Statement of directors' responsibilities

The directors are responsible for preparing the annual report including, as described below, the financial statements. The United Kingdom Companies Act 1985 requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial period which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company as at the period end and of the profit or loss of the company for that period In preparing those financial statements, the directors are required to

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently,
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent,
- state whether applicable International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as adopted by the European Union have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements, and
- prepare the financial statements on a going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business

The directors have responsibility for ensuring that the company keeps accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and which enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the United Kingdom Companies Act 1985 They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities

Independent auditor's report to the members of Horsham Investments Limited

We have audited the financial statements of Horsham Investments Limited for the year ended 31 December 2006 which comprise the income statement, the balance sheet, the statement of changes in equity, the cash flow statement and the related notes. These financial statements have been prepared under the accounting policies set out therein

Respective responsibilities of directors and auditors

The directors' responsibilities for preparing the Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) as adopted by the European Union are set out in the Statement of Directors' Responsibilities

Our responsibility is to audit the financial statements in accordance with relevant legal and regulatory requirements and International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland) This report, including the opinion, has been prepared for and only for the company's members as a body in accordance with Section 700 of the Companies Act 1985 as modified by the Oversea Companies (Accounts) (Modifications and Exemptions) Regulations 1990 (the "1990 Regulations") with certain available exemptions as described in note 1 not taken, and for no other purpose. We do not, in giving this opinion, accept or assume responsibility for any other purpose or to any other person to whom this report is shown or into whose hands it may come save where expressly agreed by our prior consent in writing

We report to you our opinion as to whether the financial statements give a true and fair view and whether the financial statements have been properly prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 1985, as applicable to oversea companies as modified by the 1990 Regulations with certain available exemptions not taken. We also report to you if, in our opinion, the Directors' Report is not consistent with the financial statements, if the company has not kept proper accounting records, if we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit, or if information specified by law regarding directors' remuneration and other transactions is not disclosed

We read the Directors' Report and consider the implications for our report if we become aware of any apparent misstatements within it

Basis of audit opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland) issued by the Auditing Practices Board. An audit includes examination, on a test basis, of evidence relevant to the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. It also includes an assessment of the significant estimates and judgments made by the directors in the preparation of the financial statements, and of whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the company's circumstances, consistently applied and adequately disclosed.

We planned and performed our audit so as to obtain all the information and explanations which we considered necessary in order to provide us with sufficient evidence to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or other irregularity or error. In forming our opinion we also evaluated the overall adequacy of the presentation of information in the financial statements.

Opinion

In our opinion

- the financial statements give a true and fair view, in accordance with IFRSs as adopted by the European Union, of the state of the company's affairs as at 31 December 2006 and of its profit and cash flows for the year then ended,
- the financial statements have been properly prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 1985, as applicable to oversea companies as modified by the 1990 Regulations with certain available exemptions as described in note 1 not taken, and
- the information given in the directors' report is consistent with the financial statements

Notes to the Financial Statements

1 Accounting policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been applied consistently for each of the periods presented, unless otherwise stated.

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, in compliance with the requirements of the Companies Act, 1985 and in accordance with the applicable International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS)

These separate financial statements contain information about the company and do not contain consolidated financial information as the parent of a group. The company has taken advantage of the exemption under IAS 27 Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements from the requirement to prepare consolidated financial statements. The company and its subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements of the company's ultimate parent company.

