REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES FOR THE YEAR ENDED 28 February 2016

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Organisational structure

The charity is organised so that the trustees meet regularly to manage its affairs. A management committee meets between trustees' meetings to address operational issues.

Related parties

D M Baldock received part of the total rent as one of the Executors of Mrs P Baldock paid in the year of £17,734 (2015 - £17,667) under a formal lease for a 99 year period.

Risk management

The trustees have a duty to identify and review the risks to which the charity is exposed and to ensure appropriate controls are in place to provide reasonable assurance against fraud and error as well as potential risks associated with the charitable activities arising from public opening, with the collection being open for a significant number of days per annum

Restoration and maintenance projects were taken forward on several items in the collection and improvements made to the site. Safety is a primary concern and there were no serious incidents reported during the year. Training of volunteers in safety procedures receives particular attention both in the fairground and railway operations.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The principal activity of the charity continues to be for the assembly and operation at Hollycombe, of a comprehensive collection of working steam engines and associated equipment performing, so far as possible, their original functions in a rural setting.

Significant activities

As usual visitors were welcomed between Easter and mid October, with a programme of early evening opening in the closing weeks of the season. The programme of Christmas openings was not organised this year due to the challenges involved in managing the exposure of equipment to the weather at that time of year. However there was an active programme of special events during the year, including the fairground weekend when a number of visiting rides and organs are displayed and running alongside the core collection.

Further improvements have been made to the quarry railway track with additional sections of old rail lifted, new ballast and sleepers being laid to support new heavier gauge rail which should be in place for many years. We intend to continue this investment programme to bring the whole quarry railway up to a new standard. Unfortunately progress on the restoration of our second narrow gauge locomotive, 'Caledonia' has been relatively slow because of the limited funds available to tackle the serious boiler work required. The Garrett converted showman's engine, 'Leiston Town', which has been on continuous duty on the bioscope for many years, has been taken out of service for boiler work, including a new smokebox.

Trustees have reviewed the extensive programme of restoration required across the collection and have embarked on a far reaching review of costs and expenditure aiming to create further resources for maintenance and align the skills available to the key requirements. This will include more focus on carpentry for example and the possible re structuring of management responsibilities with an emphasis on maximising the role of skilled volunteers in the operation of Hollycombe. Negotiations with representatives of the army regarding training opportunities for soldiers at no cost to the collection have been initiated and some possible projects identified. The potential for an HLF funding application for the next steps in Hollycombe's development is under scrutiny and contacts have been made.

Volunteers

The collection is managed and operated almost exclusively by volunteers with a wide range of ages, skills and backgrounds. Their work extends to maintenance and restoration projects, site maintenance, interpretation, outreach and publicity, the operation of the collection, catering, retailing, cleaning and many other aspects of the museum's operation. The trustees are grateful for their tremendous work and dedication on behalf of the collection for another year.

We are very grateful for the may years of voluntary help by Colin Healey who continues to contribute to the running of the collection, including the finances and driving on the miniature railway but who is stepping down as a Trustee in 2016.

ACHIEVEMENT AND PERFORMANCE

Charitable activities

Restoration and maintenance projects were taken forward on several items in the collection, including those noted above. A major project to restore the Ghost House was a key priority and it is hoped that it will be back on display by the end of the summer season. As usual a variety of improvements were made to the site but more extensive investment is required. Safety is a primary concern and there were no serious incidents reported during the year. Training of volunteers in safety procedures receives particular attention both in the fairground and railway operations.

Visitor numbers were around the same level as in 2015 and receipts were similar as well; given increasing costs and inflation this is not generating the level of income required to maintain and restore the collection to the level we would like and action to rectify the position is required. This is a priority for Trustees. The new policy of charging visitors an annual entrance fee and allowing them to visit the collection as many times as they wish for the price of a single admission is a success and increases the level of public access without diminishing income. We intend to continue with this, having kept the options under review. Considerable numbers of visitors take advantage of this opportunity and visit the collection on several different occasions.

Sales in the café have continued to benefit from the greater number of visitors present, less so in the shop.

Feedback from visitors is generally good with much appreciation of the volunteers and the friendly atmosphere although there have been disappointments when certain fairground rides have not been able to be operated, usually because of a shortage of trained volunteers. We plan to work hard to build up our community of supporters and to offer them the best experience we can provide.

Restoration costs continue to absorb the lion's share of expenditure beyond essential running costs which are kept to a minimum. However there were not sufficient funds to cover some of the projects which we would like to undertake. For example there was regrettably slow progress in restoration of coaches on the quarry railway and we were not able to undertake the required work on the traction engine "Sunset" or on the steam farm collection. Progress on the beam engine restoration, funded privately rather than by the Trust was encouraging and it was in steam more than once. Safety remains the critical priority and was the guiding principal for investment on the fairground rides as well as in the training of volunteers and staff.

Fundraising activities

The charity held various regular events which raised £35,430 in gift aid (2015 - £35,189 and school days raised £4,558 (2015 - £4,606).

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Reserves policy

The trustees have considered the appropriateness of the required reserves and have a policy of retaining sufficient available surplus funds to meet unforeseen damage or repairs to the collection. At present this is considered to be at around £50,000 or 5% of the original value of the collection.

Principal funding sources

The charity needs to raise sufficient funds from gate admission to the public and school visits to meet all costs of operating and maintaining the collection.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF HOLLYCOMBE WORKING STEAM MUSEUM

I report on the accounts for the year ended 28 February 2016 set out on pages six to thirteen.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees (who are also the directors for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under Section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act)) and that an independent examination is required.

Having satisfied myself that the charity is not subject to audit under company law and is eligible for independent examination, it is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under Section 145 of the 2011 Act
- to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission (under Section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act); and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of the independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statements below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- (1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 386 and 387 of the Companies Act 2006; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records, comply with the accounting requirements of Sections 394 and 395 of the Companies Act 2006 and with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities

have not been met; or

(2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
