STRATEGIC REPORT

Principal activities

The principal activities that the Company undertook during the year were in respect of the operation of an international conference centre.

Results and review of the business

The results for the year are shown on the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income on page 10.

The profit from continuing operations before tax for the year amounted to £630,202 (2018 – £760,180). The Company has, after taxation adjustments, a total comprehensive profit for the year of £623,483 (2018 – £756,135). The Directors do not recommend the payment of a dividend for the year ended 31 December 2019.

The year to December 2019 saw the Company produce its best ever operating profits, before adjustments for depreciation and the release of capital grants, and in what was another very successful year it improved its operating and financial performance for the fifth successive year.

This was achieved against a continuing backdrop of: a depressed economic outlook; increased levels of competition within the UK and from across the world; aggressive price competition; and a number of local problems including the difficulties encountered trying to secure sufficient hotel room allocations for clients.

In the course of the year the sales team secured the highest value of business contracted in the year - for the year, since the Company commenced its operations 25 years ago. This was as a result of a number of initiatives that had been introduced by the Company in the preceding three to four years which led to a marked increase in the number of enquiries and consequently the value of short lead bookings contracted during the period, compared to previous years.

The Company grew its turnover and gross profit, before adjusting for depreciation and the release of capital grants, through an increase in both volume and value of the Conference Centre's association, corporate, banqueting and other business. In addition to this there was year on year growth across all elements of the Company's operation, namely room rental charges, charges for additional services and catering commission. Turnover and gross profits were also significantly ahead of budget for the year.

The sales team continued to employ the initiatives that they have put in place in recent years and this enabled them to exceed the sales target for the year as well as lay down a solid platform for future years by reaching the desired revenue position, at the end of 2019, for each of the 4 succeeding years.

The cumulative effect of the sales team's activities had a significant impact on the Company's revenues for the year which amounted to £9.359m. This was an increase of £0.596m, on the previous year's figure of £8.763m, which is equivalent to an increase of 6.8%. These revenues generated a gross profit of £1.336m in 2019 compared to a gross profit of £1.360m for the previous year.

It should be noted that in 2019 the EICC recorded its highest levels of gross profit for the months of March, June, July, August and December since it commenced trading. August has historically been a very difficult month for the Conference Centre, however, a new strategy devised in 2017 has seen the Company record increased levels of operating surplus for that month for the last three years.

The Conference Centre held 209 events in 2019, which was an increase of 11 on the 198 events that were held in the previous year. These events varied enormously in their size, duration, diversity and profitability. Of the association events that were held during the year 6 recorded an event gross profit of over £170,000 each and the top 10 conference and meeting events by value generated £2.162m in cumulative event gross profit during the year.

Day Delegate Rate business continued to perform strongly during the year under review and 85 events of this type were held at the EICC during 2019. The top 10 Day Delegate Rate events by value generated £747,000 in cumulative event gross profit during the year.

The Company continued to broaden the diversification of events held at the EICC and in the course of the year, as well as holding conferences, meetings and exhibitions, the Conference Centre hosted, amongst other things: celebrity dinners; a variety of award ceremonies; dance competitions; ballet performances; comedy shows; comic book and horror movie exhibitions; theatre-circus performances; food and drink fairs; a Christmas food market; and university examinations.

Occupancy levels for the year increased to 61.02% and the Company experienced year on year growth in respect of: the number of booking enquiries received; the level of bookings contracted for future years; and the room rental charges, charges for additional services and catering commission derived from the Company's operations.

Expenditure in respect of cost of sales and administration expenses totalled £8.417m in 2019, which was an increase of £486,000 on the previous year's expenditure which had amounted to £7.931m. This represented an increase of 6.13% compared to the expenditure recorded during the previous year which was well within the budgeted expenditure levels. This was achieved as a result of the continuing stringent focus on cost controls and operating efficiencies.

The operating profit generated by the activities of the Conference Centre, which is the Company's internal measure of performance, was well ahead of target for the year. This measure of performance is based on the operating profit generated before adjustments in respect of depreciation and the recognition of capital grant income. 2019 saw the Company generate its highest ever levels of revenue, gross profits, and operating profit.

During the year 89,505 delegates attended events at the Conference Centre which was a decrease of 7,346 on the previous year. The number of delegate days generated by these delegates amounted to 287,714 for the year compared with 300,452 in 2018. This reduction in delegate numbers was anticipated as it was due to a change in the mix of business compared to the previous year.