The Directors have prepared the financial statements in accordance with section 700(1) of the Companies Act 1985('the Act') as modified by the Oversea Companies (Accounts) (Modifications and Exemptions) Order 1990 (SI 1990/440) ('the 1990 Regulations') The principal effect of this modification of section 700(1) is to require oversea companies subject to the provisions of the Act to prepare their accounts in accordance with Part VII, and the schedules to that part, of the Act as they were originally published and without the amendments or repeals made by the Companies Act 1989 and subsequent legislation. The unamended Part VII, and the schedules thereto, of the Act have no prescriptive formats for accounts of oversea companies nor do they specify an, or preclude any, accounting framework for use in preparing their accounts. As such the Directors have chosen to use International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union as the underlying accounting framework for the preparation of these financial statements

The 1990 Regulations also provide exemptions for oversea companies to omit particular information from their financial statements that would otherwise be required. The Directors have chosen not to take advantage of the following exemptions and therefore the financial statements include

- An audit report
- A directors' report
- Taxation information
  - The basis of computation and amount of any provision, or charge to revenue for UK corporation tax (ignoring double tax relief) and UK income tax
  - The amount of any charge for taxation imposed outside the UK on profits, income and capital gains (to the extent that capital gains are credited to revenue)
- The amount of turnover and the method by which it is arrived at
- Details of the name and place of incorporation of the company's ultimate parent company

(a) Revenue recognition

Interest income and expense are recognised in the income statement for all interest—bearing financial instruments, using the effective interest method. The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or liability and of allocating the interest income or interest expense. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the instrument to the net carrying amount of the financial asset or financial liability. The calculation includes all amounts paid or received by the company that are an integral part of the overall return, direct incremental transaction costs related to the acquisition, issue or disposal of a financial instrument and all other premiums or discounts. Fees and commissions, which are not an integral part of the effective interest rate, are generally recognised when the service has been provided.

(b) Income taxes, including deferred income taxes

Current income tax which is payable on taxable profits is recognised as an expense in the period in which the profits arise Deferred tax is provided in full, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the company's financial statements. Deferred tax is determined using tax rates that have been enacted or announced by the balance sheet date that are expected to apply when the related deferred tax asset is realised or the deferred tax liability is settled. Deferred tax assets are recognised where it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

(c) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprises cash on hand and demand deposits as well as short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value

(d) Borrowings

Redeemable shares which carry a mandatory coupon or are redeemable on a specific date, or where other terms and conditions exist which mean the company does not have an unconditional right to avoid delivering cash, are classified as financial liabilities. Irredeemable shares which carry a mandatory coupon are classified as financial liabilities. The coupon or dividends paid on those instruments is recognised in the income statement as interest expense.

2 Critical accounting estimates and judgements

The company makes assumptions and estimates that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year. Estimates and judgments are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. However, none of these were deemed critical to the company's results and financial position.

Notes to the Financial Statements

6	Taxation	2006 £'000	2005 £'000
a)	Analysis of charge for the period
	Current tax charge	95	374

The charge for tax on the profit for the period is based on a UK corporation tax rate of 30 per cent (2005—30 per cent) Corporation tax has been provided on the basis that preference dividends are non-taxable items, which the directors consider to be the appropriate treatment. However, HM Revenue and Customs have opened an enquiry into the Company's tax return for the period ended 31 December 2005. In the event such dividends are determined to be taxable items, the directors have confirmed that a fellow Lloyds TSB group subsidiary will surrender, for nil consideration, tax losses sufficient to cover any additional taxable profit arising

b) Factors affecting the tax charge for the period

C Fair values of financial assets and liabilities

Financial instruments include financial assets, financial liabilities and derivatives. The fair value of a financial instrument is the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

Wherever possible, fair values have been estimated using quoted market prices for instruments held. Where market prices are not available, fair values have been estimated using quoted values for instruments with either identical or similar characteristics. In certain cases, where no ready markets currently exist, various techniques (such as discounted cash flows, or observations of similar recent market transactions) have been developed to estimate what the approximate fair value of such instruments might be. These estimation techniques are necessarily subjective in nature and involve several assumptions.

The fair values presented in the following table are at a specific date and may be significantly different from the amounts which will actually be paid or received on the maturity or settlement date

The valuation technique for the major category of financial instruments used is discussed below

Loans and advances

The Company provides loans and advances to other Lloyds TSB Group companies at fixed rates. The fair value of these loans and advances are disclosed in note 12
