DIRECTORS' ANNUAL REPORT

for the year ended 31 March 2021

The Directors, who are also trustees for the purposes of charity law, are pleased to present their report and accounts for the year ended 31 March 2021.

The financial statements comply with the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005, the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended), the Companies Act 2006, the Memorandum and Articles of Association, and Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Purposes

The purposes of Volunteer Edinburgh as set out in its governing document are:

“To promote the advancement of education, the furtherance of health and the relief of poverty, sickness and distress by the promotion of voluntary service and the development of volunteering within the area of the City of Edinburgh and elsewhere”.

Our purpose is to build strong social connections, reduce inequalities and support vibrant communities through volunteers and volunteering activity.

Underpinning this are our guiding principles and beliefs that:

- Volunteering is an act of freewill and people have freedom of choice.
- There is transformative power in purposeful, meaningful activity.
- Everyone should have an opportunity to make a positive difference.
- There is power in the personal – volunteering is about relationships.
- Volunteering is Active Citizenship.

The difference we make through our outcomes is:

- More people in Edinburgh volunteer and/or are involved in their community.
- Volunteering reflects the diverse communities of Edinburgh.
- Organisations are able to provide a good quality volunteering experience.
- Local and national policy supports and encourages volunteering and active citizenship in all its forms.

Mission statement

Our mission for the year was to inspire more people to volunteer so they can enhance their lives, the lives of others and build resilient communities. To be delivered through the following Strategic Outcomes:-

- we inspire and enable people to volunteer;
- we ensure that every volunteer involving organisation is able to offer an excellent volunteering experience;
- using our expert knowledge we inform, educate and inspire our leaders on the benefits of volunteering for Edinburgh and its citizens;
- we inspire the development of volunteering opportunities which bring benefit to the community and enhance social capital;
- we are effective, well governed and managed and a great place to work or volunteer.

Aims and activities

To achieve our purpose and meet our outcomes in 2020/21 our strategic priorities were:

Volunteer brokerage - recruitment and placement

- The promotion of volunteering and information and advice for the public on volunteering; online, from our base in Leith Walk and at fairs and events around the city.
- Maintaining an accessible, online database of volunteering opportunities in the third and public sectors.
- The promotion and administration of the Saltire Youth Volunteering Awards.

Volunteering for personal development

- Supporting individuals with higher support needs to access volunteering.
- Supporting individuals in the labour market to improve their employability using volunteering.

Helping people stay connected and participating

- Supporting and developing volunteering at the Royal Edinburgh hospital and Firrhill residential unit, supporting people who have a mental health diagnosis.

Building stronger communities and challenging inequalities

- Supporting on the ground community development initiatives through Volunteering in North Edinburgh (ViNE).
- Championing equalities and rights through our coordination of the Equalities and Rights Network.

Helping organisations work better with volunteers

- Providing advice, information and consultancy on volunteers management to organisations who involve volunteers.
- Delivering training on all aspects of volunteer recruitment and management.
- The promotion of National Quality Standards in Volunteers Management.

Influencing and informing public policy on volunteering

- Being a key partner in Community Planning.
- Development of a Volunteering and Active Citizenship Strategy for Edinburgh

Volunteer Edinburgh has an equal commitment to people who wish to volunteer and the organisations that need those volunteers. We are a broker, expert friend, conduit, and champion.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

1. Volunteer Brokerage - recruitment and placement.

The emergence of the of the Covid 19 pandemic in March 2020 fundamentally altered the volunteering landscape in Edinburgh and the rest of the UK.

As soon as lockdown was announced at the end of the March 2020, many volunteer involving organisations suspended their volunteering programmes. This suspension meant that existing volunteers found themselves without roles. While some were required to shield due to age or underlying health condition, others were left looking for alternative volunteer roles. Simultaneously there was large increase in interest from the general public wanting to help out during the pandemic and volunteer. Demand from prospective volunteers increased in Q4 of the previous financial year and continued to be high in Q1 with a return to more normal levels in Q2.

This demand for opportunities coincided with a decrease in available opportunities advertised with us as a result of organisations suspending activities. Although in Q1 452 opportunities were on our website the majority of these were in reality unavailable but had not been archived by the organisations. During Q1 we undertook an audit of all opportunities advertised and archived inactive ones. Some new opportunities did emerge as organisations flexed and evolved to the new operating environment but this was not sufficient to meet demand.