The delegates who attended events at the EICC during the year generated an economic impact of £56.7m in 2019 compared to £58.1m during the previous year. It had been anticipated that the economic impact generated for the year would be lower than that achieved in 2018 due to a change in the mix of the Company's business. The economic impact that is produced as a result of the EICC's activities helps to create and sustain employment within Edinburgh and further afield.

The Company continues to align its operations with the business excellence model, and it is accredited to a number of quality standards. These standards cover systems management, human resources and environmental practices and the EICC continues to achieve very positive results from assessments in respect of its re-accreditation to these standards.

The Company made significant progress towards its aim of operating an hotel, in close proximity to the Conference Centre, during the year. It is believed that this is essential in order to provide the necessary funding for the Conference Centre's long term capital expenditure programme.

In the course of the year the Company: undertook a number of independent consultancy studies in respect of the project; entered into discussions with a developer regarding the lease of a suitable property for the hotel; and selected an appropriate hotel franchise operation, under whose branding the hotel would be operated.

The City of Edinburgh Council, the Company's parent organisation, approved the project on 12 March 2020. Activities aimed at securing an agreement for lease with the developer and a franchise agreement with the hotel brand have been taking place since then and at this point in time these negotiations are still in progress.

Future business on the books was at its highest ever level coming into 2020, both for the current year and for each of the succeeding years until 2024. The coronavirus pandemic has however had a significant impact on event bookings for the period from mid-March until the end of August. Though, at this point in time it is difficult to ascertain how great the effect of the crisis will be on the Company from September until the end of the year.

The principal risk to the business from the pandemic is the cancellation of business, or the rescheduling of events to subsequent years, resulting in a significant loss of revenues with a corresponding reduction in operating profits for 2020. This is compounded by: the uncertainty surrounding the medium term impact of the current restrictions; when they will be eased with specific reference to the Company's operations; and what mitigating reliefs will be available and for how long.

The Company has held the view for many years that its team members are its principal asset, and this remains to be the case. It is therefore keen to protect them and retain the experience and expertise that they have with regard to the operation of the Conference Centre. Whilst a significant number of these team members are currently on furlough leave the Company will use its best efforts to retain them through the current crisis.

The sales team have negotiated the retention and rescheduling of a significant amount of client business since the crisis began and this has been aided by the client relationships that have been developed over many years and by the loyalty of many of the Company's customers. It is believed that many of these customer relationships have been strengthened further as a result of the flexible approach that the Company has adopted during the crisis.

The Company had budgeted an operating surplus of £0.9m for 2020, however, as a result of the current crisis this has been significantly downgraded and the Company is now forecasting producing an operating loss of £0.8m for the year. This will, however, be affected by: how long the crisis lasts; when the easing of restrictions will apply to the Conference Centre's business; and the social distancing measures that will need to be put in place and how these will affect the Conference Centre's operations.

Notwithstanding the above the Conference Centre has an extensive list of bookings for future years and the Company's business outlook for the medium and long term remains very positive.

This is reinforced by the fact that even in the midst of the current crisis the sales team has continued to receive a steady stream of enquiries for 2021 and subsequent years. Indeed since the current lockdown period commenced: 2 large corporate bookings have been contracted for January 2021; a large association event has been contracted for September of the same year; and a further enquiry has recently been received from a large international corporation for an event scheduled for May 2021.

Key performance indicators

The Company's performance with regard to its key financial and other performance indicators during the year was as follows:-

	2019 £'000	2018 £'000	% Change
Turnover	9,359	8,763	6.80%
Cost of sales and administration expenses	8,417	7,931	(6.13)%
Customer delight	89%	89%	0%
Economic impact	56,713	58,118	(2.42)%

Risks and uncertainties

In common with many other businesses the Company is exposed to a range of risks. The principal risks and uncertainties facing the Company are associated with market forces and the behaviour of competition as well as the risks associated with catastrophic events.

As noted above, the coronavirus pandemic will undoubtedly have a significant impact on the Company's business results for 2021. Whilst the extent of the risk posed by the crisis remains uncertain, the Directors believe that the business outlook for the medium and long term remains very positive.

The Directors recognise that the Company has lost business, and will lose business in the future, as a result of Brexit and the uncertainty surrounding its implementation. However, they believe that such losses will be compensated for by securing increased levels of business from the UK, America and the Far East.

Future developments

The Directors intend to maintain the objectives and aims of the Company, which have resulted in many notable achievements and successes to date.

