Family Refugee Support Project

Company Registration Number - 04644258

Trustees' Annual Report for the year ended 30 September 2022

The main activities undertaken in relation to those purposes during the year.

The Family Refugee Support Project (FRSP) is a registered charity that has been providing long-term trauma psychotherapy to refugees and people seeking asylum in North West England for 20 years. The therapy is provided in a holistic way so that the wider needs of our clients are met. Practical support is provided alongside more conventional therapy including signposting, information sessions and individual coaching to help integration into UK life.

Refugees and people seeking asylum face the cumulative impact of structural discrimination, experiencing severe adversity back home, on their journey and in the UK, managing changed family relationships, isolation, poverty, asylum status uncertainty, poor housing, and difficulties to accessing health, education and housing services. In addition, they face challenges accessing, negotiating and engaging in therapy due to language barriers and a lack of interpreters. The people that we work with have fled conflict, escaped persecution, or experienced confinement and torture. They may have been exposed to warfare, human trafficking and sexual violence. They arrive in the UK to be housed frequently in poor accommodation often in areas hostile to migrants. FRSP has worked with clients who have experienced all of these things.

FRSP works with both individual adults and families. When working with families there is usually one adult family member who has experienced trauma and harm, and they are the recipient of therapy. In some cases we work with single parents who have lost partners, or where their children are the result of rape and trafficking. Some parents of refugee and asylum seeker backgrounds find it difficult to leave children in the care of others. This can cause a barrier to effective therapeutic intervention. We allow children to be in the therapeutic space and help the parents establish time for themselves. We seek to reduce the parents' trauma, which has a positive impact on the children.

FRSP has a dedicated staff team with a combined experience of over 50 years in this field. FRSP staff have extensive experience and training in working with people from other cultures, trauma and most importantly, the use of interpreters in therapy. Working with interpreters is integral to our model and they are specially trained in therapeutic settings.

With refugees and people seeking asylum therapeutic interventions can take months. Some clients need the patience and expertise of years. FRSP seeks, where possible, not to set time limitations on the duration of therapy. The balance between psychotherapy, therapeutic activities, and practical support is led by the clients. Our aim is to empower clients to manage their mental health as well as to enable them to gain the confidence to move on with their lives.

The main activities undertaken during the year to further the charity's purpose for the public benefit.

The trustees have had regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit in managing the activities of the charity.

FRSP has continued to operate four programmes to support refugees and people seeking asylum in Merseyside and Greater Manchester, UK. Our family friendly and holistic approach to engaging with refugee and people seeking asylum is common to all of our programmes. The balance of therapeutic modalities utilised does, however, vary.

Seeds of Recovery

Seeds of Recovery delivers a first intervention service with newly arrived people seeking asylum who are not yet dispersed to their long-term accommodation, but are in need of immediate psychological help. We offer this service in Liverpool, at the initial accommodation and, in Wigan, at temporary hotel accommodation. These services have offered clients up to 3 sessions of psychological therapy focusing on the reduction of trauma symptoms utilising techniques such as grounding and psychoeducation.

Grow Your Own Future

Grow Your Own Future has worked with refugees and people seeking asylum in Liverpool for over 20 years. The programme operates on public allotments and also in a secluded and enclosed urban garden in Toxteth with raised beds and wheelchair access - provided generously by the Archdiocese of Liverpool.

Grow Your Own Future uses horticultural settings specifically to counter a clinical setting, as many clients have experienced trauma linked to enclosed and official spaces. The programme is currently supported by philanthropic trusts and foundations including the Henry Smith Charity and Lloyds Bank Foundation.

Working in a horticultural setting supports the healing and growth of clients. It also opens up a backdrop for group working and learning about the UK. It supports clients and therapists in providing a shared understanding of culture and environment in different places. We work with people long term, allowing for and encouraging access to former clients. This provides support in times of change and stress and enhances group work through their involvement in supporting newer families. Each family group that we work with has a dedicated plot of land on either a public allotment or our enclosed private garden. Clients have the autonomy to choose what they grow on their dedicated plot and how they tend to their plants. This autonomy is part of our therapeutic approach. Self-determination can reinforce ties and memories to the places clients have left behind and helps them appreciate more of the British climate and culture they have chosen to be a part of.

