Asertis SPV 2 Ltd

Notes to the Financial Statements For the Period Ended 29 June 2022

1. General information

Asertis SPV 2 Ltd is a private company, limited by shares, incorporated in England and Wales under the Companies Act 2006. The address of the registered office is given on the Company Information page and the nature of the Company's operations and its principal activities are set out in the Directors' Report.

2. Accounting policies

2.1 Basis of preparation of financial statements

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention unless otherwise specified within these accounting policies and in accordance with Section 1A of Financial Reporting Standard 102, the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and the Republic of Ireland and the Companies Act 2006.

The financial statements are prepared in sterling which is the functional currency of the Company. Monetary amounts in these financial statements are rounded to the nearest £.

The preparation of financial statements in compliance with FRS 102 requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise judgement in applying the Company's accounting policies (see note 3).

The following principal accounting policies have been applied:

2.2 Going concern

The Directors believe that it is appropriate to prepare the financial statements on a going concern basis which assumes that the Company will continue in operational existence.

The Directors have prepared financial forecasts and the Company has sufficient cash and funding resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. For these reasons, the financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis. Furthermore, the ultimate parent undertaking, Asertis Ltd, will not enforce repayment of intercompany loans for a period of at least 12 months from the date of these accounts.

Should the going concern basis prove to be inappropriate then adjustments may be required to reduce the carrying value of assets to their recoverable amount, to provide for any additional liabilities that arise, and to reclassify fixed assets and long terms liabilities respectively.

2. Accounting policies (continued)

2.3 Litigation funding cases in progress

Litigation funding cases in progress are classified as available for sale financial assets and are measured at fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the origination of the financial asset.

The gain or loss arising from a change in fair value is recognised in other comprehensive income, except for impairment losses and foreign exchange gains and losses.

In the absence of quoted prices for identical assets or binding sale agreements the fair value is estimated using a discounted cashflow model that takes in to account the probability of a successful outcome against a range of settlement options discounted back to present value using the prevailing market rate of interest for a similar financial asset.

Asertis operates under a valuation policy that relies on objective events to drive valuation changes, in order to minimise reliance on management estimation.

All investments in claims are recognised initially at cost. Where appropriate, investments in claims may be revalued on occurrence of certain objective events. Any fair value adjustments to the value of litigation funding assets are recognised in Asertis' accounts through other comprehensive income.

For the vast majority of our claims, the objective events considered under the fair value policy relate to the litigation process. Upon the occurrence of such objective events, Asertis discounts the potential impact of that ruling in line with the remaining litigation and/or enforcement risk. Objective events within the scope of this policy include, but may not be limited to:

- a significant positive ruling or other objective event but where there is not yet a trial court judgement
- a favourable trial court judgement
- a favourable judgment on the first appeal
- the exhaustion of as-of-right appeals
- in arbitration cases, where there are limited opportunities for appeal, issuance of a tribunal award

The policy also calls for impairment losses when there are objective negative events at various stages in a litigation, such as unfavourable court judgements.

2.4 Debtors

Short-term debtors are measured at transaction price, less any impairment. Loans receivable are measured initially at fair value, net of transaction costs, and are measured subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment.

2.5 Creditors

Short-term creditors are measured at the transaction price. Other financial liabilities, including bank loans, are measured initially at fair value, net of transaction costs, and are measured subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

2.6 Financial instruments

Except for the litigation funding cases in progress, the Company only enters into basic financial instrument transactions that result in the recognition of financial assets and liabilities like trade and other debtors and creditors, loans from banks and other third parties, loans to related parties and investments in ordinary shares.

Financial assets that are measured at cost and amortised cost are assessed at the end of each reporting period for objective evidence of impairment. If objective evidence of impairment is found, an impairment loss is recognised in the Profit and Loss Account.

For financial assets measured at amortised cost, the impairment loss is measured as the difference between an asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated cash flows discounted at the asset's original effective interest rate. If a financial asset has a variable interest rate, the discount rate for measuring any impairment loss is the current effective interest rate determined under the contract.

For financial assets measured at cost less impairment, the impairment loss is measured as the difference between an asset's carrying amount and best estimate of the recoverable amount, which is an approximation of the amount that the Company would receive for the asset if it were to be sold at the reporting date.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the Statement of Financial Position when there is an enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

3. Judgements in applying accounting policies and key sources of estimation uncertainty

The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported for assets and liabilities as at the reporting date and the amounts reported for revenues and expenses during the year. However, the nature of estimation means that actual outcomes could differ from those estimates. The most significant estimates relate to the valuation of investments in cases in progress at fair value through other comprehensive income.

Litigation funding cases in progress (note 5)

Fair values of the litigation funding cases in progress are determined based on the specifics of each case. The value will change should it be determined that the case is progressing in such a way that the Company would expect to receive a different amount from that invested to date having regard to an objective event such as a favourable court ruling. Fair value is determined based on the Directors' expectation, at the reporting date, of the likely outcome of each case and their best estimate of the return on each case, discounted at the prevailing market rate of interest for a similar financial asset.

4. Employees

The Company has no employees other than the Directors, who did not receive any remuneration.