VOLUNTEER CENTRE EDINBURGH

We created a dedicated webpage on our website to provide information about volunteering during the pandemic. This included information on available opportunities and advice on how to volunteer informally as a “good neighbour” in a safe and secure way. We also produced a video about being a good neighbour which was widely distributed. We created the ‘think local act local’ tag line which was used extensively throughout initial lockdown by ourselves and statutory partners.

Immediately at the start of lockdown we saw the formation of groups of ordinary citizens offering help. These were typically web-based mutual aid groups - fast to set up, often without recognition of the existing structures already in place, and largely without a full understanding of liability. Regardless of this, mutual aid combined with neighbourliness provided an important support structure for many communities. Through these mutual aid groups many people had their first experience of volunteering. Using our dedicated webpage and volunteerwiki we were able to advise and guide newly formed groups on how to undertake activity safely.

In April 2020 the Scottish Government started the Ready Scotland appeal for people to volunteer to help with the pandemic response. In Edinburgh 5,550 people signed up to become volunteers. With available opportunities at an historic low, there was a challenge as to how to meaningfully engage these prospects. We developed from scratch an entirely new programme for volunteer involvement and deployment, Community Taskforce Volunteers (CTV). We signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the City of Edinburgh Council and Health and Social Care Partnership (HSCP) to deliver volunteer support to people impacted by the pandemic.

We developed a new remote and robust onboarding methodology and received considerable in-kind support from our Salesforce developer Color, allowing us to integrate this into our existing Salesforce database.

We further developed our online Volunteer Academy learning platform to facilitate remote training and we partnered with private sector company Yoti to deliver an identity verification solution.

550 volunteers were fully onboarded and deployed to deliver a variety of support tasks to individuals impacted by the pandemic and to support the activities of public sector partners.

Community Taskforce Volunteers were deployed 3,880 times in the financial year, delivering a diverse range of support including shopping, prescription deliveries, dog walking, repaired hearing aid deliveries, as well as working with HSCP colleagues to deliver Flu and Covid Vaccination centres.

Although our office has been closed to the public during the entire year, we have migrated much of service delivery to an online offering, including giving phone advice on volunteering to 388 clients.

Both our annual events, the volunteer recruitment fair and our Inspiring Volunteer Awards, had to be cancelled. However, working with the Lord Provost, his Inspiring Volunteer of the Year Award was given to “the Citizens” of Edinburgh in recognition of the huge contribution they had made during the pandemic.

2. Volunteering for personal development

As we were closed to the public for the entire financial year, it was not possible for us to deliver either our normal Health and Wellbeing Service nor our Employability service. Recognising that for many of our existing clients the lockdown and suspension of their normal volunteering activities would lead to the chance of increased isolation and a negative impact on wellbeing, we set up a programme of scheduled phone "check ins" with our regular clients.

Using our in-house expertise, in addition to recruiting a known volunteer, we provided 51 phone support and coaching sessions to staff and volunteers of other voluntary sector organisations, to help them cope with the challenges of lockdown.

As lockdown evolved through the year, we were able to adapt to a remotely-delivered health and employability service, engaging with 29 referrals to Health and Wellbeing, 22 of whom received intensive support. Our Employability team undertook 34 remote assessments and provided on-going work coaching, resulting in 18 clients starting volunteering or paid employment.

Youth volunteering, like all volunteering, was negatively impacted by the pandemic. However we issued 195 Saltire certificates, a volume substantially down on previous years.

3. Helping people stay connected and participating.

On 23rd March 2020 all volunteer activity at the Royal Edinburgh Hub (REH), which was ward-based and patient facing, was suspended along with all patient activity/volunteering. The service therefore focussed on:

- Creation of a volunteer shopping service which was used by patients from 19 wards and by 5 occupational therapy teams, 4 or 5 days per week. The service was exceptionally busy from March to July. While activity slowed down in the autumn, demand increased again in January 2021 with the re-introduction of tighter restrictions.
- In collaboration with Edinburgh and Lothian Health Foundation, the coordination and distribution of gifts and donations to REH staff and patients, and of activity packs to patients.
- Supporting the REH staff flu and Covid vaccination programmes from November 2020 to March 2021.

The experience of REH volunteers has been very different from normal. Patient facing, relationship-based roles were replaced by task delivery roles for much of the year resulting in little recruitment of new volunteers and an adaptation of the usual volunteer training programme (sessions on interactional skills, boundaries, small talk etc were replaced by Covid specific training such as NHS infection control and use of lateral flow tests). Throughout lockdown clinicians continually reported that the absence of volunteers on wards, and the absence of those relationships and interactions with patients, was having a negative impact on patients' wellbeing.