Spinning World

Spinning World has been delivering an effective high intensity long term trauma-based service in Ashton, Leigh and Wigan in Greater Manchester for 3 years.

Clients are referred to us when they are experiencing the cognitive, emotional, behavioral and physical symptoms of trauma. We work with people who display symptoms of high and complex trauma that mainstream psychological services cannot offer the time to support. Our engagement lasts between 9 and 18 months. We offer universal access to this service. Referrals come from primary and secondary care, Think Wellbeing, Northwest Boroughs IAPT Service, local homeless and adult services teams, third sector providers as well as individual asylum seekers, family and friends.

During 2021-22 Main grant funds included:

Lloyds Bank Foundation
Henry Smith Charity

Trustees' Annual Report for the year ended 30 September 2022

The short term and longer term aims and objectives.

In the next financial year 2022-23 FRSP seeks to:

- Continue to provide long term therapy and horticulture to refugees and people seeking asylum in Liverpool settings.
- Develop a gardening aspect to the long term therapy offer in the Wigan area.
- Continue to deliver short term crisis therapy for newly arrived people seeking asylum in Liverpool under the care of PC24 and others accommodated in Wigan hotels.
- Continue to work with volunteer and trainee counsellors.
- Source new funding for the onward development of the FRSP Grow Your Own Project.
- Be prepared to offer new therapeutic contract work and delivery of training.

Beyond the year ahead, FRSP seeks to:

- Continue to develop a fundraising strategy, exploring different sources of funding to maintain and sustain the project model into the future.

How the charity monitors its success during the year

FRSP monitors access to all aspects of the service, and collects and collates qualitative and quantitative data to report on activities to inform procedures, policies and report to funders.

Commissioned work is also monitored through the NHS Improving Access to Psychological Therapies (IAPTUS) monitoring and management system.

Success is also measured through client feedback and data against the planned activities and aims.

Resources used in the activities undertaken during the year.

The charity has used mainstream grants and contracts awarded for the activities during the year, including payment of staff, interpreting and professional fees and, client access/travel expenses and general project delivery budgets.

The project's allotments and garden have supported the work with refugee and asylum seeking families in the garden therapy rooms as well as outside.

In addition to grants and contracted work, we have secured various large and small donations, including the Bread Circle and through online fundraising activities, sales of plants and jams and, promoted the work of the project in the local community.

The contribution of volunteers during the year.

The Trustees are grateful for the work done by the six volunteers who give up their time to support the fundraising of the charity, as well as providing help with counselling and with garden maintenance.

The main achievements and performance of the charity during the year.

The charity has continued to provide support to refugee and asylum seeking adults and parents through both short term crisis counselling and longer term therapy. The increase in volume in recent years reflects the successful extension of the service through NHS contracts in other parts of the NW region. Whilst maintaining the person centred/human rights model.

The project has maintained two horticultural sites comprising two adjoining allotments and a therapeutic garden. Extensive work has also been ongoing to make repairs to old planting beds and to improve access to the Newland Therapy Garden. We are still hoping to develop a gardening context to therapy provision in Wigan.

The short term mental health crisis work enables us to additionally offer clients referrals to other support services whilst they await housing in dispersal accommodation.

The difference the charity's performance during the year has made to the beneficiaries of the charity.

Across the different funded elements of our work, FRSP Grow your Own project has delivered weekly long-term therapy sessions with 16 clients (c 690 sessions available pa), supported with horticulture advice and growing. Through our weekly group work we provided 120 support sessions with existing and former clients during the year from 35 families.

For short term crisis counselling, 6 sessions per week (c 288 pa) were available to support any of the people seeking asylum under the care of PC24 who are referred to our service.

With the Wigan Spinning World project we offer weekly long term therapy for up to 24 clients at any one time (c. 966 sessions available pa).

During the year we were commissioned to provide further short term crisis counselling sessions to Afghan refugees in Wigan, a project which has been extended now to include people seeking asylum who are now accommodated in hotels, this sits within our Seeds of Recovery projects.

In addition to trauma-focused therapy, individuals and families were supported or sign-posted for help with accessing school places, welfare benefits, understanding the asylum process, understanding UK systems, learning about growing and tending allotments and vegetable gardens.

