Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date.

Timing differences arise from the inclusion of income and expenses in tax assessments in periods different from those in which they are recognised in financial statements. Deferred tax is measured using tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the year end and that are expected to apply to the reversal of the timing difference.

9. Ultimate controlling party

The ultimate controlling party is R Davies.

10. Covid 19

The company conducts much of its business overseas. As a result it has been severely impacted by the pandemic and this is reflected in the significant reduction in turnover.

However the director is confident that with the recent relaxation of travel restrictions and the opening up of the economy that the company will soon see an increase in activity once again.

In the meantime the company has been successful in obtaining a bounce back loan to see it through this difficult trading period.