L.M. Florence
G.A. Gordon (Chair)	appointed 27 March 2019

Going concern

In line with the FRC guidance on Going Concern issued in November 2009, the directors have undertaken an exercise to review the appropriateness of the continued use of the Going Concern basis.

The Company's business activities, together with the factors likely to affect its future development, its financial position, financial risk management objectives and its exposure to interest rate, credit and liquidity risk are described in note 22 to the financial statements.

The Company's ultimate parent entity, the City of Edinburgh Council, has committed to providing continued funding, sufficient to meet all liabilities as and when they fall due.

After making suitable enquiries, the Directors have a reasonable expectation that the Company has adequate resources to remain in operation for the foreseeable future and have therefore continued to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual financial statements, as described in note 2 to the financial statements.

Directors' responsibilities for the Financial Statements

The Directors are responsible for preparing the Directors' Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the Directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law the Directors have prepared the company financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS's) as adopted by the European Union. Under Company law the Directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the Company and of the profit or loss for that period. In preparing these financial statements the Directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- state whether applicable IFRS's, as adopted by the European Union have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- make judgments and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the Company will continue in business.

The Directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the Company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the Company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006 and Article 4 of the IAS Regulation. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Disclosure of information to the auditor

So far as each person who was a Director at the date of approving this report is aware, there is no relevant audit information of which the Company auditor is unaware and each Director has taken all the steps that they ought to have taken to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the auditor is aware of that information.

Auditor

A resolution to re-appoint Scott-Moncrieff Audit Services as the Company's auditor will be put to the forthcoming Annual General Meeting.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF EDINBURGH INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE CENTRE LTD

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Edinburgh International Conference Centre Limited (the 'company') for the year ended 31 December 2019 which comprises the Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income, the Statement of Changes in Equity, the Statement of Financial Position, the Cashflow Statement and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) as adopted by the European Union.

In our opinion, the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at 31 December 2019 and of its profit for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with IFRSs as adopted by the European Union; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Material uncertainty related to going concern

We draw attention to the Directors Report and note 2 in the financial statements, which indicate that Edinburgh International Conference Centre Ltd is reliant on the continued support of the City of Edinburgh Council to continue as a going concern. As stated in note 2, these events or conditions, indicate that a material uncertainty exists that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Other information

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of the audit:

- the information given in the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the strategic report or the directors' report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of directors' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Responsibilities of directors

As explained more fully in the directors' responsibilities Statement set out on pages 6 and 7, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Councils website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Authorisation of financial statements and statement of compliance with IFRS's

The financial statements of Edinburgh International Conference Centre Limited for the year ended 31 December 2019 were approved by the Board of Directors on 28 July 2020 and signed on its behalf by the Directors noted on the Statement of Financial Position. Edinburgh International Conference Centre Limited is a company incorporated and domiciled in Scotland. The principal activities of the Company are described in Note 3 and information regarding its ultimate parent company is presented in Note 21.

2. Accounting policies

The following accounting policies have been applied consistently in dealing with items which are considered material in relation to the Company's financial statements.

Basis of preparation

The Company's financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union as they apply to the financial statements of the Company for the year ended 31 December 2019 and applied in accordance with the Companies Act 2006.

The accounting policies which follow set out those policies which apply, in preparing the financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2019. The Company has used the "cost of sales" method of presenting income and expenditure and the Company's financial statements are presented in Sterling.

New accounting standards adopted during the year

The following new standards, amendments to standards and interpretations are mandatory for the first time for the financial year beginning 1 January 2019 and have been adopted by the company:

- Leases (IFRS 16)
- Income taxes: treatment of tax consequences of dividends and other distributions (Amendments to IAS 12)
- Uncertainty over income tax treatments (IFRIC 23)

The introduction of IFRS 16 has not had any significant impact on the operating profits generated by the Company during the year. Its principal effect has, however, been to introduce approximately £1m of right-of-use assets onto the Statement of Financial Position. These assets have been offset by a corresponding increase in financial liabilities.

The above amendments are not considered to have materially impacted the financial statements of the company.