The degree to which the achievements and performance during the year have benefited wider society.

FRSP has supported the mental health and wellbeing of vulnerable refugee and asylum seeking individuals and families in a number of key areas. FRSP has had the means and the time to listen to clients and take note of their issues including health, education, housing and the asylum process. This information is then used to enable access to services in a more timely way than would have been possible otherwise, saving resources as well as ensuring a better result for clients and reduces impact on statutory services.

The growing of fresh vegetables and fruit as part of the horticulture and therapy offer we are supporting good health and healthy eating and have also helped clients understand the importance of reducing food waste.

Training is offered to external health agencies to inform their practice of working with refugees and people seeking asylum and in working with interpreters.

Structure, governance and management of the charity

The methods used to recruit and appoint new charity trustees.

The trustees are appointed by members of the company at the AGM or at other opportunities during the year. Every issue is decided by a simple majority of votes at meetings of the trustees. Trustees are recruited by circulating details to relevant organisations to elicit interest as well as from professional contacts of existing trustees. A mentoring system has also been established to train potential trustees.

Policies on reserves.

FRSP Trustees understand the importance of maintaining a level of unrestricted reserves to support the charity's resilience planning and sustainability.

Reserves grow in small steps each year through fundraising events, income generation and donations.

The level of reserves is monitored each year to ensure that the charity can provide an interim working capital that protects the continuity of the charity's work or cover unforeseen expenditure costs (redundancy; professional fees/advice; delayed funding or discontinuation of funding).

In general, the aim is to build and sustain an equivalent of 3 months running costs to ensure liabilities are covered. Trustees are mindful, that the level of reserves should not be excessive, nor insufficient to meet statutory obligations.

Availability and adequacy of assets of each of the funds

The board of trustees is satisfied that the charity's assets in each fund are available and adequate to fulfil its obligations in respect of each fund.

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Companies Act 2006, the Charities Act 2011 and the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008

In particular, the Companies Act 2006 and charity law require the Board of Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity as at the end of the financial year and of the surplus or deficit of the charity. In preparing those financial statements the Board is required to :-

- to prepare the accounts in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law).
- select suitable accounting policies and apply them consistently;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business;
- state whether applicable accounting standards and statements of recommended practice have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;

The law requires that the trustees must not approve the accounts unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the surplus or deficit of the charity for the year.

The Trustees are also responsible for maintaining adequate accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and which are sufficient to show and explain the charity's transactions and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006 and comply with regulations made under the Charities Act. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The Trustees are also responsible for the contents of the Trustees' report, and the statutory responsibility of the Independent Examiner in relation to the Trustees' report is limited to examining the report and ensuring that, on the face of the report, there are no material inconsistencies with the figures disclosed in the financial statements.

Report of the Independent Examiner to the Trustees of the charitable company on the accounts for the year ended 30 September 2022

I report to the Trustees on my examination of the financial statements of the charitable company on pages 12 to 28 for the year ended 30 September 2022 which have been prepared in accordance with the Charities Act 2011 (the Act) and with the Financial Reporting Standard 102, (effective 1st January 2016) as modified by FRS 102 SORP (Statement of Recommended Practice for Accounting and Reporting by Charities) 2015, (as amended by the Bulletin issued in October 2018 and applicable to all accounting periods beginning on or after 1st January 2019), (The SORP), published by the Charity Commission in England & Wales (CCEW) , and under the historical cost convention and the accounting policies set out on page 16.

Respective responsibilities of the Trustees and the Independent Examiner and the basis of the report

As described on page 7, you, the charitable company's Trustees, who are also the Directors of the Company for the purposes of Company law, are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements in accordance with the Companies Act 2006, the Charities Act 2011 and all other applicable law and with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice, applicable to smaller entities, and for being satisfied that the financial statements give a true and fair view.

The Trustees consider that the audit requirement of Section 144(1) of the Charities Act 2011 (the Act) does not apply, and that there is no requirement in the memorandum and articles of the charity for the conducting of an audit, and that the accounts do not require an audit in accordance with Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006 and that no member or members have requested an audit pursuant to Section 476 of the Companies Act 2006. As a consequence, the Trustees have elected that the financial statements be subject to independent examination.

