Clydesdale Community Initiatives

The trustees who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act 2006, present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 March 2023. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The charity is a company limited by guarantee, incorporated 8 May 2007 and governed by Memorandum and Articles of Association of the same date. The company is recognised by the HM Revenue and Customs as a Scottish Charity under number SC035206. In the event of the company being wound up members are required to contribute an amount not exceeding £1 each.

The main objectives of the charity are:

- b) To preserve, restore and improve the environment within Clydesdale and environs through the provision, maintenance and/or improvement of public open space and other environmental projects (but subject to appropriate safeguards to ensure that the public benefit so arising clearly outweighs any private benefit thereby conferred on private landlords).
- c) To promote, operate and/or support other charitable projects and programmes for the benefit of the community, and particularly those living with Clydesdale and environs.

CCI have a stated mission to give people with complex support needs the opportunity to make a contribution to their communities. Through their contribution individuals are supported to improve their health, learn new skills and increase their confidence.

STRATEGIC REPORT

Achievement and performance

Charitable activities

The priority for the board of director's remains ensuring that there are clear objectives and targets for the charity to ensure that it is meeting its charitable purposes as effectively and sustainably as possible. The board of directors continue to review and evaluate the financial performance of the organisation as a whole and have clear positions on the sustainability of all current and planned operations and to ensure that all operational plans are fit for purpose.

In pursuance of the charities core objectives the board and staff of Clydesdale Community Initiatives continue to develop social enterprise programmes and to maximise the potential of the facilities at Langloch Farm for the benefit of the local community and specifically for individuals experiencing exclusion due to illness, disability or disadvantage.

This is our opportunity to share with you the many achievements of our unique organisation. These achievements include the way in which we have risen to meet the many challenges we have faced, and how we have managed the organisation to address them.

The demand for placements for people experiencing the greatest inequalities is unprecedented, by the end of the financial year CCI were providing placements for almost 150% of our pre-covid caseload while our staffing compliment has remained static.

Having managed our way through the Covid pandemic and its aftermath the organisation has been confronted with significant new challenges in relation to an unprecedented demand for our services alongside a very difficult funding environment and the cost-of-living crisis which has had a significant impact on our costs. The board has actively considered its income generation strategy and set clear fundraising targets across a range of income generation activities which includes sales from the workshop, botanics and Langloch Visitor Centre, training and inclusion programme sales to social care partners, and grant fundraising from trusts and foundations.

The board can report that despite extremely challenging circumstances, particularly in relation to grant fundraising, overall the funding targets required to ensure the viability of the organisation have been met, and social care outcomes have been outstanding even in the most difficult circumstances, and CCI has continued to play an important role as a community anchor for a wide range of individuals, groups, statutory agencies and networks across Clydesdale.

Funders and partners continue to be very supportive.

Our existing social enterprises have continued to develop and both the Langloch Woodcraft and Langloch Tearoom have exceeded their targets both for growth and profitability. We have invested significantly in the marketing and promotion of these social enterprises and are delighted with the response from our target markets. These initiatives coupled with other existing streams of support ensure the continued viability and growth of CCI.

STRATEGIC REPORT

Financial review

Financial position

The charitable company's results for the year are detailed in the Statement of Financial Activities on page 12. Income for the year amounted to £709,568 (2022: £822,024). After deduction of expenditure, the net movement of funds for the year was a deficit of £48,488 (2022: surplus £190,544). Of this deficit £41,230 related to restricted funds and £7,258 to our unrestricted reserves.

Of the £2,091,629 (2022: £2,140,117) net assets on our balance sheet, £1,822,151 (2022: £1,883,949) relates to fixed assets, primarily our property at Langloch Farm. We have £88,038 (2022: £79,971) of restricted funding which relates to grants for social care and social enterprise received in advance, and we have £166,476 (2022: £173,734) of free reserves.

Outwith restricted funding we have no contractual commitments or other formal commitments that would limit the board's ability to utilise these unrestricted funds on behalf of the organisation.

Reserves policy

Our reserve of £150,000 has been maintained in line with the Board's aim to maintain reserves to cover three months of running costs.

Future plans

The board remain committed to the ongoing mission statement, values and objectives of the charity. In order to meet this commitment they have agreed to continue to pursue the social enterprise model of delivery. This will involve the development of a wider range of social enterprise-based programmes based at Langloch Farm. The board continue to consider developments that will support both the social mission and financial sustainability of Clydesdale Community Initiatives and have active plans to develop the facilities at Langloch available to the community.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

The charity is controlled by its governing document, a deed of trust, and constitutes a limited company, limited by guarantee, as defined by the Companies Act 2006.

Organisational structure

The charity trustees have delegated day to day management of the charity to N G P McShannon. Strategy and authorisation of major operational matters (such as remuneration) is determined by the board.

Induction and training of new trustees

The trustees are appointed in accordance with the Memorandum and Articles of Association. Induction packs are given to trustees when appointed, and training is provided as and when appropriate. When a position becomes available the trustees seek nominations from those with the shared values and suitable skill sets from the organisation's membership.

Key management remuneration

Remuneration levels for senior management are agreed by the board of directors as part of the annual projection and planning exercise undertaken prior to the year end. While the board do not set rates formally based on any national pay scales they do so with cognisance of South Lanarkshire Council and comparative advertised pay offers for similar roles and organisations.

Related parties

Details of transactions with related parties are set out in note 17 of the financial statements.