Similarly, during the year we adapted our service at St. Stephen's Court and Firrhill, which aims to prepare residents for a fulfilling life in the community and build foundation skills. We continued to foster partnerships with local and Edinburgh-wide organisations, such as working with a local Neighbourhood Centre and Edinburgh College of Art to exhibit a resident's artwork. Activities to support residents develop their interests and hobbies, as a way of building pre-volunteering skills, continued remotely during lockdown and on-site when restrictions allowed it. Improvement of the green spaces continued, and we hosted outdoor activities such as a sunflower growing competition, outdoor cooking classes and a successful outdoor music performance. This encourages residents to engage in their outdoor space, improves space for the local neighbourhood and increases biodiversity.

4. Building stronger community and challenging inequalities.

Equality and Rights Network

EaRN membership numbers increased to over 190. While the pandemic put a stop to the Network's normal face-to-face activities, we were still able to deliver online sessions on Covid-19 inequalities and basic human rights training for public sector partners.

A key area of work was supporting public sector partners with the development and consultation of their draft Equality Outcomes for the next four years and providing opportunities for network members to have their voice heard both before and during the consultation. Other areas of focus were supporting colleagues at EVOC with the development of the Children, Young People and Families network, our continuing role within Edinburgh's community planning system, and work to address inequalities in the rollout of the Covid-19 vaccine.

5. Helping organisations work better with volunteers

Demand from Volunteer Involving Organisations seeking guidance and support unsurprisingly increased during the financial year. There were considerable challenges for organisations in navigating the initial lockdown and progressing on to look at restarting services and reengagement of volunteers.

As well as creating and updating a dedicated covid response page on our website we provided guidance and advice via our established volunteerwiki which had 7,218 unique users (up 54% on previous year) viewing 12,937 pages.

Building on the foundation of our already established Volunteer Academy online learning portal we were able to translate our Core Skills in Volunteer Management course onto an online learning model with 29 volunteer managers attending.

At the beginning of lockdown, colleagues in NHS Lothian were struggling to recruit the large number of volunteers needed to support a covid response. We deployed two senior managers to NHS Lothian from March to June 2020 to support their fast-track recruitment and engagement of volunteers.

6. Influencing and informing public policy on volunteering

As a partner in Edinburgh's Third Sector Interface, we continued to be actively involved in the city's community planning structures.

VOLUNTEER CENTRE EDINBURGH

The pandemic and the substantive impact on volunteering meant that work on our Volunteering and Active Citizenship Strategy was postponed. Work restarted in Q4 incorporating the experience of the pandemic and reflecting an altered landscape.

We continued our involvement with the Scottish Volunteering Forum and presented at a Volunteer Scotland run online expo on the impact of the pandemic on volunteering. Via the Scottish Volunteering Forum, we were asked to join the advisory group of Mobilising Voluntary Action, a four nations research project into volunteering and the pandemic being delivered by the University of Northumberland.

Scottish Government finally established the Implementation group for the National Framework for Volunteering on which we are represented.

Our volunteers

Volunteers are front and centre in the organisation. Volunteers are normally involved in a diverse range of roles across the organisation and make a core contribution to how we run projects and services. However, as a result of the suspension of face-to-face activities the majority of our existing volunteers were unable to perform their normal roles and regular volunteering opportunities were limited. Recognising the importance of keeping in touch with our volunteers we kept up regular phone check-ins with volunteers.

The Community Taskforce Volunteers of course were the exception, being very active throughout the year, and an instrumental part of our pandemic response.

When not in lockdown, volunteers are the public face of the organisation on our reception desk, they promote volunteering to the public at events, talks and presentations around the city and champion equalities and rights issues across the city. Throughout lockdown volunteers supported our social media and marketing strategy. As mentioned previously, at the Royal Edinburgh Hospital volunteers perform a wide variety of roles and were able to make an impact even when not able to enter onto wards, for example by running errands to keep patients stocked up with essential items during lockdown.