New standards and interpretations issued not applied

The International Accounting Standards Board and IFRIC have issued the following standards and interpretations, which may have an impact on the company, with an effective date for financial years beginning on or after the dates disclosed below and therefore after the date of these financial statements:

International Accounting Standards and Interpretations		Effective for annual periods beginning on or after
IFRS 3 *	Definition of a business	1 January 2020
Amendments to IAS 1/IAS 8 *	Definition of material	1 January 2020
IFRS 17 *	Insurance contracts	1 January 2021

* not yet adopted for use in the European Union

The directors have reviewed the requirements of the new standards and interpretations listed above and are satisfied that they are not expected to have a material impact on the company's financial statements in the period of initial application.

Going concern

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis which assumes that the company will continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. The validity of this assumption depends on the continuing support of the Company's ultimate parent undertaking, The City of Edinburgh Council. It should be noted that COVID 19 has had a significant negative affect on the Company's operations during 2020, and the impact of this is outlined in Note 23. Notwithstanding this, however, having taken into account the Company's cash balances at the year end it is the directors' opinion that the financial statements should be prepared on a going concern basis.

Judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported for assets and liabilities at the end of the reporting period and the amounts reported for revenues and expenses during the year. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could, however, result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of the asset or liability affected in future periods.

The areas impacted by such judgements and estimation uncertainties, within these accounts, relate primarily to the depreciation policy used, assumptions used in undertaking impairment reviews and the basis of determining whether or not to capitalise equipment purchases in respect of fixed assets and the recoverability of items contained within trade and other receivables.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Cost comprises the aggregate amount paid and the fair value of any other consideration given to acquire the asset and includes costs directly attributable to making the asset capable of operating as intended.

Depreciation is provided on all property, plant and equipment on a straight-line basis over its expected useful life as follows: Infrastructural works - 20 years; Leasehold Land and Buildings - 10 to 50 years; Office Equipment and Furniture - 3 to 10 years.

Management use judgement in arriving at the Company's depreciation policy by taking account of the residual value of the assets concerned and their useful economic life. The Company expects that items of property, plant and equipment will be used for their entire life and as a result it is expected that these items will have no residual value. An assets useful economic life is based on past experience and general expectations.

The carrying values of property, plant and equipment are reviewed for impairment if events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying value may not be recoverable, and are written down immediately to their recoverable amount. Useful lives and residual values are reviewed annually and where adjustments are required these are made prospectively.

An item of property, plant or equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the derecognition of the asset is included in the statement of comprehensive income in the period of derecognition.

The capitalisation of infrastructural works and assets under construction is based on management's judgement of when a projects future economic benefit can be determined. Initial project development costs in respect of feasibility studies, design team fees and pre construction activities are expensed via the statement of comprehensive income. However, once a project's feasibility has been determined and a future benefit is expected to arise from it the costs of that project are capitalised.

Foreign currency translation

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded in the Company's functional currency by applying the spot exchange rate ruling at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the functional currency rate of exchange ruling at the reporting date. All differences are taken to the statement of comprehensive income.

Capital grants

Grants in respect of capital expenditure are credited to deferred income and are released to income in equal amounts over the expected useful lives of the relevant assets by equal annual instalments.

Leasing and hire purchase commitments

Assets held under finance leases, which are leases where substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset have passed to the company, and hire purchase contracts are capitalised in the statement of financial position and are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term and the asset's useful lives. The capital elements of future obligations under leases and hire purchase contracts are included as liabilities in the statement of financial position.

The interest elements of the rental obligations are charged in the statement of comprehensive income over the periods of the leases and hire purchase contracts and represent a constant proportion of the balance of capital repayments outstanding.

The lease of the Conference Centre was treated as a finance lease until 8 December 1999 when the option to enter into a new lease was exercised. From this date the assets have been depreciated over their useful lives, rather than the period of the lease, as the substance of the transaction is effectively that of financing. The leaseholders hold no rights to impose restrictions on or reclaim the title of the Conference Centre.

Leased assets

For all contracts in existence on 1 January 2019 and any new contracts entered into on or after 1 January 2019, the Company considers whether a contract is, or contains a lease. A lease is defined as 'a contract, or part of a contract, that conveys the right to use an asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration'.

Where it is determined that: the contract contains an identified asset; the Company has the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of that asset throughout the period of use; and it has the right to direct the use of that asset throughout the period of use, the contract will be deemed to include a right-of-use-asset.

At lease commencement date, a right-of-use asset and a lease liability are recognised on the balance sheet. The right-of-use asset is measured at cost, which is made up of the initial measurement of the lease liability, any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of any costs required to dismantle and remove the asset at the end of the lease.

The right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis from the lease commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term.

