STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

The charity is constituted as a company limited by guarantee and is therefore governed by its articles of association.

Appointment, induction and training of trustees

When there is a requirement for new trustees, these are identified and appointed by the remaining trustees. In 2018, Dr Catriona Gardner retired as Chair and Treasurer and was replaced by Prof. Katherine Heal. This turn-over was planned. The charity trustees include the following officers of the Association's Bureau: President, Secretary General and Treasurer, the former two being elected positions. The induction of the new trustees involves making them aware of a trustee's responsibility, the governing document and administrative procedures of the charity.

Organisation

The charity is organised so that the trustees meet regularly to manage its affairs. A manager is appointed by the trustees to manage the day to day running of the charity.

Risk management

The trustees actively review the major risks which the charity faces on a regular basis and believe that maintaining reserves at current levels, combined with an annual review of the controls over key financial systems, will provide sufficient resources in the event of adverse conditions. The trustees have also examined other operational and business risks faced by the charity and confirm that they have established systems to mitigate the significant risks.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES FOR THE PUBLIC BENEFIT

The charity's objectives are to advance education and research in hydrology for the public benefit and to publish the useful results of such research. A major activity continues to be the production and distribution of scientific journals. The charity supports the International Association of Hydrological Sciences (IAHS) by providing services for the membership and supporting the IAHS Bureau in its endeavours. The trustees confirm that they have complied with the duty in Section 17 of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to public benefit guidance published by the Charity Commission.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

IAHS Ltd supports the President, Secretary General and Treasurer of the International Association of Hydrological Sciences and the Association's Bureau activities and manages the Association's finances. It is also responsible for the Association's website (www.iahs.info) which is the information hub for the Association and its 10 commissions, maintains the IAHS membership database and sends information to members about IAHS activities and events via electronic alerts, newsletters, and social media. There were almost 8300 IAHS members at the end of 2018 of whom 39% were in financially disadvantaged countries. Membership of the Association is free of charge.

In 2018, IAHS launched a new travel award, the Sivapalan Young Scientists Travel Award (SYSTA) which aims to: (1) strengthen attendance of IAHS meetings from financially disadvantaged countries; and (2) foster high quality science among a new generation of hydrologists. The first meeting for which SYSTA support will be available is the 27th IUGG General Assembly in July 2019. The award is limited to a maximum of €2,000 per individual for covering registration fee, visa fee (if necessary), accommodation and transport.

In 2018, IAHS also established the Early Career Committee (ECC) recognising the significant contribution of early career scientists and creating an opportunity to include a new generation of hydrologists as active contributors to IAHS. The membership of the ECC, consisting of the Early Career Representative of each IAHS Commission plus a chair and co-chair, was identified in 2018 and its formal mandate begins in July 2019.

In terms of specific activities and meetings, IAHS Ltd provided assistance to the IAHS Unsolved Problems in Hydrology (UPH) meeting in Vienna in April 2018 to select the questions for this IAHS initiative. The vision of UPH is for the list of unsolved problems in hydrology to better link to hydrological research around the world, and to make more tangible, coherent progress in hydrology. It will also guide future planning of IAHS symposia and other events. IAHS sponsored a range of other events and IAHS Ltd promoted them, e.g. the MOXXI and WMO HydroHub joint meeting held at WMO in Geneva, the International Water Resources meeting in June in Beijing (WRM2018), the International Remote Sensing (ICRS) meeting in Cordoba in May 2018, the STAHY meeting in Australia, and the Third Panta Rhei International Conference in Harare, Zimbabwe in October 2018. The IAHS officers and other Bureau members provided input to various initiatives such as the International Hydrological Programme of UNESCO, and the UN Environment-led World Water Quality Assessment Inception Workshop.

Financial support of £18,000 was distributed to members from financially disadvantaged countries to facilitate their travel to meetings. £10,000 was used to support the costs of participation of 50 early career hydrologists and students from 5 African countries at the Third Panta Rhei International Conference in Harare, Zimbabwe in October 2018. A grant of £8,000 was also made to WaterNet, a regional network of university departments and research and training institutes specialising in water in Southern Africa, to assist their early career scientists to participate in the 19th WaterNet/WARFSA/GWP-SA Symposium in Livingstone, Zambia.

IAHS Ltd publishes the Hydrological Sciences Journal; the online journal is made available free of charge to libraries and IAHS members in financially disadvantaged countries. IAHS also publishes the proceedings of IAHS symposia and workshops in the online, open access Proceedings of the IAHS (PIAHS) series. The online library of IAHS publications, available free to view at the IAHS website, was expanded further in 2018 with more volumes that previously were only available in print.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

IAHS Ltd's activities are now primarily funded by royalties from publishing Hydrological Sciences Journal, and the annual grant from the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics (IUGG). The royalties grew in 2018 due to the increased size of the journal. As a consequence of the greater income and reduced expenditure IAHS Ltd made a surplus in 2018 of £48,074, and the reserves stand at £405,902, as shown in the Statement of Financial Activities.

Reserves policy

IAHS Ltd has been building-up its reserves over the last few years. They now stand at £405,902, much of which is held in fixed-term deposit accounts for the purpose of enabling the activities of the charitable company to continue in the event of difficulties such as staff illness, increase in suppliers' prices, etc., and to provide funds for exceptional purchases. The charitable company will aim to maintain its reserves at approximately 100% of annual expenditure as this is considered to be a suitable level. As the reserves stand at more than 100% of annual expenditure, some capital is planned to be used for travel grants and other expenditure supporting hydrologists from financially disadvantaged countries in 2019 and subsequent years.

PLANS FOR FUTURE PERIODS

The main activities will continue to be provision of support for IAHS members and officers, and IAHS publishing. A fund (SYSTA) was established in 2018 to enable financial awards to early career hydrological scientists in financially disadvantaged countries for travel/attendance at IAHS meetings. Typically, £25,000 will be allocated per year and any unspent funding will be carried over to the following year. The next major IAHS meeting is at the 27th IUGG General Assembly in Montreal, Canada in July 2019. 15 candidates were confirmed for SYSTA awards of €2,000 each to pay for travel and accommodation at the Assembly.

In addition, in 2019, an £8,000 grant will again be made to WaterNet to support attendance by their early career scientists at hydrological meetings and conferences. £10,000 will also be allocated in 2019 to support publications by authors based in financially disadvantaged countries through covering editorial review costs of PIAHS papers.

TRUSTEES' RESPONSIBILITIES IN RELATION TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The trustees are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year, which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing these financial statements the trustees are required to:

- 1. select suitable accounting policies and apply them consistently;
- 2. observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP (FRS 102);
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- 4. state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- 5. prepare the financial statements on a going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in operation.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and, hence, for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

- 2. the accounts do not accord with those records; or
- 3. the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of section 396 of the 2006 Act other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair view' which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination; or
- 4. the accounts have not been prepared in accordance with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice for accounting and reporting by charities applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102).