Including the CTV project, which clocked up almost 10,000 hours of volunteering during the year, volunteers contributed on average 281 hours per week. This can be valued as an in-kind contribution of around £238,322 per year based on Edinburgh's median hourly wage (£16.31 per hour, ONS provisional figure for 2020). Excluding the CTV project, volunteers contributed an average of 90 hours per week in 2020/21. This compares with 274 hours in 2019/20.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

The charity generated a surplus for the year of £44,127 (2020: deficit of £6,110). The total income amounted to £691,882 (2020: £685,798), of which £473,290 (2020: £412,120) was related to restricted projects and £218,592 (2020: £273,678) to unrestricted funds. At the balance sheet date the unrestricted reserves were £441,700 (2020: £396,073), including designated funds of £269,476 (2020: £230,857), with £8,578 (2020: £10,078) in restricted funds.

for the year ended 31 March 2021

Volunteer Edinburgh continues to rent its top floor office space and basement storage area, and more recently its excess desk space, providing sources of income that are part of the organisation's business plan to ensure financial viability.

Principal funding sources

The majority of the charity's income comes from grants and contracts from public sector sources.

Reserves policy

The Directors are of the opinion that an acceptable level of free reserves is between 2.5 and 3 months' expenditure. Free reserves provide working capital to cover cash flow requirements caused by delays in the receipt of funding, or to cover unexpected expenditure, for example on maintaining the building.

If reserves fall below 2.5 months' expenditure, or are forecast to do so, the board will review the budget and financial forecasts and take measures as necessary to increase income or reduce expenditure.

Based on the 2021-22 budget this represents a fund of between £144k and £173k.

Unrestricted free reserves of £172,224 are within the acceptable range.

Minor maintenance to the exterior of the building took place in the financial year, and more major work began after the year end, including render replacement and the first phase of roof repairs. The next stages of roof repairs including slate replacement are due to take place in late 2021 and 2022. In light of this the Directors aim to hold reserves at the top level of the acceptable range.

Risk Management

The trustees have a risk framework in place and monitor the organisational risk register throughout the year. Risks are evaluated by assessing probability and severity. To manage risks effectively, mitigating actions or plans are identified where appropriate, and owners are assigned to each action/plan.

Risks are categorised as Financial, Operational, External and Governance and a risk profile is created for each. One category is reviewed at each board meeting, to ensure that each risk area is evaluated during the year.

While the most significant risks identified by the trustees are usually those categorised as financial and operational, during the year Covid dominated all aspects of operations. This was reflected in risk reviews, with the risk to service delivery and reputation being assessed as severe or high at the beginning of the pandemic. During the year Volunteer Edinburgh demonstrated its resilience and adaptability, and post year-end the risk presented by Covid was downgraded. Uncertainty remains however around its longer-term impact on funding.

Covid has disguised the impact of Brexit and the board is aware that risks may emerge as a result of regulatory changes or changes to charity funding and governance. The Board keeps these under review and will monitor and assess them on an ongoing basis.

The charity must maintain income, cash flow and reserves in order to repay its property loan and to fulfil its aims. The trustees have identified a need to diversify income away from public sector sources. To mitigate risk we aim to maintain three months' free reserves and seek additional sources of income, including income generated from the property. The board agreed to engage the services of a fundraising consultant in 2020, who worked with the senior management team to develop funding applications.

The lease of our second-floor office space ends in Q3 of 2021/22, and Volunteer Edinburgh began openly marketing the space during 2020 in the hope of securing a new tenant. Income from rental of other desk space also ceased during the year with the introduction of lockdown restrictions. Volunteer Edinburgh continues to advertise its desk space for rent and to explore other creative options to generate income.

The risk of holding inadequate insurance is mitigated by an annual check of the policy cover against the charity's needs.

The risks to the charity's reputation through inappropriate volunteer placements is significant, and each volunteer placement is risk assessed. Staff training is in place to reduce the likelihood of this occurring.

The trustees aim to ensure the charity can deliver a good service to its clients and partners if a major event causes disruption. For this reason the business continuity plan is updated at least annually, as well as on an ad hoc basis.

Between meetings the board receives ad hoc updates from the senior management team on operational risks, including updates on higher risk service delivery areas. These increased in frequency during the pandemic.

PLANS FOR FUTURE PERIODS

Following on from Scottish Government's 2016 review of TSIs and subsequent wide consultations The Third Sector Interface Outcome Framework was launched in November 2018. This framework has a particular focus on outcomes and is aligned with the National Performance Framework in order to support organisations to respond flexibly to local circumstances and help improve outcomes. Following its publication Edinburgh TSI partners undertook a review of our outcomes ensuring that we meet the key objectives laid down by Scottish Government. This in turn led to the development of a logic model work plan. Volunteer Edinburgh's short-term outcomes were already heavily aligned to the outcomes articulated by Scottish Government.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

Volunteer Centre Edinburgh (VCE) is a company limited by guarantee (No. SC202631) governed by its Memorandum and Articles of Association and is recognised as a Scottish charity (No. SC029681).

