The existing trustees are receptive to the recruitment of new trustees who have experience in the operation of other charitable organisations or have specific skills in areas such as those related to the charitable objectives.

New trustees are provided with information on the charity covering the governing document and explanations of the charitable objectives.

HOLLYCOMBE WORKING STEAM MUSEUM

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES FOR THE YEAR ENDED 28 February 2015

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Organisational structure

The charity is organised so that the trustees meet regularly to manage its affairs. A management committee meets between trustees' meetings to address operational issues.

Related parties

D M Baldock received part of the total rent as one of the Executors of Mrs P Baldock paid in the year of £17,667 (2014 - £17,386) under a formal lease for a 99 year period.

Risk management

The trustees have a duty to identify and review the risks to which the charity is exposed and to ensure appropriate controls are in place to provide reasonable assurance against fraud and error as well as potential risks associated with the charitable activities arising from public opening, with the collection being open for a significant number of days per annum.

Restoration and maintenance projects were taken forward on several items in the collection and improvements made to the site. Safety is a primary concern and there were no serious incidents reported during the year. Training of volunteers in safety procedures receives particular attention both in the fairground and railway operations.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The principal activity of the charity continues to be for the assembly and operation at Hollycombe, of a comprehensive collection of working steam engines and associated equipment performing, so far as possible, their original functions in a rural setting:

Significant activities

As usual visitors were welcomed between Easter and mid October, with a programme of early evening opening in the closing weeks of the season. The programme of Christmas openings was not organised this year but there were other special events during the year including the fairground weekend and a country fair, with selected rides on the fairground running as well as the quarry railway and attractions inside the visitor centre. This was well received. There were also special events during the year, including the fairground weekend.

Significant improvements have been made to the quarry railway track with a number of sections of rail lifted, new ballast and sleepers being laid together with new heavier gauge rail which should be in place for many years. We intend to continue this investment programme to bring the whole quarry railway up to a new standard.

Volunteers

The collection is managed and operated almost exclusively by volunteers with a wide range of ages, skills and backgrounds. Their work extends to maintenance and restoration projects, site maintenance, interpretation, outreach and publicity, the operation of the collection, catering, retailing, cleaning and many other aspects of the museum's operation. The trustees are grateful for their tremendous work and dedication on behalf of the collection for another year.

ACHIEVEMENT AND PERFORMANCE

Charitable activities

Restoration and maintenance projects were taken forward on several items in the collection and improvements made to the site. Safety is a primary concern and there were no serious incidents reported during the year. Training of volunteers in safety procedures receives particular attention both in the fairground and railway operations.

Visitor numbers were around the same level as in 2014 but receipts were slightly lower. This reflected the new policy of charging visitors an annual entrance fee allowing them to visit the collection as many times as they wish for the price of a single admission. Considerable number of visitors took advantage of this opportunity and visited the collection on several different occasions. This increased access to the site and enjoyment of the facilities.

There was some increase in sales in the café in particular arising from the greater number of visitors present. We believe that the new approach is building up a loyal base of visitors and supporters and will pay off over the medium term. Feedback from visitors is generally good with much appreciation of the volunteers as well as the collection that we are able to offer. There were some days when shortages of volunteers did result in some of the rides not being able to be run and this is an area where we need to continue to work hard to build on our community of supporters. Restoration costs were high again this year and there were not sufficient funds to cover some of the projects which we would like to undertake. For example there was regrettably slow progress in restoration of the quarry railway locomotive "Caledonia" and we were not able to undertake the required work on the traction engine "Sunset". Safety remains the critical priority and was the guiding principal for investment on the fairground rides as well as in the training of volunteers and staff.

Fundraising activities

The charity held various regular events which raised £35,189 in gift aid (2014 - £33,255 and school days raised £4,606 (2014 - £5,552).

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Reserves policy

The trustees have considered the appropriateness of the required reserves and have a policy of retaining sufficient available surplus funds to meet unforeseen damage or repairs to the collection. At present this is considered to be at around £50,000 or 5% of the original value of the collection.

Principal funding sources

The charity needs to raise sufficient funds from gate admission to the public and school visits to meet all costs of operating and maintaining the collection.

Approved by order of the board of trustees on 23 November 2015 and signed on its behalf by:

D M Baldock - Trustee

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF HOLLYCOMBE WORKING STEAM MUSEUM

I report on the accounts for the year ended 28 February 2015 set out on pages five to twelve.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees (who are also the directors for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under Section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act)) and that an independent examination is required.

Having satisfied myself that the charity is not subject to audit under company law and is eligible for independent examination, it is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under Section 145 of the 2011 Act
- to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission (under Section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act); and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of the independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statements below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- (1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements
- to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 386 and 387 of the Companies Act 2006; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records, comply with the accounting requirements of Sections 394 and 395 of the Companies Act 2006 and with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities

have not been met; or

- (2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