Having satisfied myself that the financial statements are not required to be audited under any legal provision, or otherwise, and are eligible for independent examination, it is my responsibility to:-

- a) examine the financial statements of the charity under Section 145 of the Act;
- b) follow the applicable procedures in the Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act.

Basis of Independent Examiner's Statement and scope of work undertaken

Since the charitable company's gross income exceeded £250,000, the charitable company's examiner must be a member of a body listed in section 145 of the Act. I confirm that I am qualified to undertake the examination because I am an authorised member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England & Wales, which is one of the listed bodies.

I report in respect of my examination of the charity's financial statements carried out under s145 of the Act. In carrying out my examination, I have followed all the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act setting out the duties of an independent examiner in relation to the conducting of an independent examination. An independent examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charitable company and of the accounting systems employed by the charitable company and a comparison of the financial statements presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the financial statements, and seeking explanations from you, as Trustees, concerning such matters. The purpose of the examination is to establish as far as possible that there have been no breaches of charity legislation and that, on a test basis of evidence relevant to the amounts and disclosures made, the financial statements comply with the SORP.

The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and information supplied by the Trustees in the course of the examination is not subjected to audit tests or enquiries and does not cover all the matters that an auditor would consider in arriving at an opinion. The planning and conduct of an audit goes beyond the limited assurance that an independent examination can provide.

Consequently, I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the financial statements, and in particular, I express no opinion as to whether the financial statements give a true and fair view of the affairs of the charity, and my report is limited to the matters set out in the statement below.

I planned and performed my examination so as to satisfy myself that the objectives of the independent examination are achieved.

Independent Examiner's Statement, Report and Opinion

In connection with my examination, I can confirm that:

The accounts of this charitable company are not required to be audited under Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006;

The gross income of the charitable company in the year ended 30 September 2022 appears to exceed the sum specified in Section 145(3) of the Act, namely £250,000, and that I am qualified to act as Independent Examiner in accordance with that section by virtue of my being a qualified member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England & Wales;

This is a report in respect of an examination carried out under 145 of the Act and in accordance with Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act which may be applicable;

No material matters have come to my attention which give me cause to believe that in any material respect:-

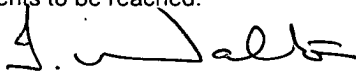

- accounting records were not kept in respect of the charity as required by Section 386 of the Companies Act 2006 and Section 130 of The Charities Act 2011;

- the financial statements do not accord with those records; or

- the financial statements do not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and content of accounts set out in section 396 of the Companies Act 2006; or

- have not been prepared in accordance with the methods and principles set out in the FRS 102 SORP (Statement of Recommended Practice for Accounting and Reporting by Charities) 2015, (as amended by the Bulletin issued in October 2018 and applicable to all accounting periods beginning on or after 1st January 2019), (The SORP).

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the financial statements to be reached.

Family Refugee Support Project

Notes to the Accounts for the year ended 30 September 2022

1 Accounting policies

Policies relating to the production of the accounts.

Basis of preparation and accounting convention

The accounts have been prepared on the accruals basis, under the historical cost convention, and in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard 102, (effective 1st January 2016) and 'FRS 102 SORP (Statement of Recommended Practice for Accounting and Reporting by Charities) 2015, (as amended by the Bulletin issued in October 2018 and applicable to all accounting periods beginning on or after 1st January 2019), (The SORP), published by the Charity Commission in England & Wales (CCEW) , effective January 2016, and in accordance with all applicable law in the charity's jurisdiction of registration

Assets and liabilities are initially recognised at historical cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant accounting policy note below.

Risks and future assumptions

Family Refugee Support Project meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102.

Policies relating to categories of income and income recognition.

Nature of income

Gross income represents the value, net of value added tax and discounts, of goods provided to customers and work carried out in respect of services provided to customers.

Categories of Income

Income is categorised as income from exchange transactions (contract income) and income from non-exchange transactions (gifts), investment income and other income.

Income from exchange transactions is received by the charity for goods or services supplied under contract or where entitlement is subject to fulfilling performance related conditions. The income the charity receives is approximately equal in value to the goods or services supplied by the charity to the purchaser.

Income from a non-exchange transaction is where the charity receives value from the donor without providing equal value in exchange, and includes donations of money, goods and services freely given without giving equal value in exchange.