The lease liability is measured at the commencement of the lease as the present value of the lease payments unpaid at that date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease if that rate is readily available or an incremental borrowing rate.

The lease liability is subsequently reduced by the value of lease rentals paid and increased by a charge for interest, based on the value of the outstanding lease liability.

Within the statement of financial position, right-of-use assets have been included in property, plant and equipment and lease liabilities have been included in financial liabilities.

In adopting IFRS 16 the Company has used the modified retrospective approach of initially applying the standard as an adjustment to opening equity at the date of initial application. In keeping with this approach comparative figures have not been restated.

Trade and other receivables

Trade receivables which generally have 30 day terms are recognised and carried at their original invoiced value, less an allowance for impairment of doubtful debt. An allowance for doubtful debt is estimated by management, taking into account future cashflows, based on past experience and an assessment of the current economic climate in which the company operates.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the statement of financial position comprise cash at banks and on hand.

Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are recognised at fair value and subsequently held at amortised cost.

Loans

Loans are initially recognised at fair value and then held at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method of calculation. The effective interest rate charge for the year is included in finance costs in the statement of comprehensive income.

Taxation

The charge for taxation is based on the results for the period and takes into account taxation deferred because of timing differences between the treatment of certain items for taxation and accounting purposes.

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the reporting date where transactions or events that result in an obligation to pay more, or right to pay less, tax in future have occurred at the reporting date. This is subject to deferred tax assets only being recognised if it is considered more likely than not that there will be suitable taxable profits from which the future reversal of the underlying differences can be deducted. Timing differences are differences arising between the Company's taxable profits and its results as stated in the financial statements which are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods.

Deferred tax is measured on a non-discounted basis at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the periods in which the timing differences are expected to reverse, based on the tax rates and laws enacted or substantially enacted at the reporting date.

The Company does not recognise amounts which may be recoverable under group relief until the tax computations for the companies in the tax group have been agreed.

Revenue recognition

EICC contracts with a range of customers to provide meeting and conference facilities for the events that they wish to hold. Under the terms of these contracts the Company usually receives a number of stage payments from clients prior to and post their event taking place. The Company however does not finish performing its obligations until the end point of the contract and that is when revenue is recognised.

Revenue is recognised to the extent that the Company obtains the right to consideration in exchange for its performance and that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is being made. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, excluding VAT.

Pensions

The Company operates a defined contribution pension scheme. Contributions are charged to the statement of comprehensive income as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the scheme.

The tax assessed on the profit on ordinary activities for the period is different from the standard rate of corporation tax in the UK of 19.00% (2018: 19.25%). A number of factors affect the tax charge, and these are shown/reconciled below:

	2019 £	2018 £
Profit from continuing operations before tax	630,202	760,180
Profit on ordinary activities multiplied by standard rate of corporation tax in the UK of 19.00% (2018: 19.25%)	119,738	144,434

Tax charge for the period	6,719	4,045

As at 31 December 2019 there was an unrecognised deferred tax asset amounting to £(1,399,094) (2018: £1,561,373) of which £290,780 (2018: £331,984) was in respect of accelerated capital allowances and other timing differences and £1,108,314 (2018: £1,229,389) was in respect of trading losses. The directors have elected not to recognise a deferred tax asset due to uncertainty surrounding future profitability from which any reversal of timing differences could be deducted.

No other factors that may affect future tax charges have been identified.

The Company has entered into a number of leases in relation to office accommodation, office equipment and motor vehicles. These leases have a duration of between 2 and 14 years. The leases are in respect of identified assets and under the terms of the agreements the Company has the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of the assets throughout the period of their use. It also has the right to direct the use of the assets throughout their period of use.

The lease liability, in respect of these assets, is measured at the commencement of the lease as the present value of the lease payments unpaid at that date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease if that rate is readily available or an incremental borrowing rate.

The lease liability is subsequently reduced by the value of lease rentals paid and increased by a charge for interest, based on the value of the outstanding lease liability.

The company has issued convertible and non-convertible loan stock to the City of Edinburgh Council and CEC Holdings Limited, as shown below. These loan stocks, which amount to a face value of £62,283,069 (31 December 2018: £61,566,243) either bear no interest or the interest on them has been waived by the stockholder.

The loans have been recognised at fair value by discounting the future cash flows using market interest rates. Loan stocks are then held at amortised cost by applying an effective interest rate, to increase the loan stock to its face value over the term of the loan stock's issue. These loans have been received from the parent company and the Company relies on these loans as an ongoing source of funding.

