DIRECTORS' REPORT for the year ended 31 March 2005

The directors present their report and financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2005.

Principal activities

The principal activity of the company is to promote, support and effect the development, procurement and implementation of certain projects defined or referred to in the Local Transport Strategy of The City of Edinburgh Council.

Review of business

During the year to 31 March 2005, substantial progress was achieved on all of the projects for which tie has responsibility. During the year, tie did take on significant new work, although as described below, work on other projects came to an end.

tie works for a number of different clients. tie was created by the City of Edinburgh Council (CEC) which continues to be the largest client. The following projects are those undertaken on behalf of CEC.

The Public Inquiry on the Congestion Charging Scheme for Edinburgh, held in summer 2004, resulted in a positive report and a recommendation from the independent Reporters to proceed. The scheme was put to a referendum by the City of Edinburgh Council in February but the vote was clearly against the scheme. Consequent to the Council's instruction, work ceased on the scheme and on Tram Line 3, which was dependant upon funds from congestion charging.

The Private Bills for Tram Lines 1 and 2, to which the Scottish Executive committed funding of £375 million in 2003, received approval in principle from the Scottish Parliament in February 2005. Work is now ongoing on the detailed consideration with a view to achieving Royal Assent by December 2005. Substantial progress has also been made on design review, procurement planning and the business case.

The West Edinburgh Busways (Fastlink) bus priority system was opened in November 2004 on programme and under budget. tie has assumed responsibility for operating the Fastlink until 2007.

tie managed the delivery of Ingliston Park and Ride near Edinburgh airport, which will open in the summer of 2005.

The following project is being undertaken on behalf of One-Ticket Limited, a company whose shareholders include major transport operators and local authorities in the SESTRAN (South East Scotland TRANsport) area.

tie managed the integrated travel ticket scheme (One-Ticket) for South East Scotland. The scheme has achieved substantial revenue growth and will shortly be self financing. tie has also taken on the management of the Forth Estuary Transport Authority's road user charging proposal for the Forth Road Bridge.

The following heavy rail project is being undertaken on behalf of, and will be funded largely by, the Scottish Executive:

tie has worked on preparing the bill for the £500 million Edinburgh Airport Rail Link (EARL), and has made good progress. All major technical issues have been resolved, and the project presents a very good business case. Following discussions with the Executive, and with the Parliamentary Bills Unit, the bill will now be published in late-June 2005 for consultation before formal introduction into the Parliament in October.

The final project is being undertaken for Clackmannanshire Council, and is funded by the Scottish Executive:

tie assumed responsibility for the management of the re-opening of the Stirling – Alloa – Kincardine railway (SAK). Work on site commenced with the removal of trees and other vegetation that had accumulated since the line became disused, and construction work will begin in summer 2005.

Each project undertaken by tie is subject to rigorous budgetary and financial control, risk assessment and project management discipline.

The above is a far-reaching and complex set of projects which are fundamental to the successful delivery of improved transport facilities for people living and working in south east Scotland.

In the year to March 31 2005 tie had an average of 27 employees (2004: 13). Turnover was £23 million up from £12 million.

During the year tie relocated successfully to its current address near Haymarket station in July 2004, well positioned to keep a direct eye on tram construction and transport integration in the area.

Corporate governance

tie seeks to apply high standards of corporate behaviour and has entered into an Operating Agreement which governs the relationship between the company and its 100% shareholder, the City of Edinburgh Council. As part of its responsibility for oversight of these arrangements, the Board has established Remuneration and Audit Committees comprising independent non-executive directors. The remit and operational process of these committees are in line with best practice for UK companies, as adapted for the circumstances of the company. The company operates a detailed delegated authority structure which sets out the matters which are reserved for Board approval and the level of authority permitted to management.

Directors' responsibilities

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that year. In preparing those financial statements, the directors are required to:

- ◆ Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- ◆ Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- ◆ Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 1985. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Respective responsibilities of the directors and auditors

As described in the statement of directors' responsibilities on page 2 the company's directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards.

We read the directors' report and consider the implications for our report if we become aware of any apparent misstatements within it.

Basis of audit opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with United Kingdom Auditing Standards issued by the Auditing Practices Board. An audit includes examination, on a test basis, of evidence relevant to the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. It also includes an assessment of the significant estimates and judgements made by the directors in the preparation of the financial statements, and of whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the company's circumstances, consistently applied and adequately disclosed.

We planned and performed our audit so as to obtain all the information and explanations which we considered necessary in order to provide us with sufficient evidence to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or other irregularity or error.
