REVIEW OF ACTIVITIES DURING THE PERIOD

This year Hillswick Wildlife Sanctuary succeeded in securing the necessary finance to proceed with the long-awaited upgrade to the animal care facilities. After the Sullom Voe Association agreed to fund 75% of a £400,000 building project last year, HWS secured the remaining finance through the European LEADER Fund. Further funds were raised this year from World Animal Protection.

As a result, HWS was able to sign a design and build contract with local firm Shetland Construction and Development Ltd to upgrade all our animals care facilities, build a visitor centre and install a seawater pumping system. We have arranged a bridging loan with Shetland Charitable Trust to help finance the project.

To raise further funds, HWS organised a Shetland Wildlife Photography exhibition at The Weaving Shed Gallery featuring work by local photographers, and trustees Anne Barron organised an art competition/exhibition at Islesburgh Community Centre. We also received a further bequest from the estate of Bill Hart and local woman Ramona Barton raised almost £850 for the sanctuary by running the Berlin Marathon.

Meanwhile media interest in the sanctuary continued with visits from film crews from France, Italy and Belgium. US-based website The Dodo made enquiries about filming in Hillswick, and the BBC interviewed HWS about the salmon industry shooting seals after an online documentary highlighted the issue when five seals were found shot on the island of Yell, resulting in a fine for the local salmon farm.

In other ways it was a sad year: two common seals died shortly after they were brought in to the sanctuary. One was premature and had an umbilical infection, the second had been attacked and severely wounded.

We accommodated six grey seals, five of which were successfully released. The sixth died within hours of arrival, and was sent for post mortem which uncovered a severe internal infection.

HWS was also faced with the continued blight of discarded fishing nets entangling seals. We disentangled a young grey seal on Unst, but it subsequently died from its wounds. Four other entangled seals were brought to our attention, none of which could be helped as they were still in the sea.

It was an unprecedented year for otters, with eight being rescued and/or released during the year, stretching our capacity to accommodate them. We also were called out to collect nine otters that had been killed on Shetland's roads, another issue of great concern.

During the year we had 12 volunteers staying at the sanctuary from Canada, France, Belgium, Spain and the USA. We also received regular help from our two trustees Alison and Richard Riley, and from Anne Barron.

HWS continues to benefit from monthly pledges and one off donations from more than 400 supporters throughout the world, without whom we would not be able to continue this work and for which we are extremely grateful.

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of accounting

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) 2005 Act and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. The charity trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1) (a) and (c) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under section 44(1) (c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

My examination is carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeks explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and, consequently, I do not express an audit opinion on the accounts.

Incoming Resources

Grants receivable are credited to the Statement of Financial Activities (SOFA) in the year in which they are received. Deferred income represents amounts received for future periods and are released to incoming resources in the period for which they have been received

All other income is included in the SOFA in the year in which it is receivable.

Cash flow statement

The trustees have taken advantage of the exemption in Financial Reporting Standard No.1 from including a cash flow statement in the financial statements on the grounds that the company is small.

Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated so as to write off the cost of an asset, less its estimated residual value, over the useful economic life of that asset,