The preference shares carry no voting rights, but have the right to a fixed cumulative preferential dividend at the rate of 6% (net of associated tax credit) per annum, on the amount paid up, to be paid annually on 31 December each year.

The RBL ordinary shares, which were issued on 29 November 1995, carry no voting rights and are entitled to a dividend of £0.01 for every full amount of £100 worth of assets paid. This is payable after payment of the fixed dividend to holders of the preference shares.

The ordinary and preferred ordinary shares carry one vote per share and participate in profits available for dividend pro rata.

Capital management and risk management objectives

The company aims to manage its overall capital structure to ensure it continues to operate as a going concern. The company's capital structure represents the equity attributable to the shareholders of the company together with cash equivalents.

The Board is charged with the overall responsibility of establishing and monitoring the company's risk management policies and processes in order to identify, analyse and monitor the risks that are faced by the company. The company does not enter into or trade financial instruments for speculative purposes.

The main risks that the company is exposed to through its financial instruments are market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. These are managed as follows:

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as foreign exchange rates, interest rates and equity prices will affect the company's income. The company monitors this risk but it is very unlikely to affect the company's overall liquidity. The company's debt is primarily non-interest bearing.

Credit risk

Exposure to credit risk relating to financial assets arises from the potential non-performance by counterparties of contract obligations that could lead to a financial loss to the company. It arises from exposure to customers and amounts owed by group undertakings.

The maximum exposure to credit risk to recognised financial assets is the carrying amount, net of any provisions for impairment of those assets, as disclosed in the balance sheet and notes to the financial statements.

Credit risk is reviewed regularly by the directors and monitored by actively assessing the rating quality and liquidity of counterparties as follows:

22. Financial instruments and risk management (cont.)

- Only banks and institutions with an acceptable credit rating are utilised;
- All customers are rated for credit worthiness, where practical, taking into account their size, market position and financial standing;

Over 85% of the company's gross profits are derived from room hire fees which are paid in advance and from catering commission which is paid by the catering concessionaire.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk arises from the possibility that the company might encounter difficulty in settling its debts or otherwise meeting its obligations related to financial liabilities. The company manages that risk as follows:

- Preparing forward looking cash flow analysis; and
- Managing cash generated by its operations and retaining surplus cash in readily accessible bank deposit accounts.

Fair values

The directors consider that the carrying values of all the company's financial assets and liabilities approximate to their fair values at the balance sheet date.

23. Post Balance Sheet Event

A new transmittable disease, coronavirus, which was first recognised in China at the end of 2019, began affecting countries in Europe and the rest of the world in the early part of 2020. As a result of this and due to increasing concerns about the impact of the virus on people's health and wellbeing many businesses began to alter their modus operandi during February and March of this year.

The UK Government introduced a raft of lockdown restrictions on 23 March which meant that all non-essential business operations had to close. A number of events that had been scheduled to be held at EICC prior to this date had previously been cancelled and the government restrictions resulted in a huge number of clients contacting the Company to advise that they wished to cancel or postpone their forthcoming events.

As a result of this no events have been held at the ECC since the middle of March. Many of the clients with events that had been due to take place between then and the end of August have subsequently either cancelled their event and agreed a cancellation charge or have rescheduled their event to later in the year or into subsequent years.

This has had a significant impact on the Company's revenues which are currently approximately £8.6m down on budget for the year with cost of sales showing a reduction of nearly £4.0m against budget. These figures have been offset by a reduction in operating expenses of approximately £2.9m resulting in an estimated overall reduction in operating profit for 2020 of £1.7m.

The Company is now forecasting an operating loss of £0.8m for the year to 31 December 2020 but it has sufficient cash reserves to be able to cover this projected loss.

At this point in time the Scottish Government has not given any indication of when conference and exhibition venues will be able to reopen. However, the Company has a full order book from early September to the end of the year and given the current progress with regard to the easing of lockdown restrictions it remains confident that it will be able to service these events.

It should also be noted that the Company already had a very healthy events diary for 2021 and that this has been significantly enhanced with the business that has been rescheduled from 2020. It is therefore anticipated, at this point in time, that the Company will return to its pre 2020 levels of operating profit next year.

The figures, shown in the accounts, for the year to 31 December 2019 have not had to be adjusted in any way as the impact of the coronavirus pandemic had no impact on the Company's business for the year under review.
