enhance our strategic offerings.

Suppliers

We build strong relationships with our suppliers to develop mutually beneficial and lasting partnerships. Engagement with suppliers is primarily through individual meetings and regular feedback sessions. Key areas of focus will include innovation, product development and service levels. The Board recognises that relationships with suppliers are important to the Group's long-term success.

Financial Lenders

The Group is dependent on the support of a small number of financial lenders to provide the necessary long-term funding to enable the Group to fulfil its growth ambitions. Engagement with the lenders is through regular reporting on the performance of the Group, in addition to face-to-face update meetings several times each year. Lender feedback is regularly reported to and discussed by the Board.

Yukon Midco 2 Limited

Strategic Report (continued) for the Year Ended 30 April 2020

During the year ended 30 April 2020 the key decisions taken by the Board considered to be of strategic importance to the Group's stakeholders are as follows:

Appointment of new CEO

In May 2019 Eric Pliner (previously MD of YSC North America and Chief Commercial Officer) was appointed as the Group's new CEO, replacing Robert Sharrock, who remains as a consultant within the YSC European business. The Board ran an internal process to make the appointment. Given the nature of YSC's business and culture, this was considered to be the most appropriate route and in the best interests of the business, its shareholders and employees.

Covid-19 measures undertaken

The Group was quickly and severely impacted by Covid-19 from early March 2020. In order to best protect the interests of all Group stakeholders, the Board rapidly undertook a number of substantive measures. These included the temporary closure of all Group offices and remote working for all employees, significant reductions to operating costs wherever possible and changes to working hours.

This report was approved by the board and signed on its behalf.

The other information comprises the information included in the strategic report and directors' report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. Responsibilities of directors

As explained more fully in the directors' responsibilities statement the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

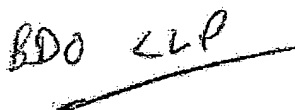

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAS (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located at the Financial Reporting Council's website at: <https://www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities>. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Yukon Midco 2 Limited

Notes to the Financial Statements for the Year Ended 30 April 2020

2. Accounting policies (continued)

2.3 Going concern

Yukon Midco 2 Limited is a subsidiary of the Yukon group, ("the Group").

The Group meets its day to day working capital requirements through long term bank financing, a revolving credit facility and ongoing operating cashflows.

On 31 January 2020 the World Health Organisation declared a global pandemic due to the Covid-19 virus that has spread across the globe, causing different governments and countries to enforce restrictions on people movements, international travel and other precautionary measures. This has had a widespread impact economically, with many industries being heavily impacted, potential uncertainty around cash collection from clients and a more general need to reconsider whether budgets and targets previously set remain realistic in light of these events.

The performance of the Group was severely impacted by Covid-19 towards the end of the 30 April 2020 financial year, with revenue from some clients dropping significantly against original forecast projections. As a result a number of mitigating actions were implemented in order to protect existing client revenue, minimise on-going costs within the business and to maximise the cash available to sustain the Group as a going concern. Detailed reforecasting and stress testing was also undertaken in order to consider the likely future performance of the Group and how much forecasts would have to reduce by in order to cause cash or other constraints, and the likelihood of those scenarios occurring.

The business also reviewed the financial covenants around its bank and revolver facility financing to consider whether it was likely that a breach might occur. Whilst the Group has continued to hold a significant level of cash throughout the period through to the date of the financial statements, agreement was reached with the Group's lending banks to waive certain financial covenants, to defer one repayment for £750,000 due in April 2020 over the remaining life of the Group's facilities, and to rebase the future financial covenants to take account of the impact of Covid-19 on the Group. As a result, taking into account the reforecasting work undertaken, the directors have a reasonable expectation that the Group will not be in breach of any financial covenants for at least 12 months from the date the accounts were authorised for issue.

The level of monthly client revenues have subsequently started to increase, and the Group continues to hold a satisfactory level of cash. As a result, the directors have a reasonable expectation that the Group has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for at least 12 months from the date the accounts were authorised for issue. Therefore it is considered appropriate that the Group continues to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual financial statements.

The Group have provided the Company with a letter of financial support for a period of at least 13 months from the date of authorisation of the company financial statements, should the Company not be able to meet its liabilities in this period.

2.4 Valuation of investments

Investments in subsidiaries are measured at cost less accumulated impairment.

2.5 Debtors

Short term debtors are measured at transaction price, less any impairment. Loans receivable are measured initially at fair value, net of transaction costs, and are measured subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment.

Yukon Midco 2 Limited

2. Accounting policies (continued)

2.6 Creditors

Short term creditors are measured at the transaction price.

2.7 Provision for liabilities

Provisions are made where an event has taken place that gives the Company a legal or constructive obligation that probably requires settlement by a transfer of economic benefit, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

Provisions are charged as an expense to the statement of comprehensive income in the year that the Company becomes aware of the obligation, and are measured at the best estimate at the statement of financial position date of the expenditure required to settle the obligation, taking into account relevant risks and uncertainties.

When payments are eventually made, they are charged to the provision carried in the statement of financial position.

2.8 Current and deferred taxation

The tax expense for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income, except that a charge attributable to an item of income and expense recognised as other comprehensive income or to an item recognised directly in equity is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date in the countries where the Company operates and generates income.

Deferred tax balances are recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed by the statement of financial position date, except that:

- The recognition of deferred tax assets is limited to the extent that it is probable that they will be recovered against the reversal of deferred tax liabilities or other future taxable profits; and
- Any deferred tax balances are reversed if and when all conditions for retaining associated tax allowances have been met.

Deferred tax balances are not recognised in respect of permanent differences except in respect of business combinations, when deferred tax is recognised on the differences between the fair values of assets acquired and the future tax deductions available for them and the differences between the fair values of liabilities acquired and the amount that will be assessed for tax. Deferred tax is determined using tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date.

3. Judgements in applying accounting policies and key sources of estimation uncertainty

There are no estimates and judgements that have a significant risk of causing material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets or liabilities within the financial year.