Income recognition

Income, whether from exchange or non exchange transactions, is recognised in the statement of financial activities (SOFA) on a receivable basis, when a transaction or other event results in an increase in the charity's assets or a reduction in its liabilities and only when the charity has legal entitlement, the income is probable and can be measured reliably.

Income subject to terms and conditions which must be met before the charity is entitled to the resources is not recognised until the conditions have been met.

All income is accounted for gross, before deducting any related fees or costs.

Accounting for deferred income and income received in advance

Where terms and conditions relating to income have not been met or uncertainty exists as to whether the charity can meet any terms or conditions otherwise within its control, income is not recognised but is deferred as a liability until it is probable that the terms or conditions imposed can be met.

Any grant that is subject to performance-related conditions received in advance of delivering the goods and services required by that condition, or is subject to unmet conditions wholly outside the control of the recipient charity, is accounted for as a liability and shown on the balance sheet as deferred income. Deferred income is released to income in the reporting period in which the performance-related or other conditions that limit recognition are met.

When income from a grant or donation has not been recognised due to the conditions applying to the gift not being wholly within the control of the recipient charity, it is disclosed as a contingent asset if receipt of the grant or donation is probable once those conditions are met.

Where time related conditions are imposed or implied by a funder, then the income is apportioned to the time periods concerned and, where applicable, is accounted for as a liability and shown on the balance sheet as deferred income. When grants are received in advance of the expenditure on the activity funded by them, but there are no specific time related conditions, then the income is not deferred.

Any condition that allows for the recovery by the donor of any unexpended part of a grant does not prevent recognition of the income concerned, but a liability to any repayment is recognised when repayment becomes probable.

Volunteers

In accordance with the SORP, and in recognition of the difficulties in placing a monetary value on the contribution from volunteers, the contribution of volunteers is not included within the income of the charity.

However, the trustees value the significant contribution made to the activities of the charity by unpaid volunteers.

Policies relating to assets, liabilities and provisions and other matters.

Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are measured at their original cost value. Cost value includes all costs expended in bringing the asset into its intended working condition.

Depreciation has been provided at the following rates in order to write off the assets to their anticipated residual value over their estimated useful lives.

Plant and machinery	25 % straight line

A regular annual review of the likelihood of asset impairment is undertaken.

Creditors and provisions

Creditors and provisions are recognised where the charity has a present obligation resulting from a past event that will probably result in the transfer of funds to a third party and the amount due to settle the obligation can be measured or estimated reliably. Creditors and provisions are normally recognised at their settlement amount.

Financial instruments including cash and bank balances

Cash held by the charity is included at the amount held and counted at the year end. Bank balances are shown at the cash amounts of the deposits.

Leasing and hire purchase contracts and commitments

Rentals paid under operating leases are charged to income on a straight line basis over the lease term.

Pensions - defined contribution schemes

The charity operates a defined contribution pension scheme. Contributions are charged to the profit and loss account as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the scheme.

Fund Accounting

Unrestricted funds are available for use at the discretion of the trustees in furtherance of the general objectives of the charity.

Designated funds are unrestricted funds which the Trustees have decided at their discretion to set aside for particular purposes.

Restricted funds are subjected to restrictions on their expenditure imposed by the donor or through the terms of an appeal or as implied by law.

There are no endowment funds.

2 Liability to taxation

The Trustees consider that the charity satisfies the tests set out in Paragraph 1 Schedule 6 of the Finance Act 2010 for UK corporation tax purposes. Accordingly, the Charity is potentially exempt from taxation in respect of income or capital gains received within categories covered by chapter 3 part 11 of the Corporation Tax Act 2010 or Section 256 of the Taxation of Chargeable Gains Act 1992, to the extent that such income or gains are applied exclusively on the specific charitable objects of the charity and for no other purpose. Value Added Tax is not recoverable by the charity, and is therefore included in the relevant costs in the Statement of Financial Activities.

3 Winding up or dissolution of the charity

If upon winding up or dissolution of the charity there remain any assets, after the satisfaction of all debts and liabilities, the assets represented by the accumulated fund shall be transferred to some other charitable body or bodies having similar objects to the charity.

4 Significance of financial instruments to the charity's position

Financial instruments are not significant to the charity's financial position or performance.
