Going concern

The company made a profit of £6,357 for the year ended 31 March 2012. However, at the year end there are net current liabilities of £155,446. Included in creditors is a loan of £149,947 from the holding company, Larsen and Ross Limited. Larsen and Ross Limited have confirmed that it will not seek repayment of this balance until the company is in a position to pay it. The director has reviewed the position of the company looking at 12 months from the date of signing the accounts. He is satisfied that sufficient finance is available to enable the company to be treated as a going concern.

Turnover

Turnover represents amounts chargeable, net of value added tax, to customers during the year in respect of property rental. Rental income is recognised when there is a legal entitlement to the income.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is provided in full on timing differences which result in an obligation at the balance sheet date to pay more tax, or right to pay less tax, at a future date, at rates expected to apply when they crystallise based on current tax rates and law. Timing differences arise from inclusion of items of income and expenditure in taxation computations in periods different from those in which they are included in the financial statements. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is regarded as more likely than not they will be recovered. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted.

Financial instruments

Financial instruments are classified and accounted for, according to the substance of the contractual arrangement, as financial assets, financial liabilities or equity instruments. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities. Where shares are issued, any component that creates a financial liability of the company is presented as a liability in the balance sheet. The corresponding dividends relating to the liability component are charged as interest expense in the profit and loss account.