Appointment of Directors

Up to eight "member" Directors, drawn from the membership of the company, may be elected by the members and up to four non-member "appointed" Directors may be appointed by the Directors of the company. Appointments are determined by the skills gaps on the Board.

Directors' induction and training

A comprehensive induction pack is given to all trustees. Individual training needs of trustees assessed at recruitment and periodically. Collective training on responsibilities delivered over a three year cycle. The Board Development plan is set and reviewed by the board on an ongoing basis.

Organisational structure

Trustees (Directors) take overall financial and strategic planning responsibility. The operational management is delegated to staff. A three-yearly development plan is developed by trustees and staff. Annual work plans are developed by staff. The trustees are responsible for recruiting senior members of staff, overseeing organisational restructuring and risk assessment.

The trustees have a governance protocol and scheme of delegated authority. In some situations, responsibility and authority for decisions will be delegated to committees and working groups and/or the Convenor and Treasurer.

Pay and Remuneration of Key Personnel

The directors consider that the key management personnel of the charity, in charge of directing and controlling, running and operating the charity on a day to day basis, comprise the board of directors, who are the charity's trustees, and the senior management team. All directors are volunteers and no director received remuneration in the year. Details of directors' expenses are disclosed in note 8 to the accounts.

The contractual pay of senior staff is reviewed on an ad hoc basis. This last took place in 2016, when there was a restructuring of the senior management team.

Third Sector Interface

Volunteer Centre Edinburgh is part of the Edinburgh Third Sector Interface, a strategic and operational partnership with EVOC and ESE. Collectively we support and develop a strong Third Sector in Edinburgh; deliver volunteering and social enterprise development; and build Third Sector relationships with community planning.

The Edinburgh TSI received £326,400 from the Scottish Government in financial year 2020-21 to fund its core activities. In addition, the TSI received £80,49 to fund its response to the pandemic. A small proportion of the grant each year is set aside by the TSI to fund collaborative work. The remainder of the grant is disbursed to the three TSI member organisations.

STATEMENT OF DIRECTORS' RESPONSIBILITIES

The Directors are responsible for preparing the Directors' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with the applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company law requires the Directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year that give a true and fair view of the state of the affairs of the charitable company as at the balance sheet date and of its incoming resources and application of resources, including income and expenditure, for the financial year. In preparing those financial statements, the Directors are required to:

- Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- Observe the methods and principles of the Charities SORP;
- Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- State whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed; subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to assume that the charitable company will continue on that basis.

The Directors are responsible for maintaining proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006, the Charities & Trustees Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). The Directors are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The Directors are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the corporate and financial information included on the charitable company's website. Legislation in the United Kingdom governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO AUDITORS

Each of the Directors has confirmed that there is no information of which they are aware which is relevant to the audit, but of which the auditor is unaware. They have further confirmed that they have taken appropriate steps to identify such relevant information and to establish that the auditors are aware of such information.

This report has been prepared in accordance with the special provisions of Part 15 of the Companies Act 2006 relating to small companies.

Approved by and authorised for issue by the board of directors on 24 August 2021 and signed on their behalf by:-

John Lawrie
Director

VOLUNTEER CENTRE EDINBURGH

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE DIRECTORS AND MEMBERS

Opinion

We have audited the accounts of Volunteer Centre Edinburgh (the charitable company) for the year ended 31 March 2021, which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities (incorporating the Income and Expenditure Account), the Balance Sheet, the Statement of Cash Flows and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including FRS102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland' (United Kingdom Accounting Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charitable company's affairs as at 31 March 2021 and of its income and expenditure for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006, the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and regulation 8 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended).

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs UK) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the charity in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The trustees are responsible for the other information. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

VOLUNTEER CENTRE EDINBURGH

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE DIRECTORS AND MEMBERS

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Charities and Trustees Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended) requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- the information given in the financial statements is inconsistent in any material respect with the trustees' annual report; or
- Proper accounting records have not been kept; or
- The financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the trustees' responsibilities statement set out on page 10, the trustees are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements which give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the charity or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

We have been appointed as auditor under section 44(1)(c) of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and report in accordance with the Act and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

VOLUNTEER CENTRE EDINBURGH

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

Irregularities that result from fraud are inherently more difficult to detect than irregularities that result from error.