Report of the Trustees
for the Year Ended 31 March 2023

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Risk management

The directors have assessed the major risks to which the charity is exposed, in particular those relating to the operations and finances of the company. They are satisfied that systems are in place to mitigate exposure to the major risks. The board maintain a risk register that identifies the potential threats to the organisation and is reviewed quarterly. Funding remains the primary risk to the organisation; as it is unreasonable to expect that public sector finances will increase, it is unlikely that any core funding will be available from our primary social care partners. The board have therefore carefully developed a business plan that is committed to generating income through social enterprise, included diverse funding options and commits us to responding to the changing funding environment by responding to the changing funding environment by offering a range of self directed support and supported training services.

Management accounts are prepared and presented to the monthly board meetings that actively consider the financial performance of the organisation against the projections that were agreed prior to the financial year beginning. The board reviews projections monthly to ensure that the indicators defining the financial performance are still appropriate.

STATEMENT OF TRUSTEES' RESPONSIBILITIES

The trustees (who are also the directors of Clydesdale Community Initiatives for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Report of the Trustees and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the trustees are required to

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charity SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

In so far as the trustees are aware:

- there is no relevant audit information of which the charitable company's auditors are unaware; and
- the trustees have taken all steps that they ought to have taken to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the auditors are aware of that information.

Report of the Independent Auditors to the Members of Clydesdale Community Initiatives

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Clydesdale Community Initiatives (the 'charitable company') for the year ended 31 March 2023 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Balance Sheet, the Cash Flow Statement and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charitable company's affairs as at 31 March 2023 and of its incoming resources and application of resources, including its income and expenditure, for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the charitable company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The trustees are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report, other than the financial statements and our Report of the Independent Auditors thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Report of the Independent Auditors to the Members of Clydesdale Community Initiatives

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of the audit:

- the information given in the Report of the Trustees for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the Report of the Trustees has been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the charitable company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Report of the Trustees.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities, the trustees (who are also the directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the charitable company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a Report of the Independent Auditors that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which these can detect irregularities, including fraud is detailed below.

To assess the susceptibility of the company's financial statements to material misstatement, including how fraud may occur.

- We enquired of the directors of the companies policies and procedures to detect fraud as well as whether they have knowledge of any actual, suspected or alleged fraud
- Reading Board minutes
- Using analytical procedures to identify any unusual or unexpected transactions

We communicated identified fraud risks throughout the audit team and remained alert to any indications of fraud within the company.

As required by auditing standards we perform procedures to address the risk of management override of controls and in particular that the company management may be in a position to make inappropriate accounting entries and the risk of bias in accounting estimates and judgements such as provision for receivables, impairment and pension assumptions. On this audit we do not believe there is a fraud risk related to revenue recognition because the revenue is all grant income of high value amounts from a small number of funders, and does not contain estimation uncertainty.

We did not identify any additional fraud risks.

In determining the audit procedures we took into account the results of our evaluation and testing of the operating effectiveness of the company's fraud risk management controls.

We also performed procedures including:

- Identifying journal entries to test for all full scope components based on risk criteria and comparing the identified entries to supporting documentation. These included, as relevant, those posted to unusual accounts
- Assessing significant accounting estimates for bias
- Reviewing large and unusual transactions outside the ordinary course of the company's business.
- Identifying undisclosed related parties

We discussed with management matters related to actual or suspected fraud and considered any implications for our audit.

We ensured that the audit team collectively had the necessary competence and skills to recognise non-compliance with laws and regulations.

Report of the Independent Auditors to the Members of Clydesdale Community Initiatives

We identified areas of laws and regulations that could reasonably be expected to have a material effect on the financial statements and through discussion with the directors (as required by auditing standards).

As the company is regulated our assessment of risks involved gaining an understanding of the control environment including the company's procedures for complying with regulatory requirements.

We communicated identified laws and regulations throughout our team and remained alert to any indications of non-compliance throughout the audit.

The potential effect of these laws and regulations on the financial statement varies considerably.

Firstly the entity is subject to very strict laws and regulations that directly affect the financial statements including financial reporting legislation, including the Companies Act 2006, FRS 102 and the UK Corporate tax laws and VAT laws. We assessed the extent of the compliance with these laws and regulations by carrying out a review of the financial statement disclosures and a review of correspondence with the tax authorities.

Secondly the entity is subject to many other laws and regulations including the Listed Buildings regulations, the AML regulations, GDPR, and health and safety, where the consequences of non-compliance could have a material effect on amounts or disclosures in the financial statements.

Auditing standards limit the required audit procedures to identify non-compliance with these laws and regulations to enquiry of the directors and management and inspection of regulatory and legal correspondence, if any.

Therefore if a breach of operational regulations is not disclosed to us or evident from the relevant correspondence, an audit will not detect that breach.

A further description of our responsibilities is available on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: <https://www.frc.org.uk/our-Work/Audit-and-assurance/Standards-and-guidance/Standards-and-guidance>. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Context of the ability of the audit to detect fraud or breaches of laws and regulations

Owing to the inherent limitations of an audit, there is an unavoidable risk that we may not have detected some material misstatement in the financial statements, even though we had properly planned and performed our audit in accordance with accounting standards. For example the further removed non-compliance with laws and regulations from the events and transactions reflected in the financial statements, the less likely the inherently limited procedures required by auditing standard would identify it.

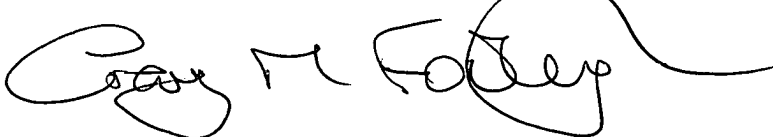

In addition, with any audit, there remained a higher risk of non-detection of fraud, as these may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal controls. Our audit procedures are designed to detect material misstatement. We are not responsible for preventing non-compliance or fraud and cannot be expected to detect non-compliance with all laws and regulations

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our Report of the Independent Auditors.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charitable company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charitable company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditors' report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company and the charitable company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.