From enquiries of those charged with governance, it was determined that the risk of material misstatement from fraud was low with little scope for fraud to occur. Our audit testing is designed to detect material misstatements from fraud where there is not high level collusion.

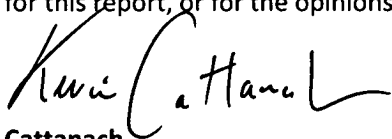

Our audit testing was designed to detect material misstatements from other irregularities that result from error where there is not high level concealment of the error. In this regard the following audit work was undertaken: applicable laws and regulations were reviewed and discussed with management; senior management meeting minutes were reviewed; internal controls were reviewed; and journals were reviewed. From this audit testing it was determined that the risk of material misstatement in this regard was low.

We performed income and expenditure testing which was designed to identify any irregularities as a result of mistakes or human error. From this audit testing it was determined that the risk of material misstatement in this regard was low.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charity's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006, and the trustees, as a body, in accordance with section 44(1)(c) of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005, regulation 10 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charity's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charity and the charity's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

VOLUNTEER CENTRE EDINBURGH

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Accounting Policies

1.1 Accounting convention

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS102) (effective 1 January 2019) - (Charities SORP (FRS 102), the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) and the Companies Act 2006.

Volunteer Centre Edinburgh meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS102. Assets and liabilities are initially recorded at historical cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant accounting policy note(s).

The trustees consider there are no material uncertainties about the charity's ability to continue as a going concern. Accordingly the financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis. This assessment of going concern includes the expected impact of COVID-19 to the entity in the 12 months following the signing of these financial statements.

1.2 Income recognition

Donations and legacies including grants that provide core funding or are of general nature are recognised where there is entitlement, probability of receipt and the amount can be measured with sufficient reliability. Such income is only deferred when the donor specifies that the grant must only be used in future accounting periods, or when the donor has imposed conditions which must be met before the charity has unconditional entitlement.

Income from investments, namely bank interest, is included in the year in which it is receivable.

Income from charitable activities includes income received under contract or where entitlement to grant funding is subject to specific performances conditions is recognised as earned (as the related services are provided). Grant income included in this category provides funding to support performance activities and is recognised where there is entitlement, certainty of receipt and the amount can be measured with sufficient reliability.

1.3 Expenditure recognition

Liabilities are recognised as resources expended as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the Charity to the expenditure. All expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all costs related to the category. The charity is not registered for VAT and, accordingly, expenditure is shown gross of irrecoverable VAT.

Charitable expenditure comprises those costs incurred by the charity in the delivery of its activities and services for its beneficiaries. It includes both costs that can be allocated directly to such activities and those costs of an indirect nature necessary to support them.

Support costs are those functions that assist the work of the charity but do not directly undertake charitable activities. Support costs include governance costs which support the charity's programmes and activities. These costs include the expenses of Trustee meetings, the statutory audit and legal and professional fees. These costs have been allocated between cost of raising funds and expenditure on charitable activities. The bases on which support costs have been allocated are set out in note 5.

1.4 Tangible fixed assets and depreciation

All fixed assets are initially recorded at cost with assets costing in excess of £1,000 capitalised.

Depreciation is provided at rates calculated to write off the cost less residual value of each asset over its expected useful life, as follows:-

Freehold property	over 50 years
Capital improvements	10% straight line
Computer equipment	20% - 33.33% straight line

1.5 Investment Properties

Investment properties are included at market value at the balance sheet date. Gains and losses on revaluation are included in the Statement of Financial Activities in the year in which they arise.

1.6 Leasing

Rentals payable under operating leases are charged against income on a straight line basis over the lease term.

1.7 Pensions

The Charity operates a Defined Contributions Pension Scheme. Contributions are charged in the accounts as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the Scheme.

1.8 Fund Accounting

Unrestricted funds are incoming resources generated for the objects of the charity without further specified purpose and are available as general funds.

Designated funds are unrestricted funds that have been earmarked by the directors for a specific purpose.

Restricted funds are to be used for specific purposes as laid down by the donor. Expenditure that meets these criteria is charged to the fund together with a fair allocation of management and support costs.

1.9 Financial instruments

The charity only has financial assets and financial liabilities of a kind that qualify as basic financial instruments. Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured at their settlement value with the exception of bank loans which are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.
